WHEN THIEVES FALL OUT, LID FLIES OFF.

Schmitz to Leave Ruef in the Lurch Pending New Graft Disclosures.

San Francisco on the Eve of Developments Affecting Her Board of Supervisors — Sanderson Going Back Laden With Secrets of the Administration to Tell Them to the Grand Jury.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From the best-informed sources it was learned today that Schmitz and Ruef will dissolve partnership.

The Mayor feels that Ruef is in the mud far deeper than he is in the mire, and that it will be better for his own case if he is not tied up with the boss when he comes to face a jury.

The first indication of this probable separation came on the way across the continent. When Schmitz was asked as to the guilt of Ruef, he said:

"I cannot speak for Mr. Ruef. I only know I am innocent."

WILLING TO PUNISH HIM.

At another time he said: "If Mr. Ruef is guilty, he should be punished."

It is now learned that, after consultation with friends and advisers, the Mayor has decided that it will be better for him to meet the charges alone.

While there are only one or two distinct charges against Schmitz, Ruef is likely to face trial on a dozen indictments, if Heney can make good his promises.

Under the circumstances, Schmitz feels that his former associate is in far worse plight than himself.

The advice to Schmitz to cut loose from Ruef was given by friends who are high in the councils of the Republican party. It was pointed out that he could not afford to remain tied up with the boss who certainly is in a worse plight than the Mayor.

SANDERSON'S NEWS.

It was learned today that Supervisor Sanderson, who has been sick in Los Angeles, has not only admitted that money was to secure a trolley franchise, but that he has given the detectives all the facts and promised to appear as a witness when desired. He has been subpoenaed in Los Angeles, and is coming back to San Francisco to testify. His testimony before the inquisitorial body will be the most startling presented for their consideration.

As a member of the Board of Supervisors his former experience as a city father made him valuable to the administration. Sanderson was entrusted with all the secrets of the administration in such important matters as the granting of a trolley franchise to the United Railroads, the granting of a franchise to the Home Telephone Company and others that have excited rumors of scandal.

ALSO THE PRIZE FIGHTS.

As chairman of the Police Commission, Sanderson knows all there is to tell about the manner in which the fight trust managed to monopolize permits for professional fights for a whole year. He also is on some of the most important committees of the board.

The reception to Schmitz, which took place on his arrival, about 1 o'clock this morning, was a remarkable affair. Over 5000 persons waited hours in the big Dreamland Pavilion to greet the returning executive, and when he appeared he was given an ovation, the entire audience rising and cheering him.

Schmitz made a brief address in which he declared his innocence, and asked that judgment be suspended until he had a chance to vindicate himself. He did not mention the name of Ruef. He also gave out a statement to the people of the city declaring his innocence.

HIS SPEECH.

"I can hardly express in words how grateful I feel in receiving such a reception after being so maligned by the worst set of newspapers that ever cursed a city. It has been said that I fled from my city, but here I am to face my traducers.

"This attack, which was made a few days after I left New York, did not surprise me. I heard of the combination last February—the combination between the Bulletin and the Examiner, and that Mr. Burns had taken a vacation in Washington to come here and get something against the union labor administration of this city.

WANTS NO QUARTER.

"I am no physical coward, nor am I a moral coward. I am here to face my traducers, and to face any charges they can bring against me. I came back with no revenge in my heart, but I come back in a fighting attitude, and I say to you newspapers, in all earnestness, I want no quarter, and I shall give no quarter.

"Three times I have stood as the standard-bearer of the Union Labor party. I am proud of that fact. I realize that this is no attack on me, but through me against union labor that they may disrupt and crush the labor organizations and administration of this city. I want to say that the harm these papers are doing and have done will take years to set right.

"I thank you for your reception and for your confidence in me. If you believe in my honesty and integrity, suspend your judgment for the present.

"Talking of vigilance committees, we will perhaps have yet to organize one."

FATHER YORK'S EFFORT.

Earlier in the evening, Father Peter C. York, the Catholic priest, made a remarkable speech in which he sought to array the labor unions against other citizens. He told the unions they must stand by the Mayor, or see the unions destroyed. He was wildly cheered.

Just before the grand jury session ended yesterday evidence was secured that practically convicts Chief of Police Dinan of protecting notorious cribs. Captain of Detectives Duke testified that he had reported a place several times, but the chief always intimated that it was not to be raided, although he gave no orders that it should not be attacked.

A woman testified that she had regularly paid to Dinan's agent a weekly amount for protection. It is claimed that indictments were agreed upon just before adjournment, one of which is against Dinan and another against Ruef.

SCHMITZ RECEIVES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Mayor Schmitz spent the earlier part of Thanksgiving Day receiving friends, who called to see him at [illegible]. Visitors came and went [illegible]. The Mayor arose early, and appeared to be in cheerful spirits.

He is due to appear in Judge Dunne's court next Monday, to answer five charges of extortion.

"This is the day of thanksgiving," said Mayor Schmitz, "and whether my enemies choose to malign me or not, I shall refrain upon this day from making answer. This day belongs to my little children and to my wife. Traveling across seas and continents beset by interviewers and detectives and carrying the responsibility of sustaining a heart-broken wife is a strain that might tax the strength of any man.

"I am thankful on this day of universal thanksgiving that my wife and children are safe at my side. I am thankful and rejoice that my people are working for the best wages they ever received and that prosperity shows about us on all sides. I say to my friends 'wait for the results.' I have no fear as to the outcome."

NEW CABINET IS ANNOUNCED.

SENOR PENDERGAST'S APPOINTMENTS ACCEPTED.

King Alfonso's Advisors Believed to Be Bound to Policy of Predecessors, While Giving Over of Foreign Office to Caballero Assures Same Relations With France.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MADRID, Nov. 29.—Señor Moret y Pendergast has formed a new Cabinet, and his appointments have been accepted by King Alfonso. It follows:

Premier—Moret y Pendergast.
Foreign Affairs—Perez Caballero.
Interior—Señor Barroso.
Finance—Fleuterior Delgado.
Public Works—Señor Gaset.
War—Lieut.-Gen. de Luque.
Marine—Duke of Alba.
Justice—Count Romanes.

There is no Minister of Worship and Education.

There is general regret regarding the inopportuneness of the Ministerial changes during the present unsettled conditions of Spain's commercial relations with foreign powers and the Moroccan situation. It is considered, however, that the present commercial negotiations are sufficiently advanced to bind the new Cabinet to the policy of its predecessor, while the taking over of the Foreign Office by Perez Caballero assures a continuance of the present understanding with France.

The resignation of the Dominguez Cabinet yesterday really resulted from divergency of opinions on the religious questions, which the Moderate Liberals considered had been pushed too rapidly to the front, thus delaying arrangements for the final problem.

COURTESY TO "JACKIES."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When crowds of handsomely dressed men and women in evening clothes came from the Metropolitan Opernhouse late at night, two sailors were among them, both in uniform, and not a man or woman in the big audience was treated more courteously than were these two "jackies."

Stronger and stronger grows the sentiment that Lindley is the man for all friends of prosperity to consolidate upon. Harper is fading; he has not the ghost of a show. Gates is still wobbling and is losing ground every day. The great, strong Lindley tide is rising and booming. Let us rally around Lindley, the beloved doctor, the man of achievement, the man who has done so much for Los Angeles, the man we can elect—let us rally around him and defeat Wilson!

REALIZES ODDS ARE AGAINST HER

MRS. BASSETT SAYS REVENGE IS INSPIRING HER ENEMIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Revenge, says Mrs. Charles C. Bassett, is the cause of the trouble in which she is now involved.

"I feel very confident," she said, "that I shall win the divorce suit now being tried in Washington, and the one to be tried in Omaha, although I fully realize the heavy odds against me.

"I do not say that my troubles overwhelm me, though they are as bad as any that ever assailed a woman. I have not my father, who, when he was living, always shared my joys and sorrows, to help me in this trouble, and I miss him very sorely. My children, however, are here. They are a great comfort to me, and I know that I shall keep them always.

THINKS MOTIVE APPARENT.

"I do not like to discuss my case. [illegible] dealing with it, the motive [illegible] apparent. [illegible] have nothing [illegible] are nothing [illegible] have their reasons, of course. Revenge often brings more harm to those who resort to it than those who are the object of it. I am sure that this will prove to be true in this instance.

TO BE DEAF AND DUMB.

"I am going to close my ears to gossip and my eyes to the newspapers until all this trouble is over. I am not in Omaha simply to fight this case. I expect to live here."

Mrs. Bassett is awaiting quietly in Omaha the outcome of the divorce proceedings in Washington. She lives a retired life with her children in a new cottage on Dodge street. Here she has gathered her household treasures about her, and here she says she intends to live despite the stories that she is in Omaha only to prosecute her divorce suit. She has leased the cottage for two years.

COPPER MAGNATE'S CLOSE CALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Albert C. Burrage, a millionaire copper magnate of Boston, had a narrow escape from death late last night by a collision of an automobile with his carriage, in which Coachman Thomas Ryan was severely injured and the famous blue ribbon hackney, Electioneer, was killed.

The automobile was driven by William H. Canterbury, a wealthy broker, living at the Hotel Beaconfield, Brookline. Both equipages were traveling along Commonwealth avenue at a fast rate on the same side of the street, when the automobile, driven by Thomas Harris, chauffeur, suddenly veered, apparently not noticing the Rockaway equipage, and crashed into the carriage. The occupants were hurled into the street, Ryan striking heavily, and the horse being killed. Mr. Burrage was but little hurt.

OLD ACTOR STARVING

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hiram Curtis, known throughout the country as the "old-school actor," and as an advance agent of theatrical companies, dropped in the street yesterday afternoon, starving and sick. Too old to work, he has been compelled to go for days without food, and but for his being stricken on the street none would have known that his associates, whom for forty years he had helped to fame and fortune, had neglected and forgotten him. A subscription has been started.

FULL CONFESSION OF TRICKY "EXPRESS."

THE EXPRESS having acknowledged that it has not been counting Lindley and Harper votes received in its so-called post-card canvass, and a committee composed of Judge York, Judge Wilbur, Judge Conrey and Fred Alles having certified to that effect, it only remains for The Times to print the corrected count of the burlesque vote which the Express has been doctoring.

Last evening, with the Lindley and Harper votes counted, the Express straw poll stood about as follows:

LINDLEY	GATES	HARPER	WILSON

Lindley's plurality, 5670. Huh!

[It is known that the Wilsonites are voting for Gates in order to conceal their real strength.]

Fully and frankly the little humbug sheet acknowledged that it has not been counting the Lindley votes and the Harper votes. In order to affirm that its candidate had a supposable lead, it has resorted to the simple expedient of counting all the Gates votes it could stuff into its own ballot and not counting the votes of other candidates.

The statement of Judge York, Judge Wilbur, Judge Conrey and Fred Alles throws no light on the subject except to confirm the delayed admission of the Express that it has not been counting the Lindley and Harper votes.

The statement of these gentlemen deals with "Exhibit F" and "Exhibit G," as made by whom—by the Express! The gentlemen are careful not to go into the merits of the case. They show a solicitude not to offend the Express. They are painstaking in their effort, however, to make it clear that [illegible]

Of course the Express could place cards of any sort in "Exhibit F" and "Exhibit Z." It could destroy thousands of Lindley cards; it could queer thousands of Lindley cards; it could represent that the Gates cards were all Express cards and that the Lindley and Harper cards were interlopers, cast by people who had no right to take part in the Express special Gates vote.

All that was easy. A trapped little swindler, who had been exposed, would quickly resort to such a stupid and dishonest ruse in an endeavor to make monkeys of Superior Court judges, all honorable men, who, it seems, refused to pull the Express chestnuts out of the fire.

The committee found differences in the Express cards; but whether the Express sent out these different cards or fixed them after they came in, the committee did not undertake to say; of course there was no way for them to ascertain. They had to take the say-so of the Express fakers for everything.

But the local public cares not a penny about "Exhibit F" or "Exhibit G." It cares not how many cards the Express burned or how many it "doped."

All in the case the local public cares about is the fact that the Express now confesses that it did not count those 4865 Lindley cards and a lot of others.

The Express is still refraining from counting Republican votes. It is still stuffing the Gates total. The public is still laughing at the farce. Keep on sending Gates cards to yourself, Little Brother! For such a little fellow you are a huge joke!

WIDE-WORLD PEACE IN ITS ELEMENTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The American Peace Society made public in this city today a letter which had been forwarded to the President in connection with the arbitration of matters of international assures and dealing also with the reduction of armaments by international agreement. The letter in part is as follows:

"The directors of the American Peace Society, in common with their fellow-citizens of the whole country, believe that the foundations of peace among the nations which were established by The Hague conference in 1899 can be further materially strengthened by the approaching conference of 1907.

"We venture respectfully, in behalf of the American Peace Society, to suggest that the following provisions should constitute a part of the programme:

"The further development of the permanent court of arbitration and the creation of a treaty of obligatory arbitration, as general as possible, to be signed by all the powers of the world.

"The limitation, and if possible, the reduction, of armaments by international agreement.

"The creation of an international agreement for the codification of the generally-accepted principles of international law and study, and development of the principles about which there is disagreement.

"Provision that differences which now exclude from arbitration the clauses respecting vital interest or honor shall, before recourse to hostilities, be referred to a commission of inquiry, which shall make a public report thereon.

SNOW ON HAWAIIAN MOUNTS.

More of "the Beautiful" Than Ever Before Known at This Season. Carter May Aspire.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HONOLULU, Nov. 29.—Gov. Carter yesterday said conditions might arise that would induce him to accept another term as Governor.

There is more snow on Haleakala, Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea than was ever known before at this season of the year.

HIS FATE BURNING.

Sam'l Spencer Dies in a Wreck.

'Mid Crashing of Telescoped Cars Railway President Leaves This Life.

Other Victims' Bodies Testify to Terrible Disaster on the Southern Road.

Operator Allowed Trains to Meet—Ghoulish Plunder. Morgan Shocked.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LYNCHBURG (Va.) Nov. 29.—Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern Campany and recognized as one of the foremost men in the development of the Southern States, and six other persons, were killed in a rear-end collision between two fast passenger trains, three miles south of Lynchburg and a mile north of Lawyer's depot today.

Philip Schuyler, a retired capitalist of New York, was among those killed, together with other guests of Spencer. Of those on Spencer's car, Spencer's private secretary, E. A. Merrill, of New York, and one of the three porters survived the accident.

[illegible]

Grace Church to attend the special Thanksgiving Day service. When the news of his friend's death was told him, Morgan turned deathly pale.

"Sam Spencer?" he almost shouted. "My God, man, is Sam Spencer dead?"

He trembled until his limbs almost gave way. Several friends, thinking he was about to collapse, ran to him.

"This is a terrible shock," Morgan said, when he had somewhat recovered himself. "I can't say anything now. I was never so shocked in my life."

A friend helped the financier to his carriage, and he was driven home.

LYNCHBURG, Nov. 29.—The collision was between the Jacksonville Express and the Washington and Southwestern Vestibuled Limited, both south-bound. President Spencer and his entire party, so far as is known, were sleeping when the collision occurred. The probabilities are that all of them, excepting Dispatcher Davis, were killed instantly. It is certain that life was extinct before the flames, which broke forth, touched them.

President Spencer's body was burned almost beyond recovery, as was that of Fisher.

The body of Schuyler was recovered before it was burned very much.

President Spencer's car was attached to the rear of the Jacksonville train, which was standing still when struck, but his charred corpse was found under the big locomotive of the rear train.

TERRIFIC IMPACT.

So great was the force of the impact that the forward train was sent at least 150 feet ahead. Until the débris had burned itself out and the engine cooled off, the bodies could not be removed.

The combination car of the rear train crashed into the express car ahead of it. Forty feet of it was splintered, leaving the rest of the car strewn with tons of baggage, and colored passengers were jammed back by the express car. How the negro passengers in the "Jim Crow" part of the train escaped death is beyond explanation.

ON STEEP GRADE'S CREST.

The wreck occurred on the crest of a steep grade when the Atlanta train could not have been running more than 30 miles an hour, if so fast. If it had been a mile or two further south, the number of dead might have been frightful, as the train was about two hours behind its schedule, a condition, taken with the down grade, that would have meant a speed of more than sixty miles an hour.

It was reported at first that Engineer Kinney of Spencer, N. C., who was in charge of the engine of the Atlanta train, was killed, but this proved incorrect. He suffered only a few slight bruises and cuts.

PRESIDENT SAMUEL SPENCER, New York.

CHARLES D. FISHER, Baltimore.

PHILLIP SCHUYLER, New York.

FRANCIS T. REDWOOD, Baltimore.

D. W. DAVIS, Alexandria, Va., private dispatcher to President Spencer.

An unknown person, whose head and limbs are burned off short, who is believed to be the third porter on the private car, who is missing. His name cannot be learned.

The injured:

WILLIS I. WINSTON, New York; leg broken.

J. W. SHAW, colored, Spencer, N. C., fireman; crushed and both legs broken.

P. E. VAULS, colored, Waynesboro, Va.; crushed.

CORA LOGAN, colored, both legs broken.

——HOGLAN, colored, Charlotte, N. C., bruised.

E. A. MERRILL, New York, private secretary to President Spencer, head and arms burned; will recover.

DAVIS'S DEATH TOUCHING.

Dispatcher Davis was alive when taken from under the wreckage. He was crushed about the lower portion of the body, and was conscious until the end. He asked that word be sent to his wife and child. The death of Davis was touching. He stated to his rescuer that he knew he was dying, and that he knew the end was not far off.

"Place your finger on my mouth," he said. "It feels so cool and good."

He pleaded with the gentleman, who was also a passenger on the train, not to leave him, and for ten minutes the man stayed with him until he saw that nothing more could be done for him.

PLUNDERERS BUSY.

The cars were ransacked for plunder. F. M. Curtis of Jamestown, N. Y., saw one negro porter go through a lady's grip. He saw him throw away such things as were of no value to him and appropriate those things that he wanted. Curtis declared that he would have certainly killed the porter if he had had something to do it with.

Not a few persons engaged in this ghoulish business, and a large number of valuables and much money which was scattered about the wrecked train was taken.

HERO OF THE HOUR.

Curtis, who was on his way to High Point, N. C., on a business mission, was the hero of the hour. It was claimed by some of his fellow-passengers that to his work and generalship belong the credit of the rescue of a dozen persons. Several persons not seriously injured were taken out from the two cars that were burned, and six negro passengers were taken from the combination coach of the forward train. They were badly hurt, most of them having legs broken, and one or two fractured skulls. It is believed all will recover, with the possible exception of an aged woman.

CURTIS'S STORY.

Curtis, the Jamestown, N. Y., man, who led the rescue work, in talking to a representative of the Associated Press, said: "It appeared to me that the pasengers who were uninjured were dazed, and they did not appear to realize that something must be done. I talked to tuem and they began to work. You never saw men work harder in your life.

"In the rear of the Pullman, which was smashed, there was a mother with a six-months-old babe. They were in a drawing room, which had been smashed, but, strange to say, they were not burt in the slightest. They were gotten out and taken to safety. I think there were at least five bodies, including Mr. Spencer's, that were cremated. As far as I know the train attaches did not aid in the first relief because they had gone both ways to protect the two trains from other and more serious trouble."

Curtis has in his possession a valuable case of jewels which was handed to him by a lady. He did not know to whom it belongs nor why it was handed to him. It evidently is the property of some one of means, as it contains a heavy set diamond ring and other jewels of value.

DOCTORS AND FIRE ENGINES.

As soon as the news of the wreck was received here, doctors were taken to the scene on a special train, and one of the fire engines of the Lynchburg department was loaded on a flat car and hurried to the wreck to extinguish the flames among the wreckage, but was after 10 o'clock before the special reached Lawyers.

OPERATORS BLAMED.

The cause of the wreck, it is said, was that the operators in charge of the block office at Rangoon, four miles north of the scene, allowed the Atlanta train to enter the block before he had been given a clear track from the next block station at Lawyers depot, five miles below.

Since the arrival of the wounded negro passengers in the city, Lucretia Allen of Danville died on the operating table at the City Hospital. County Coroner J. W. Davis has gone to the wreck for the purpose of holding an inquest.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Nov. 29.—An official report given out by General Superintendent Ritchie of the Southern Railway says:

"President Samuel Spencer of the Southern Railway, Philip Schuyler of Baltimore, a Southern Railway director, and Operator Davis of Washington were killed in an accident eleven miles from Lynchburg this morning. Charles B. Fisher and a Mr. Redmond of Baltimore are missing. Car No. 100, which was President Spencer's private coach a sleeper on No. 33, and a club car on No. 37 were destroyed. Mr. Merrill, private secretary to President Spencer, was slightly injured.

DEAD IN WASHINGTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—The special train bearing the bodies of President Spencer and five others killed in the wreck near Lynchburg, Va., arrived here at 10:40 o'clock tonight. All the injured were left in the hospital at Lynchburg.

SPENCER'S CAREER.

PROMINENT IN MANY LINES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern Railway Company, was a resident of Washington, but his business headquarters were in this city. He was one of the most prominent men of the United States and for nearly twenty years had been at the head of one or more great railroad enterprises.

At the time of his death, in addition to the Southern, he was president and director in the Alabama, Great Southern Railway, the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Pacific Railway, the Georgia Southern and Florida Railway Company and the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company. He was a director of the Central Railway of Georgia, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company, the Erie Railroad Company, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company and other corporations.

He was president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in 1887 and 1888, and later was appointed receiver for the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company and for the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway Company. He was a member of the Rapid Transit Company of this city from 1891 to 1894.

Mr. Spencer was born in Columbus, Ga., in 1847, and was educated in the University of Georgia and the University of Virginia. In 1872 he married Louisa Vivian Benning at Columbus, Ga.

HAD HUMBLE BEGINNING.

Spencer's railroad career had a most humble beginning. When he left the University of Virginia, in 1869, after taking a course in civil engineering, he entered the employ of the Savannah and Memphis Railroad, and was assigned to work as rodman with a surveying crew. In the succeeding three years he worked gradually up to the position of principal assistant manager of the road. In 1871 he became clerk to the superintendent of the New Jersey Southern Railroad, and a year later became assistant supervisor of trains for the first division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. In 1877 he became superintendent of transportation for the Virginia Midland Railroad, and a year later was made superintendent of the Long Island Railroad.

The end of another year found him assistant to the president of the Baltimore and Ohio. One year later he was acting general manager of the same road, and in the next six years he became successively third vice-president, second vice-president and first vice-president. He was elected president of the entire system in 1887, retaining this position for one year.

ASSOCIATED WITH MORGAN.

A few months after his retirement as president of the Baltimore and Ohio he became associated with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and assumed the direction of that company's railroad enterprises. From that time until the moment of his tragic death today he remained one of the commanding figures in the railroad world.

PHILIP SCHUYLER.

Philip Schuyler was a member of one of the oldest and best-known New York families, being grandson of Gen. Schuyler of Revolutionary fame, and was graduated from the Harvard Scientific School and the university and served with distinction in the Army of the Potomac during the Civil War. He lived at Ardsley on the Hudson, and was a director of the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company of this city.

CHARLES D. FISHER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29.—Charles D. Fisher of Baltimore was one of the founders of the grain exporting firm of Gill & Fisher, and had extensive business interests in the South. He was one of President Spencer's party.

FRANK T. REDWOOD.

The Mr. Redwood referred to the in Knoxville dispatch as also missing is probably Frank T. Redwood of the brokerage firm of Jones & Redwood. He left here on the wrecked train last night for North Carolina, on a hunting expedition.

Fisher was 60 years of age, and Redwood 43. Both were married, being survived by a widow and several children each.

The Fisher family has been representative in Maryland for many years. The father of Charles D. Fisher, the late William Fisher, was an influential banker of Baltimore in the early days. Charles D. Fisher himself was numbered among the city's most successful men.

Redwood came from a distinguished Virginia family. He, like Fisher, was prominent in the financial and business world. President Spencer, from his long connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad—1879 to 1889—had wide acquaintance here. In railroad circles, particularly, the greatest regret was expressed at his death.

The Baltimoreans had joined Spencer on the train here last night, and had planned to spend several days hunting in North Carolina.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

Coroner C. W. Davis, at the request of the Southern officials, went to the wreck to hold an inquest, but found the bodies had been removed. He could not say tonight what steps would be taken.

The Jacksonville express had the right of way in the block. The engine broke away from the train and proceeded a mile beyond Lawyers before the engineer noticed he was without his train. It may be that when he passed Lawyers, the operator gave Rangoon a clear block without noticing whether the rear-end markers were visible before he did so. In the absence of an official statement, this explanation is being accepted here.

It is possible that the Rangoon operator let the Atlanta train into the block on an order from Lawyers that the block was clear, the operator there thinking the trainless engine clear of the block and the rear train was past Rangoon before it could be stopped, when the mistake was discovered. Should investigation show that the Lawyers' operator gave a clear track without noticing the absence of the rear-end markers, then the cause of the accident was at Lawyers. Only an official investigation will reveal this.

OPERATOR DISAPPEARS.

At 10:30 o'clock tonight it was ascertained from a reliable source that D. J. Maddux, the operator at Rangoon, who was on duty at the time of the accident, had disappeared. Railway officials are trying to locate him.

SPENCER'S NOTED COUP.

PURCHASE OF CHALMETTE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Samuel Spencer was the first man who saw the great possibilities af Chalmette, the terminals of the Rock Island-Frisco Railroad. He bought it at a receiver's sale, when the New Orleans Belt and Terminal Company went to pieces, through an attaché of the legal department of the Southern Railroad.

Without the Chalmette terminals, the New Orleans Terminal Company could not exist as it exists today. It was that big Southern Railway possession that made it possible to form the company, and by pooling its interests with the Southern, the Rock Island-Frisco promoters were enabled to bring about the organization of what are now the foremost terminal properties in the South.

GAINED POWERFUL HOLD.

By reason of its ownership of Chalmette, the Southern Railway, through the foresight of its president, at one swoop became half owner of the new terminals, and also gained a powerful foothold in the port of New Orleans, its property-rights placing it in a position to dictate an entry to New Orleans.

Had Spencer lived, he probably sooner or later would have taken hold of his New Orleans interests with a firm hand, and as it is known that he was vexed by the delays now so constant in the operation of the concern, he doubtless would have worked a big change.

SON MAY SUCCEED HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is the supposition in railroad circles that President Samuel Spencer's son, H. B. Spencer, will succeed him as president of the Southern Railroad, and of the Queen & Crescent route, as he has been trained with a view of succeeding his father in the various railroad interests.

Immediately after leaving college, young Spencer was put at hard work learning railroading from the bottom of the ladder. November 19 he was appointed sixth vice-president of the Southern Railway.

REBUILD BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

Mayor McClellan Says the Famous Structure Can Be Remade Without Stopping Traffic.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor McClellan declares Brooklyn bridge is to be rebuilt without stopping traffic a single day. New towers will be built alongside the old ones, and on each side of the bridge a roadway, to be over twice as wide as it is now and carry double the number of car tracks and vehicles.

Above the present elevated tracks will be built another elevated double track, which can be made a four-track structure if desired. This arrangement will more than quadruple the capacity of the bridge.

JUDSON FOR PRESIDENT.

Rockefeller Favors Him at Head of Chicago University—Would Make a Big Gift.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Harry P. Judson, acting president of the University of Chicago, has, it is said, the support of John D. Rockefeller for the presidency of the university. It is understood that, should Dr. Judson be chosen, Rockefeller will make a munificent gift of money to the university.

THEY WANT THE "RELIEF."

Metropolitan Opera Members Go After More Earthquake Money.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Indignant because they have received only $20 each out of a fund of $10,126 raised for the benefit of the chorus and orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera Company, which suffered in the earthquake last spring at San Francisco, members of the Chorus Union today denounced what they said was unfair treatment and said they would strike if the remaining $5000 was not paid them in two weeks.

MAGNIFICENT CHURCH DEDICATED IN POMP:

Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Gift to Richmond Catholics, Scene of Impressive Gathering—Fane Has Seven Altars and Two Chapels.

MONSIGNOR FALCONI,
Apostolic Delegate to the United States, who yesterday assisted in the dedication of the handsome new Cathedral of the Sacred Heart at Richmond, Va.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

RICHMOND (Va.) Nov. 29.—Dedicatory ceremonies participated in by the most distinguished Catholic prelates in this country, the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, today took its place as one of the greatest institutions of its kind in the United States and a monument of the church in the South.

The ceremonies, beginning with the consecration at 6 o'clock this morning, and followed at 11 o'clock by pontifical hymns, attracted a large crowd to Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan came from New York to attend. Not only were Cardinal Gibbons, apostolic delegate to Falconio, and many archbishops and bishops from all parts of the United States conspicuous figures in the service, but State and city officials, including Gov. Swanson and the Mayor of Richmond, and a host of prominent laymen, were assigned special seats in the cathedral, admission to which was strictly by invitation.

The church is a magnificent edifice of Italian renaissance architecture, occupying a picturesque and commanding location, embracing an entire block in the heart of the fashionable part of Richmond and facing Monroe Park, with its acres of grass and trees. Within the building are seven altars and two chapels.

At 11 o'clock pontifical high mass was celebrated by Bishop Meares.

The consecration serivce was preached by Bishop Joseph Keene of Dubuque. During the ceremonies Cardinal Gibbons, in pontifical robes, occupied the throne in the sanctuary. He bestowed the blessing of Holy Pontiff Pius X., on the assemblage of ecclesiastics and upon the congregation. Upon another throne was seated Mgr. Falconio, the Papal delegate.

REDEMPTORISTS MEET.

CELEBRATE ADMISSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Priests of the Redemptorist Order from all parts of the country met here today at the church of the Most Holy Redeemer to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the entrance into that severe austere monastic body of the Rev. Elias Frederick Schauer, for years the provincial of the Redemptorist Order of the Eastern province.

The Pope, through the Superior General of the Redemtorists at Rome, has sent Father Schauer the apostolic benediction. Father Schauer is 74 years of age, one of the oldest Redemtorists in this country and is looked upon as one of the foremost of German ecclesiastics.

FIGHT PROMOTER FINED.

"Tex" Rickard, fight promoter of the Gans-Nelson battle at Goldfield, was fined $25 in the Harrison Street Police Court today for carrying concealed weapons.

The Westerner had wandered into the "Bad Lands" of Chicago at an early morning hour, became enthusiastic over a fist fight in the Coliseum, where the theatrical employés' ball was under way, had fallen over a chair and was discovered to have a "cannon" in his pocket.

BROTHERS FIGHT DUEL.

In a quarrel over the division of a judgment of $1500, awarded them by a railroad company after the death of their brother, John and William Netterville fought a duel with knives in which the former was probably fatally stabbed. He was taken to the county hospital, where it is said he will die, and his brother was locked up.

NO MORE MEDALS.

The H. E. Weaver medals, heretofore given for bravery displayed in the saving of life in marine disasters, and individual cases of drowning, will be discontinued because of the death of Weaver, the donor. It was stated definitely today that the family, which survived Weaver, had made no provision for the continuance of the practice of giving the medals. The awards were made on Thanksgiving Day.

HILL'S DAUGHTER ILL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Rachel Hill, daughter of James J. Hill, the railroad king, has just narrowly escaped death. The fact of her illness did not become known here until today, so secret are all the movements of the Hill family kept.

Miss Rachel was stricken with appendicitis the day after her sister, Gertrude, married Michael Gavin of Naw York. She was taken to the hospital at Rochester, where an operation was performed. After this, the young woman's condition was extremely critical. Today, however, she was reported much better.

BANKS "OVERFLOWING."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The banks of Wisconsin are "overflowing" with money, which has been coming in on unprecedented deposits from the prosperous people of the State. The primary cause is believed to be the abundance of crops and the prevailing high prices that the farmers receive for their products. Deposits have increased over $4,000,000 in the three weeks.

GAS SPOILS FEASTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JOPLIN (Mo.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A leak in a gas main here marred the Thanksgiving dinner in 10,000 homes. The gas supply had to be cut off until the leak was fixed, and many stoves unused for years were dragged out in the emergency.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—H. B. Miller, United States Consul-General at Yokohama, is here investigating the matter of the Japanese children's exclusion from the public schools, prior to his return to Japan.

The Consul, who has been on a visit to his home in Oregon, is quoted in a local paper to the effect that the people of Japan are highly incensed at the exclusion of Japanese from the schools in San Francisco.

The question is largely one of national pride, and the action is looked upon as an affront to the nation, says Consul Miller.

According to the statements of Consul-General Mills, Japan is prepared to use her military and naval strength, if necessary, to fight the discrimination that has been made by the San Francisco Board of Education against the little brown men, who want to attend our schools with the white children.

Consul Miller is here to look into the difficulty and will meet with the School Board Monday morning. He says:

"The Japanese are highly incensed over this affair, and to save their national dignity are willing to go to war. They feel that they are powerful in military and naval departments, and

George Wright Meets a Most Peculiar Death.

Falling Timber Hits Log On Which He Stood.

Capitalists to Visit Goldfield. Engineer Drowned.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tossed high into the air by the spring of a small log on which he had been standing, George Wright, a timber worker employed by the Lake Whatcom Logging Company, fell to his death today. It is a most remarkable way.

Wright had completed an undercut in a tree which was to be cut down. Two others, the fallers, started work with their saws, and Wright stepped out on the end of a small cedar log, balanced on another timber, in order to get the lay of the ground around him and determine on the best way to fell the next tree.

The two men with saws completed their work, and the cry of "timber" was given. Wright presumably heard the cry, but thinking he was at least fifteen or sixteen feet from the place where the tree would fall, believed he was safe.

The giant struck the opposite end of the cedar log on which Wright stood, causing the end on which he was to fly upward, tossing him high in the air. He was killed by the fall.

CAPITALISTS AT GOLDFIELD.

TO INSPECT NEW CAMP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—A party of about seventy of San Francisco's most prominent capitalists is to leave here Saturday on a special train for Goldfield, Nev. The party has been made up of a committee consisting of Isaac T. Scott, R. P. Schwerin and Bert Geraldi. They will arrive in Goldfield on Sunday and will visit Tonopah next day, returning home on Tuesday.

The object of the trip is to investigate the financial conditions of this new country and to inspect the mines.

PORT FOR ORIENTAL LINERS.

CANADIAN PACIFICS PURPOSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 29.—A Winnipeg special says Sir Thomas Shaughnessy states it is the intention of the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company ultimately, in keeping with its programme of development on Vancouver Island, to establish a port of call for the Oriental liners at a good harbor on the Vancouver Island Coast, to build a railway across to Victoria or Seymour Narrows, to facilitate the transportation of mails and cabin passengers of the Far East in the journey across the continent.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

MOTORMAN IS ARRESTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—While crossing Mission road, near Sickels avenue, this evening, Miss Jessie Gough, 25 years old, was run down by an inbound trolley car and so badly injured that she died before reaching the hospital.

Motorman W. E. Gray was arrested and charged with manslaughter. The failure of the air brakes on his car, he said, was responsible for the young woman's death.

JAPANESE ARE WROUGHT UP.

CONSUL-GENERAL MILLER TELLS OF ATTITUDE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—H. B. Miller, United States Consul-General at Yokohama, is here investigating the matter of the Japanese children's exclusion from the public schools, prior to his return to Japan.

The Consul, who has been on a visit to his home in Oregon, is quoted in a local paper to the effect that the people of Japan are highly incensed at the exclusion of Japanese from the schools in San Francisco.

The question is largely one of national pride, and the action is looked upon as an affront to the nation, says Consul Miller.

According to the statements of Consul-General Mills, Japan is prepared to use her military and naval strength, if necessary, to fight the discrimination that has been made by the San Francisco Board of Education against the little brown men, who want to attend our schools with the white children.

Consul Miller is here to look into the difficulty and will meet with the School Board Monday morning. He says:

"The Japanese are highly incensed over this affair, and to save their national dignity are willing to go to war. They feel that they are powerful in military and naval departments, and open comment is made on the probability of a show of arms to compel the American people to cease discriminating against the Japanese."

Miller is acting under orders from Washington.

ROGERS AND HIS HATCHET.

"RED EYE" WRECKS HOME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—With a baby in her arms, the wife of James Rogers, an upholsterer, tonight jumped through the window of their cabin in the refugee camp at Jefferson Square to escape being brained by her husband, who, in a drunken frenzy, had attacked her with a hatchet.

Rogers returned home tonight, intoxicated. He locked the door and seized a hatchet, with which he completely wrecked every piece of furniture in the two rooms. Then he attempted to kill his wife. The woman, being unable to escape through the door, took the baby in her arms and jumped through the window, carrying glass and sash with her.

Rogers flourished his hatchet and threatened to brain any one who entered, but was finally overpowered by several police officers and locked up.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Fire Destroys Greenwood.

MENDOCINO, Nov. 29.—Fire last night burned the greater portion of the business section of Greenwood, a town eighteen miles south of Mendocino. The loss is estimated at $35,000.

Steamer Officer Drowned.

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—Nicholas de Jausserand, second assistant engineer of the Globe Navigation Company's steamer Eureka, was drowned last night, in falling from a gangplank that led from the wharf to the boat. His body was discovered this morning.

Captain Is Acquitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Capt. Macomber, master of the whaler Thrasher, was acquitted yesterday on a charge of assault on a sailor in the Arctic in August of last year, at the inquiry before United States Commissioner Heacock. The case was dismissed.

Costly Contract Made.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 29.—A contract has been entered into by the Canadian Pacific Railroad with the Vancouver Island Development Company to clear 150,000 acres of land in the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway grant on Vancouver Island, recently acquired by that railroad. The work will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000,000.

No Money for Schools.

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—Seattle schools did not take up the proposed subscription for the benefit of the San Francisco school system yesterday, despite the fact that this was the day designed for such a purpose by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. No reason was assigned by Supt. F. B. Cooper for the failure of the local schools to respond to the call of San Francisco, but it is understood to be lack of confidence in the management of San Francisco schools.

POOR FOOD CAUSED MUTINY ON CRUISER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NORFOLK, Nov. 29.—Men from the cruisers Tennessee and Washington, which convoyed the President on his trip to Panama and back, while in Norfolk today declared that the alleged mutiny on the Tennessee occurred while the cruiser was being coaled on the isthmus for the return trip homeward, and not during the trip.

They said the men on the Tennessee, claiming poor and unsatisfactory rations, refused to coal the ship. The marine guard was ordered out, and, according to the men here, the marines stood with pointed guns, threatening to shoot the first man who quit his post during the coaling of the vessel. The coaling was in this way completed, and as a result of the alleged mutiny, 100 men were placed in the brig. These, however, according to the report today, were released when the homeward start was begun. All is now declared to be quiet on the cruiser Tennessee.

There was no trouble among the men on the Washington. It was declared that the Washington on the homeward trip had two breakdowns. Her starboard engine, it was said, broke before the Florida coast was reached. This was repaired, and by forced draught she caught up with the Louisiana and the Tennessee, three hours ahead.

Off Cape Hatteras the Washington's port engines broke down, and this made the final delay of several hours.

On Sunday a search party was formed to look for Brown. When no word of him or the searchers was received, Sunday or Monday, a second searching party started out. No word of any of these men has so far been received.

Thurlow Island is not extensive, but is covered with a dense forest.

AGRICULTURE IN AMERICA.

Secretary Wilson Puts Out Some Big Figures.

Corn Remains Most Valuable of All Crops.

Pollock Replies to Charges by a Special Agent.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—In his annual report Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says of the value of leading crops:

"Corn remains by far the most valuable crop, estimated at eleven hundred million dollars. Next comes the cotton crop, which, including seed, should be worth to the growers nearly $648,000,000. The value of hay, which is third in order, approaches $600,000,000. Wheat, the fourth crop, may be worth $40,000,000 or $50,000,000; oats, $200,000,000; potatoes, $150,000,000. Barley, with a value of $65,000,000, shows a gain of 21 per cent. in production in the past seven years.

"The tobacco crop will be worth about $5,000,000. A remarkable development is that of the sugar beet, now the ninth crop in value. The production in 1906 is placed at 345,000 tons, valued at $30,000,000. Seven years ago, the value of this crop was $7,000,000. The value of all kinds of sugar, syrup and molasses aggregates $75,000,000.

VALUABLE PLANTS.

"In the Bureau of Plant Industry, the leading features of the work of the past year have been the co-operative demonstration work with farmers, fruit growers and others under the careful supervision of the department experts and the introduction of new crops of economic value. One of the most important achievements in this latter line is the discovery of the existence of the Siberian alfalfa, a plant native on the dry steppes of Siberia, where the mercury freezes without snow, thus proving the ability of the plant to withstand, without protection, a temperature of 40 degrees below zero.

"This discovery may mark an epoch in the agriculture of the northwest prairie regions of the United States.

"Among other valuable plants introduced are a vigorous alfalfa from Arabia and the Tangier peninsula, which has yielded as high as nine tons of green feed per acre. With a view to increasing the matting industry, the department's explorers have secured living plants of the best foreign varieties of rushes. Experiments in the propagation of many seeds and plants introduced from foreign countries are being carried on at the plant introduction garden at Chico, Cal.

FOREST RESERVE POLICY.

"Great progress has been made in the practical application of a national forest reserve policy. In area, the reserves were increased during the year from 85,868,022 to 96,999,138 acres. In revenue, the reserves brought in $747,-538.84, as against $460,142.62 for the preceding year. One fiscal year of full control under the forest purchase act has established two facts, viz., that the reserves advance the present interests of the people of the West and that they will speedily pay the cost of administering them. Through government control, the interests of the future are guarded without sacrificing those of the present. The reserves powerfully promote development, they work counter to the prosecution of no industry and retard the beneficial use of no reserve. The resources do not withhold land from agricultural use, but greatly increase the amount of available farm land.

"The promotion of agriculture is one of the main ends of the forest reserve policy. By guaranteeing future supplies of timber, they are indispensable to the future development of mining. The stockmen throughout the West are now united in favor of the forest reserve system."

COMMENDS WESTERN STOCKMEN

The Secretary especially commends the good will with which the associations of western stockmen have cooperated with him. Finally, the reserves have proved beneficial alike to the lumber industry and to the timber consuming public. The available merchantable timber is not locked up from present use, but it will not be disposed under a short-sighted policy of utilization, which would leave a gap between the end of the present supply and oncoming of a second crop.

Protection of the reserves from fire has been a most important task laid on the forest service. It is cause for congratulation that the loss by fire during the year was slight, even by comparison with that of 1905. This favorable effect is due to increased efficiency of the patrol system, combined with favorable climatic conditions. The important fact was demonstrated that the forest service is able to substitute conservative for destructive use, while greatly increasing the use itself.

The largest totals of sales were, in board feet, 73,000,000 in South Dakota; 71,000,000 in Wyoming and 53,000,000 in Montana. In South Dakota, a special reason exists for pressing the sale of timber with energy. The ravages of a bark beetle threaten the annihilation of the entire forest, and only by extensive cutting of infested trees can the spread of this pest be checked and the damaged timber utilized.

LIVE STOCK IN ALASKA.

A systematic effort has been begun to determine the feasibility of live-stock raising in Alaska. A small herd of Galloway cattle has been introduced. These cattle have been subsisted during the summer upon the native grasses, and a considerable supply of grain and hay has been grown to maintain them during the winter.

During the past year, the department has carried out splendid drainage investigations in some of the irrigated districts, in Utah, Washington, Nebraska and California, this work being paid for in part by state appropriation.

The drainage of swamp lands in humid parts of the United States would result in extending or improving agriculture over an area equal to the States of Illinois, Kansas and Ohio.

During the past year the officers of the experiment stations have aided the officials and others in making surveys and inspecting to determine the feasibility of the large drainage projects and the proper plans for the work. The survey investigations have been carried on in thirty-four states.

REPLIES TO SPECIAL AGENT.

POLLOCK'S EMPHATIC DENIAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—An emphatic contradiction was made here today by George F. Pollock, chief of Department B of the Interior Department, of allegations in the affidavit made at Salt Lake City yesterday, by Michael A. Meyendorff, a special agent of the government, that Pollock had instructed Meyendorff to destroy four affidavits he had procured against the Union Pacific Coal Company, in the coal-land fraud investigation in Utah. Pollock has issued a statement as follows:

"Mr. Pollock says that the statements contained in the morning papers, reflecting on his conduct and motives in connection with the above-stated matter, are absolutely untrue. He states most emphatically that he has never personally nor officially, by direction or suggestion, expressed or implied, nor by any act of commission or intended omission, aided or countenanced a failure to prosecute, or the suppression of any prosecution of the investigation referred to.

"Mr. Pollock characterizes the statement that he advised Mr. Meyendorff to destroy the affidavits alluded to as wilfully false. He affirms that he never saw and was never informed of any affidavits that did not in due and regular course become and remain part of the records of the office; that he gave Meyendorff no instructions whatever in regard to the investigation except as expressed in official letters which are on file and record in the Land Office. No other advice to him was necessary, as the well-established rules of the office instructed him as to his duty."

CHINESE IN JAP SCHOOLS.

TIME LIMIT IS FIXED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Sir Cheng Tung Liang Cheng, the Chinese Minister, says there is much misunderstanding about the action of China in limiting the number of young Chinese students who are to go into Japan to complete their education. There are about twelve thousand Chinese students in Japan, and of these perhaps eight thousand are Chinese young men who have been highly educated in their home and are in Japan to study for a few months preparatory to becoming teachers in China.

The Minister says this system of having young men take such a brief course in Japan has not been satisfactory, either to the Chinese or to the Japanese. Consequently, the Chinese government has decided to forbid the provinces sending young men for such short courses, and will insist that three or four year courses be taken by students going to the Japanese schools.

NEW LAND COURTS SYSTEM.

HEYBURN MAKES SUGGESTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Senator Heyburn at the opening of the session of the Congress, next Monday, will introduce a bill creating United States land courts in each of the public land States, in which an appeal may be taken from any final decision by the register and receiver in regard to the right to enter the public lands. From these courts an appeal will lie to a national land court, to be provided by the bill, with headquarters at Washington, and consisting of three judges.

Mr. Heyburn thinks this will relieve the men in the Land Office and the Interior Department of the necessity for deciding legal controversies affecting the entry of public lands.

POLITICAL.

HARPER OUT OF IT.

He Is Losing Votes to Wilson Every Day—Democratic Campaign Is a Failure and Harper Has Shown No Cleverness as a Vote-Getter.

IT IS now amusingly apparent that the appointment of Ed Kern as Chief of Police was a move in the interest of Harper. But the rather inapt Harper managers have shown their hand too soon, and the false play is hurting Harper. The business men of Los Angeles will not stand for retaining Ed Kern, with his record, as Chief of Police. Neither will they stand for keeping Dr. Ralph Hagan in office as Police Commissioner.

Yesterday's trick of Kern's, notifying the cigar stands to cut out betting, was another funny little political game which will tell against Harper. It was too obvious—too raw. The betting was all in favor of Lindley, and the Harper managers wanted it stopped. But foxy Earl Rogers made a mistake this time. Stopping betting at the cigar stands only exposes the nerve-shattered condition of the never-strong Harper movement. As a matter of fact, although the Harper managers succeeded in shutting it off at the cigar stands, the betting is 10 to 8 on Lindley elsewhere.

With a certain element of the labor unions quitting Harper in droves for Stanley Wilson's camp; with business men of all shades of politics forsaking him because of his tie-up to Ed Kern and to Dr. Ralph Hagan, poor Harper is between the devil and the deep sea. He is far enough out of the running to be harmless. Wise old political figurers now declare that Wilson may beat him.

As the Harper vote goes down, the Wilson vote goes up, and as the Wilson vote goes up, the Harper vote goes down. Harper is losing and Wilson is gaining. And all the time Dr. Lindley continues steadily to grow in favor. An accurate poll, conducted on honest lines and with no suggestion of "faking" or "stuffing" of a test ballot, shows him far in the lead of all other candidates.

Indications are plain of the falling away of support from the Democratic candidate, and they are equally plain of accessions to the Wilson ranks.

Even Gates is figuring in the race of the minority candidates. The volume of his following may be classed with that of the Democratic and union-labor nominees.

Chairman McGarvin verified this conclusion yesterday by stating that he expects to see Harper, Gates and Wilson run practically "neck and neck" in the count of the votes—with all of these candidates several thousand votes behind Dr. Lindley. He now thinks Wilson will get fully as many votes as Gates.

It is clear from the sentiment expressed on the streets and around political headquarters that Harper is losing support every hour and that this support is going to Wilson, who at the outset was considerably behind the Democratic candidate. With this leveling down of the Harper following and the evening up of the Wilson support, the two candidates have been brought into the class with Gates, whose estimated strength originally was between that of Harper and Wilson and has fallen off rather than increased.

It simply is a struggle among this trio to determine who shall run second. It is predicted that Harper will have a little the better of the race; that he will be a few hundred votes ahead of his two competitors for "place" honors, and about 6000 votes in the rear of Dr. Lindley.

DEMOCRATS FOR LINDLEY.

While Wilson is gaining many of the votes that have been counted on for Harper, it is evident that a large number of Democrats have abandoned the nominee of their party and are going to vote for Lindley. In their uncertainty as to the strength that Wilson may develop, they have determined to help swell the plurality of the independent and popular Republican candidate, thus insuring safe, sound and sane government of the city for the next three years.

It has not been necessary that a brick wall should fall on these Democrats to prove to them that Harper is a minor candidate. They have made inquiries in their respective neighborhoods, and they have found the strong current of sentiment flowing to Dr. Lindley. They have found that all the "Harper talk" is traceable to small cliques of politicians and to personal friends of Mr. Harper, who are putting on a bold front in their endeavor to manufacture sentiment for him.

As a matter of fact, Harper is making practically no campaign. Few Democratic meetings are held in any part of the city, and those that are held are so poorly attended that they attract no attention. The voters have had little opportunity to meet Mr. Harper, and most of them probably would not know him if they saw him.

On the other hand, Dr. Lindley is getting into every part of the city, is meeting several hundred persons at public meetings every night, and makes a personal canvass of some district every day in order that he may meet and talk individually with the voters.

The big demonstration for Lindley at the Courthouse grounds Wednesday noon, where the doctor addressed several thousand persons, was a fair example of the enthusiasm that exists for his cause throughout the city. No other political gathering in Los Angeles for years has attained the size of that one, nor equaled it in earnestness.

The history of the campaign fails to record that Mr. Harper or any other candidate has been honored by so great and so fervent a gathering.

KERN'S PLAY FOR HARPER.

Chief of Police Kern yesterday made a play for Harper by notifying the cigar stands that they must cut out betting and gambling—but an intimation was conveyed that if Kern should be elected the curtailed privileges would be restored.

But what the betting men and Kern's few pet political policemen are asking themselves is "What will happen to me if I work for Harper and Lindley happens to be elected? Where was Moses when the light went out?"

SLINGS MORE MUD.

"EXPRESS" VENTS SPLEEN.

Now the nasty Express has turned its mud batteries on candidates for the Council, and is firing volleys of filth at them in its efforts to discredit every one who does not meet with its approbation.

It heaved a handful of muck last night at E. A. Clampitt, Republican candidate for Councilman of the Second Ward, but in such a way as to react in Clampitt's favor.

Now The Times is not supporting Mr. Clampitt for Councilman in that ward. Good reasons have been given why A. S. Van Degrift should be elected to that position. But no good reason can be found for assailing Mr. Clampitt in the squirt-gun manner adopted by the Express, and it can be stated on very good authority that the attack on this candidate, who is not supported by The Times, is based more on spite and for the satisfaction of a grudge rather than on facts.

JOHNSON'S IS AN EASY RACE.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE LEADS FOR TAX COLLECTOR.

Excellent Record in the Position to Which He Again Aspires Is the Best Indorsement That Could Be Asked. Few Voters Will Place Obstacles in His Way.

E. E. Johnson, Republican candidate for reelection as City Tax and License Collector, is making a winning campaign on the excellent manner in which he has conducted the affairs of his office during his incumbency. It seems to be a question only of what his plurality will be, for his competitors are able to rally but little support and are not looked upon seriously in political circles.

It was only after repeated refusals on his part that Mr. Johnson was not made the candidate of the Non-Partisan City Central Committee. He was invited by that organization to go on its ticket, but he preferred to make the race simply as a candidate of his own party. The success he is meeting in his campaign proves that he made no mistake.

Mr. Johnson is an old resident of Los Angeles, and for some time before his election as Tax Collector he held other positions of trust at the City Hall. In the discharge of his duties in the higher position, as well as in minor places, he has made an enviable record. It is not at all strange that he should be meeting with practically no opposition in his present campaign.

His past performances in the position of trust he has held have proved his fitness for the place. He has earned reelection, and the voters apparently intend to return him to office.

HOPE OF SIXTH WITH YONKIN.

ONLY MAN IN WARD WHO CAN BEAT FREAK HOWTON.

Voters Centering Their Energy on the Republican Candidate, Who Has Lived Among Them for Many Years and Who Has Made an Excellent Record as a Public Official.

If the voters of the big Sixth Ward will stand together for the election of H. H. Yonkin, the Republican candidate for Councilman, they can drive "Spook" Howton forever out of the position he has held for more than two years and for which he again is a candidate.

The majority of the voters of the big ward wish to unseat Howton, but they will not do it, if they divide their forces among the six candidates who are opposing the freak legislator.

These people are centering on Yonkin, who is known as a clean, able man. Many of the very people who elected Howton before are among Yonkin's warmest supporters. They are disgusted with the manner in which the Sixth Ward has been misrepresented by Howton and at the acts of his that have made the ward the laughing stock of the city.

Yonkin is well known in the ward. He has lived there many years, is the owner of considerable property and always has been actively interested in the development and improvement of that section of the city. As undersheriff for the last four years he has made an enviable record for courtesy and attention to duty. He is not a political flim-flammer, but just a plain good citizen.

By concentrating their energies for the election of Yonkin the people of the ward will elect him by an overwhelming plurality. He is Howton's leading opponent and is the only candidate who has any prospect of beating the "spook" Councilman. Votes for the Non-Partisan, Socialist, Prohibition, Public Ownership or other candidates than Yonkin simply will be votes for Howton, for none of these other aspirants has the least show of winning.

It looks as if the people of the great Sixth Ward, which has the greatest population of any ward in the city, will seize this opportunity to place in office a man who will stand for their interests and who will be a good servant for all the rest of the people.

WHERE IS ESKEY?

Is He for Gates, for Harper or for Lindley or for Anybody Else?

The Evening Express states that Milton N. Eskey, manager of the Pacific Hospital, is for Gates. Glad to hear it. We didn't know whom he was for. A short time ago he was Arthur Harper's guest at a dinner at Levy's and declared for Harper. Earlier in the game he joined in a request that Dr. Lindley be a candidate. If he is for Gates now, all right; but where will he be on election day? There is a story to be told about Eskey.

SENATOR HAS DISAPPEARED.

NO ONE KNOWS WHERE BAILEY VANISHED.

But He's Gone, and His Texas Supporters Feel Cruelly Disappointed—Considerable Speculation Indulged in and Telegrams Lie Undelivered in Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Nov. 29.—Friends and admirers of Senator Joseph W. Bailey in Texas were today cruelly disappointed over their inability to get in touch with their idol. Telegrams addressed to him at Washington were undelivered and there was a decided gloom in consequence.

Just where Senator Bailey is at this time is not known here, and there is considerable speculation.

According to the figures of the Attorney-General, Bailey actually received $17,850 from the Waters-Pierce and Standard Oil companies, although he has declared in nearly every public speech made in Texas during the last two months that he had received no money from these people.

OPPOSES ANNEXATION.

M. Furnomont Demands Explanation of Leopold's Bequest, Scores Administration.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BRUSSELS, Nov. 29.—The discussions relative to the Congo Independent State were resumed in the Chamber of Deputies today with the presentation of the Socialist point of view.

M. Furnomont, speaking for M. Vandervelde, the Socialist leader, who was absent on account of illness, combatted annexation as dangerous; but, in the event that annexation be decided upon, he demanded a clear explanation of King Leopold's bequest, in order that Belgium should not undertake the heavy responsibility of colonization with her eyes shut, and without an absolute guarantee that her rights would be respected. The speaker bitterly reproached the administration of the state for its treatment of the natives.

OPPOSITION CONCEDES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Although it has been feared that the recent speeches of Premier Campbell-Bannerman and A. J. Balfour had closed the door to compromise on the education question, when the education bill reached the report stage in the House of Lords tonight minor concessions were made on both sides, and Lord Lansdowne, the opposition leader, delivered a conciliatory speech.

The utmost diversity of opinion, however, still prevails as to the fate of the measure.

Stronger and stronger grows the sentiment that Lindley is the man for all friends of prosperity to consolidate upon. Harper is fading; he has not the ghost of a show. Gates is still wobbling and is losing ground every day. The great, strong Lindley tide is rising and booming. Let us rally around Lindley, the beloved doctor the man of achievement, the man who has done so much for Los Angeles, the man we can elect—let us rally around him and defeat Wilson!

AWARD OF PRIZE STEAMER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIBA (Courland) Nov. 29.—The prize court has concluded its examination into the capture of the British steamer Oldhamia, captured during the Russo-Japanese war, and has found in favor of the American consignors of the cargo.

The Oldhamia was captured by the Russians May 19, 1905, while bound for Yokahama with a cargo of kerosene. Eight days later she was recaptured by the Japanese and taken to Sasebo, where her cargo was sold. The consignors of the cargo, American citizens and owners of the vessel, British subjects, in July, 1905, placed their cases in the hands of an attorney of St. Petersburg, who was empowered to ask the prize court to act as adjudicator. The cargo of the Oldhamia was valued at $123,000, and was the property of the Standard Oil Company.

COMMERCIAL MEN'S TOUR.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 29.—It was stated here yesterday that a special train carrying the members of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce would arrive here early in January. It is expected that the party, which will be composed of some 200 prominent business men, will make a comprehensive tour of the city. Later a similar excursion composed of business men from the city of St. Louis will visit the republic.

GIRL'S SHOTS END ESTRANGEMENT.

THORNTON (R. I.) Nov. 29.—Ethel Smith, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Policeman Leander Smith, is under arrest, tonight, at the home of Chief of Police Howland Kimball, charged with killing Elmer Briggs, a resident of Thornton. The circumstances of the killing were such that, after being obliged to arrest the child, Chief Kimball took her to his house, gave her a Thanksgiving dinner, and declared that she should not go to jail as long as she was under his jurisdiction.

The tragedy today was the culmination of an estrangement between Briggs and his wife. About two weeks ago Briggs is alleged to have deserted his wife, leaving her without means of support for herself and her three small children. Special Officer Smith took pity on the destitute woman, and he and his wife received Mrs. Briggs and her children into their home and were arranging to send them to the home of Mrs. Briggs's brother.

This afternoon, during the absence of Smith, Briggs arrived at the Smith house and demanded admission. Charles Halliday, a negro cook, started to bring Chief of Police Kimball to the scene, leaving in the house Mrs. Briggs and her children, Mrs. Smith and Ethel. The women and children, fearing that Briggs would force an entrance, locked all the doors and windows, and Ethel procured her father's revolver.

As soon as Halliday was out of sight Briggs again demanded admission. This being refused, he drew a large carving knife from beneath his coat and cut away the screen on the front door. He then smashed a pane of glass in the door, reached through and threw back the bolt. As he entered, Ethel fired two shots at him, both bullets lodging in his body. Briggs hesitated for a moment, and then kept on.

The child fired three more shots, every bullet taking effect, and Briggs staggered back and fell dead.

The action was instituted by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, as trustee for the mortgages. A referee reported that $1,623,723 was due the plaintiffs.

CHICAGO'S NEW DEPARTURE.

LESS SPORT, MORE CHEER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Chicago's observance of Thanksgiving today was more in accordance with the spirit which animated its founders than any the city has experienced in years.

In lieu of shouting itself hoarse at the annual football game, prosperous Chicago turned its attention to providing good cheer for the destitute and afflicted.

In hospitals, homes for the poor and other charitable institutions, good things to eat gladdened the inmates, while toys and sweetmeats were distributed among homeless children. Business was at a standstill.

The city's charity has not confined itself to public institutions, but thousands of baskets containing the element of a substantial Thanksgiving repast were distributed throughout the tenement districts and among the city's needy working classes.

Any one under the impression that the holidays are not observed here should have visited the downtown district this afternoon. Not a retail store was open. The hundreds that work in the City Hall and other hundreds employed in the county departments, were at leisure, and the big office buildings were deserted.

Thousands spent the morning in the churches. There was scarcely an edifice in the city that was not open to those who would give thanks. Special sermons were delivered, and special music was rendered in many houses of worship, and it seemed every pastor had found something to be thankful for.

Special Thanksgiving Day dinners were served at all the county institutions.

NEW YORK'S CROWDS.

RECORD-BREAKING BUSINESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The biggest just-before-Thanksgiving crowd in the history of New York surged through the shopping districts and the railroad stations yesterday, and taxed to the utmost late afternoon outgoing trains. Railroad officials assert that yesterday's business broke all previous records for the time.

At the conclusion of the service, which was held in the Mount Olivet Baptist Church, nearly every one present made a contribution to a fund which is being raised for the relief of the dismissed soldiers. The sermon of the day was preached by Rev. W. H. Brooks, pastor of St. Mark's A. M. E. Church. In the course of his address Brooks said:

"It has been the contention of the South that the shiftless and ignorant negro was the one she despised, but the real South appeared in her true colors when she took pains to run down, humiliate and outrage the most intelligent, thrifty and upright people of the community. This was scarcely ever before the Chief Magistrate of the nation covered himself with eternal shame and disgrace by his unjust, unkind, undemocratic, un-American and czarocratic, cold, cruel, drastic and infamous orders against as brave, as heroic as self-sacrificing a set of men as ever wore the blue or bore 'Old Glory' on a field of strife.

"If a Republican Congress refuses to correct the wrongs thus inflicted, every black man in the South ought to pack up his belongings and move to a doubtful State and vote the whole thing out of existence. It is by the ballot and not by vengeance we shall win."

WITH THE NOTABLES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Except for a strong wind Thanksgiving Day was a glorious one throughout the East, and it was observed everywhere to an unusual degree.

In New York, Gov.-elect Hughes reviewed a parade of Hebrew Orphan Asylum boys.

Charges in the city hospitals and prisoners in the jails all had an extra allowance of food.

Harry K. Thaw, a prisoner in the Tombs, sent out for his dinner, but had to eat without knife or fork.

SAN FRANCISCO'S DAY.

RIVALS VIE WITH CHURCHES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Some of the usual Thanksgiving observances were omitted here today, on account of the condition of the city, but the churches all held appropriate services. In several sermons, lessons were drawn from the calamity of April.

Many persons took advantage of the holiday to leave the city. Thousands visited the races at Emeryville.

IN MEXICO'S CAPITAL.

SWELL "CHARITY BALL."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 29.—Thanksgiving Day was celebrated by the American colony here by a general observance.

As in the past, the event of the day was the Charity Ball, at which were present the elite of the American and other foreign colonies and the whole diplomatic corps. At 1 o'clock, President and Mme. Diaz arrived. The President responded to a toast, felicitated the Americans on the success of the affair, and offered congratulations on the fact that the two republics are in such close accord.

More than $30,000 was realized. This sum will be used for the benefit of the American hospital here.

IN THE OLD WORLD.

ENJOYABLE DAY AT VIENNA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VIENNA, Nov. 29.—Charles Spencer Francis, the American Ambassador, held a Thanksgiving at the Embassy today which was attended by almost the entire American colony. The occasion passed most pleasantly and was thoroughly enjoyed by the Americans. A number of persons prominent in Viennese society attended, as did several English residents. The guests were received by Mr. Francis, his wife and their daughters.

The reception was the most notable held here for years. A number of the diplomatic representatives were present.

AMERICANS IN OXFORD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OXFORD (Eng.) Nov. 29.—More than one hundred American residents of Oxford assembled for a Thanksgiving dinner here tonight. The speakers of the evening included Dr. George R. Parkin, representing the Rhodes scholarship trust; T. W. Hawkins, secretary of the Atlantic Union; Albert Pulitzer, of New York, and a number of Rhodes scholars and Oxford students. The usual toasts were honored with enthusiasm.

AMERICANS OF LONDON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The members of the American Society, with their ladies and five hundred guests, gathered tonight at the Hotel Cecil for the annual Thanksgiving Day dinner of the society. The dining hall and the tables were decorated with products of the field and garden. The menu was in the shape of a pumpkin, to which was attached a corn husk. Ambassador Reid, Robert L. Wynne, the American Consul-General, the Embassy staff and the head masters of England's great public schools were among the guests of honor. John Morgan Richards, father of the late Mrs. Craigie, presided.

SCHOOLBOYS' IDOL.

After the toast to King Edward, Rev. Edward Littleton, head master of Eton, proposed the health of President Roosevelt in an eloquent speech. He said that, speaking for the schoolboys of England, no personage today was as interesting as the American President, whose sportsmanship, honesty and strength had made him the admiration of both English boys and men. The speaker declared President Roosevelt to be the most important figure in contemporary civilization.

Rev. Joseph Wood, head master of Harrow, proposed the health of the American Ambassador, and Mr. Reid, speaking as the President's immediate representative in England, returned thanks for the honor done the President. Referring to the Newfoundland controversy, Mr. Reid said that before another session there will be enough good feeling between the governments to insure a settlement that will put the matter at rest forever.

Referring to the approaching Hague conference, Mr. Reid said that it seems possible that the New World may speak with one voice for checking armaments and again infringing national sovereignty by the collection of private debts by force. There is some reason to hope, he continued, that the two branches of the English-speaking race also will act as one.

Rev. J. Gew, head master of Westminster, and Charles W. Kohlsaat, special commissioner of the Jamestown Exposition, replied to the toast "Our Guests."

MRS. MCCORMICK'S TEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Mrs. McCormick, wife of the American Ambassador, assisted by Miss Helen Gould and Mrs. Frank H. Mason, wife of the American Consul-General, gave a Thanksgiving tea at the American Ambassadorial residence, today, for the young ladies of the American Club of Paris, which was founded by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

Stronger and stronger grows the sentiment that Lindley is the man for all friends of prosperity to consolidate upon. Harper is fading; he has not the ghost of a show. Gates is still wobbling and is losing ground every day. The great, strong Lindley tide is rising and booming. Let us rally around Lindley, the beloved doctor, the man of achievement, the man who has done so much for Los Angeles, the man we can elect—let us rally around him and defeat Wilson!

SPECIAL TRAIN WITH BONDS.

Two Hundred and Sixty-nine and Half Miles of Paper for $50,000,000.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Fifty million dollars in bonds was unloaded at the French line pier, yesterday, to be put aboard the steamship Provence of the French line for shipment to Paris.

The bonds filled 140 mud-splashed boxes, and furnished loads for twelve trucks.

The shipment consisted of Pennsylvania Railroad bonds covering a loan taken by Paris investors. Shipment of these bonds was made by the Adams Express Company from the treasurer's office in Philadelphia.

A special express train bearing the bonds left that city at 9 o'clock and arrived in Jersey City at 10:55 o'clock. Thirteen special service men acted as guards.

The issue required for execution 1,260,000 signatures and the affixing of 1,260,000 seals, ten specially appointed assistant secretaries having continually signed their names each day for two months. If the total number of sheets in this issue were laid in one continuous line, they would reach 269½ miles. The total weight of the bonds was 41½ tons.

NEWSIES" AND THE TURKEYS.

Eight Thousand Chicago Boys Tackle a Big Feed With "Goodies" in Bulk.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—An army of 8000 Chicago newsboys attacked 500 turkeys, chickens and other good things, last night, at the twenty-fifth annual Thanksgiving dinner given by a downtown clothing company. The bill of fare in bulk was as follows:

Two hundred and fifty turkeys, 250 chickens, 1500 loaves of bread, 1500 dozen cakes, 150 bunches of bananas, two barrels of cranberry sauce, twenty-five ten-gallon cans of mashed potatoes, 1500 pies, twenty-five boxes of oranges, sixty-five barrels of apples, twenty-five boxes of celery, figs, dates, raisins and nuts unscheduled, and several barrels of lemonade.

It took several men to serve the dinner, and twenty-five women to wash the dishes. Rev. G. F. Fox of the California Avenue Congregational Church, pronounced the invocation.

Rapid changes of temperature are hard on the toughest constitution.

Four thousand spectators witnessed the most thrilling football game of the season, yesterday afternoon at Fiesta Park, when U.S.C. and the Sherman Indians fought for the championship of the State. Though both teams tried all the tricks known to the football world, neither could score, and the result was accepted with satisfaction.

Though the struggle at times was the roughest ever seen on a local gridiron, and both sides were frequently penalized, the game throughout was one of the best ever seen from the viewpoint of the football enthusiast.

Both teams fought with pulldog tenacity. Shins were barked, faces were skinned and blood flowed many times during the fierce onslaughts. The Indians were forced to see the ball moved distances aggregating more than half the length of the field because of their transgressions against the rules, and U.S.C. lost her best player, Pullback Burek, who was barred from the game for slugging.

Scores of Indian maids, decked in the purple and gold of Sherman, sang the praises of the redskin braves. Hundreds of sympathizers shouted in glee every time the purple sweaters pushed through the stubborn Methodist line for a substantial gain.

Long before the first kick-off the bleachers were packed with a throng of eager enthusiasts who awaited with keen anticipation the opening of the tussle. Old scores were to be paid back, and many who had tasted defeat in contest with the local eleven rallied themselves with the Sherman contingent and yelled defiance at the cardinal and gold.

PERSONAL FEELING.

Never before has so much personal feeling entered into a game. Between downs many engaged in wordy arguments as to the merits of the teams; the ability of the officials to render decisions, and the qualifications of the players.

Much honor rested upon the result of the contest, and though many of the Indians played their usually fair and consistent game, at least three of the red men adopted foul tactics and were responsible for their team losing much ground. Referee Traeger did not hesitate to inflict every penalty called by Umpire Hamilton, and ginger was instilled into the contest by the ten and fifteen-yard losses awarded each team.

This made the game one of the most open and spectacular ever seen here. Galt and Scholder for the Indians, and Shute and Burek for U.S.C., divided honors in the booting, and the pigskin was kept hurling through the air for many minutes during the game.

Square yards of color enlivened the reserved section. The cardinal and gold of U.S.C. predominated over the purple and gold of Sherman. The Indian well-wishers, however, outnumbered the U.S.C. cohorts four to one. The crowd wanted Sherman to win.

The Riversiders were a unit in helping their struggling, sweating warriors. They never hesitated, were quick to see a good play, and yelled their encouragement in a deep-throated, hoarse cry of triumph. That Sherman did not win is not due to the lack of enthusiasm among her rooters.

How much the mud had to do with the final score none can say. Both teams claimed to be disadvantaged by the slush of the gridiron. The men slipped about the greasy field like skaters on ice. The ball was a roll of mud after three minutes of play. It became slick, later, and caused many fumbles.

Tackling was fierce and hard. No quarter was given, and several times, when the ball was down and a player had covered it, the opposing man would jump on his prostrate foe in his excitement.

CRASH OF BATTLE.

From the crash of the first impact as the two elevens opened the battle, until the panting braves reluctantly gave up the struggle, with the ball headed straight for the U.S.C. goal, the game belonged to neither side.

Time and again the almost perfect football machine which Scholder has rounded into form, dashed itself against the light, fierce football eleven, which is the pride of Coach Holmes, without a grain. The braves grunted their surprise and doggedly tried again. They made distance several times, but often were hurled back for a loss; and this by a team they outweighed twelve pounds to a man.

From the viewpoint of an onlooker, the game was a fierce fight of well-trained gridiron warriors coached to take every advantage. That many overstepped the bounds of fairness and took advantage of plays which violated the rules is to be regretted.

Everybody except a few of the most sanguine of the U.S.C. contingent expected the Indians to win. The stalwarts of the varsity could only hope for a zero score, and those who were supposed to know gave the Indians the benefit of one touchdown. The crowd could not understand it when the Indians failed to gain, and as the lighter players forced the redmen down the field they voiced their wonder by yelling "Break 'em up, Sherman. Wake up now. What's the matter?"

Valiantly the Indians went into battle. There was not a coward on the team and not a man who shirked, but the task was too great. Muscle trained to the minute, backed by the brain of the white player, was too much, and U.S.C. had the advantage of the awful grapple.

GOALS IN DANGER.

The first half saw the Indians' goal line twice in serious danger—once, on a fumble when the ball rolled to within three yards of the last chalkmark, and a second time when the plucky Methodists bucked the spheroid to the 5-yard Indian line. At the close of the game the Indians had the ball within one yard of the goal, but the whistle saved U.S.C.

Both sides attempted field goals, but the slippery soil made the trials difficult. Once the ball went circling perilously near the Indian crossbar and Referee Traeger allowed the field goal. The Indians refused to agree and threatened to leave the field if the goal was allowed. The game was continued when Traeger reversed his decision. In the opinion of the majority of the spectators the ball did not go over the bar, but missed by about two feet.

Coach Holmes, after the game, declared his men would have made three touchdowns on a dry field. He considered his team had demonstrated its superiority over the Indians by keeping the ball in their territory the greater part of the game.

Scholder said: "We'd have won if it hadn't been for the mud."

The Indian leader who played quarter-back and captained the team, proved himself a true sportsman in his handling of his portion of the game. He tried to prevent roughness and always was fair.

STORY OF THE GAME.

Burek kicked off to Lugo on the Indian's 15-yard line, the Indian player slipping, but holding the ball. Two bucks by the Indian backs failed to net 7 yards, and Scholder punted 40 yards to Best in the center of the field, the ball bounding 10 yards into U.S.C. territory before the Methodist captain recovered it. Shute made 4 yards through the Indian right tackle, and Custin was stopped without a gain. Lubo was injured, but stayed in the game. Shute punted 25 yards over the heads of the Indian backs, and the ball slipped about in the scrimmage and was recovered by an Indian on his own 5-yard line. Best heeled Scholder's punt out, a quarter-back kick that netted the Methodists 10 yards. Shute punted to the Indians on their 10-yard line. Scholder punted to Best, and Shute returned the punt, and Tortes made a beautiful run-in for 25 yards.

The Indians failed to gain on bucks, and punted to Best, but U.S.C. was off side, and the redmen were given 10 yards, allowing them possession of the ball in the center of the field. Shute booted the pigskin to Scholder on the Indians' 20-yard line. The Indians were offside and Scholder punted out to Best on the 55-yard line, the U.S.C. captain running in 15 yards through a scattered field before being downed. Shute punted 40 yards to to the Indians' 10-yard line and was down the field in time to mix things up for Scholder so that Burek got the ball.

U.S.C. failed to gain more than 5 yards in two bucks, and Shute's attempted place goal was blocked, the Indians getting the ball on their own 16-yard line. Scholder punted out to Custin on the 40-yard line. Custin and Burek failed to gain and Best punted to Scholder on the Indians' 5-yard line. Scholder punted out to Best on the 25-yard line. The ball went to the Indians on downs on their 25-yard line. Up to this point U.S.C. had kept the Indians almost altogether in their own territory and in close proximity to their goal line, Shute and Best playing great football for the Methodists.

Sherman was penalized for hurdling, Scholder punted to Best on the Indians' 45-yard line. U.S.C. was sent back 15 yards for holding.

Shute punted from the center of the field, the ball rolling to the Indians' 10-yard line before Tortes recovered it. Elliott broke through on the second down and dropped Lubo on the 5-yard line. For the fourth time the Indian guard dropped back of the goal line to punt. Boles got the slippery ball on a fumble after the kick and started for the U.S.C. goal. Best catching him just in time. The Indians were penalized 10 yards for off-side play. During the remainder of the half the tide of battle swayed back and fourth.

SECOND HALF.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except that the Indians braced up. Burek was ruled off for slugging. U.S.C. took the ball to the Indians' 3-yard line, and with only a foot to gain for distance the Indians held and punted out of danger. Elliot attempted a place goal, but failed. Then U.S.C. tried again for a place kick from the 40-yard line and the ball descended just under the bar. The Indians then took the ball and worked it to within 1 yard of the U.S.C. goal, but the whistle kept them from further attempt to score.

THROOP WINS GAME.

PASADENA HIGH EASY.

In spite of a muddy field and a drizzling rain, the football team of the Throop Polytechnic Institute succeeded in running up a score of 10 to 2 in the game with Pasadena High School yesterday afternoon. Even the adverse conditions did not dampen the ardor of the players and the game was the liveliest and most hotly-contested seen at Tournament Park this season.

As the High School team is lighter than Throop's, the latter institution did not play her full team, but allowed several men who have just missed acquiring the right to wear the big "T" to try their hands. When the first half opened four substitutes were noticed in the Throop line-up, and, with one exception, the same team was played throughout the entire game.

During the early part of the game there seemed to be but little difference in the chances of the two teams, and the High School "rooters" went wild with delight. Time and again Throop drove the ball within dangerous proximity to High School's goal posts, only to lose it on downs. Every attempt to gain ground by bucking was frustrated and Throop seemed utterly unable to score.

Near the end of the first half, when the ball was within a few feet of the goal line Horrell managed to carry it over the line and score a touchdown. The attempt to kick the goal failed and the half closed with the score standing 5 to 0 in favor of Throop.

In the second half High School still seemed to hold the opposing line. Several brilliant plays were made on both sides, but scoring seemed to be out of the question. Finally Tout of Throop secured the ball and by a sensational end run carried it past the opposing line, well supported by the interference, bringing the score up to 10 to 0. For the second time Throop failed to kick the goal.

At the kick-off following the second touchdown, Curn kicked to Jones, who fumbled. The ball was driven over the High School line and Bennett fell on it, scoring a safety and saving his team from being entirely shut out.

Throop went into action with Tout, Gabriel and French in place of regular men. After the first half French, who was playing quarter, was taken out of the game and Brown, the game freshman, put in his place. With this one exception there was no change in the l' e-up.

TIE AT RIVERSIDE.

RUGBY TEAMS WORK HARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch. The Rugby game, this afternoon, resulted in a score of 5 to 5. Pomona scored in the first half, but the Riverside team redeemed itself in the second half by making the game a tie.

The Pomona boys showed the better team work but the Riverside had the advantage in individual play. Owing to the cold wind and the counter attraction of the Box Springs hill-climbing contest, the grand stand was but sparsely occupied.

LONG BEACH BEATEN.

SANTA ANA'S BIG SCORE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Santa Ana High School football team defeated the Y.M.C.A. eleven of Long Beach this afternoon, by a score of 22 to 0. As the score shows, the game was all one-sided, though the beach city lads put up a good fight at the finish. Walbridge of Santa Ana run half the length of the field for a touchdown.

Elks Play at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 29.—In the baseball game today between the Santa Barbara Elks and the San Diego Elks, the latter won by a score of 9 to 0, thus retaining the silver trophy which they wrested from Santa Barbara some weeks ago, and capturing the championship. Carson, who pitched for the San Diego Elks, made a remarkable showing. He struck out nineteen Santa Barbara Elks, and only thirty faced him during the game. Santa Barbara failed to make a hit, and only four players reached first base. Crumine pitched for Santa Barbara for three and a half innings, and then gave way to Snyder. The San Diego Elks got eight hits off the two.

OCCIDENTAL'S OPINION.

Believes Football Team Can Make Better Showing But not for Championship.

President John Willis Baer, speaking of the challenge sent by Occidental to U.S.C. for another game of football to be played December 8, said Wednesday: "I believe we have been misrepresented in some quarters regarding the challenge sent to U.S.C. We do not want another chance at the championship. That has been won fairly by our Methodist friends, and in order that it might be clearly understood that we were not trying to wrest from U.S.C. her well-earned laurels, we sent the challenge without waiting for the outcome of our game with Pomona. We would like to meet U.S.C. again, because we feel we did not make the showing we are now capable of making in our game with them early in the season; but we want it distinctly understood that we consider the championship rightly and permanently in the possession of the Methodists, and that another game, if arranged, would not be a championship contest."

From the showing made against Pomona by U.S.C. and Occidental, the friends of the latter say that there is not much to choose between the two teams. They contend that Pomona was not able to put her strongest team in the field against the Methodists, as Walden, the regular varsity quarter-back, was disabled, and that Coach Noble played the regular varsity against the Presbyterians, and said before the Occidental game that the team was stronger than on the Saturday before, when Pomona played U. S.C. The Methodists ran up fourteen points against the Congregationalists, and the Presbyterians scored twenty-one against Pomona. Occidental rooters say that if Coach Noble's statement is correct that Pomona was stronger in the Occidental game than she was against U.S.C. the week before, it appears that Occidental is now slightly stronger on defense than U.S.C. Pomona was unable to score against U.S.C., but she ran up eight points in the Occidental game. However, her score was due to Metcalf's exceptional kicking ability, and the Congregationalists were not able to make consistent gains against the Presbyterians.

If a game could be arranged between the two conquerors of Pomona it ought to be the hardest fought game played in the south for years. The matter will be decided by the U.S.C. Faculty Athletic Committee before the end of this week.

Cline Leads the Field.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Tom Gallagher of this city defeated Edward McLaughlin, also a local player, in the American short-stop championship tournament at 18.2 billiards 400 to 361, last night. In the afternoon game Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia beat Frank Hoppe, Jr., of this city, by 400 to 82. It was Hoppe's last chance in the tournament in which he lost all of his six games. Cline now leads the field with four straight victories.

TEAMS PLAY TO NO SCORE.

Pennsylvania and Cornell Tie At Philadelphia.

Dramatic Moment At Close of Terrific Struggle.

Great Heston Breaks Leg in Professional Game.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—With the ball within one yard of the home team's goal line, the annual game between Pennsylvania and Cornell football elevens on Franklin Field, today, came to an end without either side being able to score.

The finish of the contest, with Pennsylvania fighting desperately to ward off defeat, was as fine a piece of football play as has been seen on the Red and Blue gridiron in a long time. Cornell twice had the ball in those last few minutes within one yard of Pennsylvania's line and victory appeared to be certain, but Pennsylvania men held their own by a defense that was as impregnable as it was sensational.

There were but a few minutes of time left when Hollenbeck for Pennsylvania kicked against the wind to the home team's 45-yard line, where a Cornellman got the ball. Two line plays and a quarter-back kick put the ball on Pennsylvania's 15-yard line in Cornell's possession. Here the Ithacans secured a forward pass. Hollenbeck intercepted the pass but was unable to hold the ball and Van Orman for Cornell fell on it seven yards from Pennsylvania's goal.

Two plays against tackle and Cornell was on the 1-yard line. It seemed as if nothing could stop her, but on the next plunge into the line, the Pennsylvania men held and Cornell dropped in her tracks. It was then Pennsylvania's ball on downs.

With great relief, the Pennsylvania sympathizers let out a great roar at the stand made by the home players, which was quickly changed to a cry of alarm when Pennsylvania decided not to take a chance to carry the ball with it practically on her goal line and Hollenbeck was sent far back of the goal posts to kick out. He was behind the cross bar and in order to avoid it he kicked to one side. The punt was bad, and aided by the stiff wind which was blowing diagonally across the field in the face of the Pennsylvania players, the ball went out of bounds about two yards from the goal line.

DESPERATE DEFENSE.

With the ball in her possession two yards from Pennsylvania's goal line, it looked certain this time for Cornell. The Ithacans made a yard on the first play and the second plunge into the Pensylvania line failed to gain. The ball was then on the Quaker's 1-yard line. Cornell had one more try remaining and only a few seconds left in which to do it. Gardiner here was sent in to take Jamison's place at quarter-back for Cornell. Pennsylvania was in the last ditch and desperate.

As the Cornell men got into position the Pennsylvanians crouched low and there was a death-like silence in the stands. The signal was given, the teams rushed against one another and half of Cornell's players on top of the struggling mass of men spilled over the Pennsylvania goal line. As the teams played into each other the time keeper's whistle announced the end of the game.

Every one believed Cornell had won but when Referee Corbin and Umpire Edwards had finally removed the struggling players and got to the bottom of the pile, they found a Cornell man hugging the ball a foot short of the line of victory. Cornell's spirit fell and then the enthusiasm of the Pennsylvania spectators knew no bounds.

Outside of the desperate finish the game did not afford either side much opportunity for cheering. First, Pennsylvania got the ball to Cornell's 16-yard line, where she lost it on a fumble and the Ithacans once had it twenty yards from Pennsylvania's goal but also lost the ball on a similar misplay. In the first half Pennsylvania gained almost twice as much ground as her opponents, but in the second half the playing was entirely in Pennsylvania's territory. This was due principally to the good kicking of Walders, who too kevery advantage of the stiff wind at his back. Cornell's ability to rush the ball increased wonderfully in the second half and her rushes invariably gained her substantial ground until the exciting finish. Cornell's halfbacks, Earle and Gibson, played a grand game, as did also Walder, Levend and Scarlett, Pennsylvania's ends, were all over the field and Green and Hollenbeck put up their usual star game. Pennsylvania went through the contest without changing a man while Cornell made only two substitutions. The line-up:

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The football game here today between the Massillon (O.) Tigers and the All-Western team was won by the former by a score of 9 to 4. Both teams were made up of former college stars, the Massillon eleven being much the heavier.

The game, especially in the second half, was roughly played. Heston, formerly of Michigan, sustaining a fracture of one of the small bones of the right ankle and Roseth, formerly of Wisconsin, received a dislocation of the right shoulder.

In the first half the scoring of the Massillon team was made by Davidson, who scored a drop kick from the 20-yard line. In the second half Hare of the All-Western eleven made a drop kick from the 35-yard line, and for Massillon Harrott made a touchdown. The game was poorly attended. The line-up was as follows:

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—In a steady downpour of rain and on a muddy field, neither the University of Missouri football team nor the Kansas University eleven was able to score in their annual game here today. The game was merely a punting match, and only eight yards were gained in the first half on straight football.

The ball was kept almost continually in Missouri's territory, and Kansas was often threatening the Missouri goal line. In the last half Missouri defended the soggiest end of the field, where it was almost impossible to make a gain.

SOCKER FOOTBALL GAMES.

Yale Defeated by Columbia in First Game of Series Between Eastern Teams.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—An intercollegiate and international series of "socker" football games was begun today at the Bronx oval. It will be continued tomorrow and Saturday at Staten Island and Newark, N. J.

Two games were played today. In the first Columbia defeated Yale, 4 to 0. All the winning team's goals were scored in the first half. Yale showed decided improvement in the second, especially in the way of defense. The halves were each thirty minutes long.

The second game was between a picked team of New York players and the University of Toronto eleven, one of the strongest teams in Canada. Neither side scored in the first half, and the New York men were first to make a down in the second. Toward the end of the game the Canadians scored twice.

Place Kick Wins Game.

SPOKANE, Nov. 29.—The Seattle Athletic Club football team defeated the Spokane Amateur Athletic Club eleven this morning, by a score of 4 to 0, winning on a place kick by Kern from the 35-yard line.

STEVENS-DURYEA WINS RIVERSIDE HILL CLIMB.

Establishes New Record for Box Springs Grade—Tourist Car Takes the Free-for-All Runabout Event. Course in Perfect Condition.

RIVERSIDE had a successful series of hill-climbing races yesterday in spite of the weather. Wednesday the weather moderated at the Orange City and all things betokened a grand day for Thanksgiving and automobile racing. When the last motor-car enthusiast retired at Riverside, of those that had a chance to sleep, the sky was blue and the stars shone out like automobile searchlights.

When the automobile users awoke in Riverside, and in a whole lot of other places, yesterday morning, it was to look out upon a drizzling rain and fresh snow on the mountains, even the Box Spring Mountains.

There were hurried councils at the garages and hotels and Chairman Dundas of the racing committee sent out word that the annual hill climb would be postponed until Saturday, and if the weather was not good before that, to a still later date.

After this announcement the sun began to peep out from the clouds, and there was one grand roar from the bunch of embryo Barney Oldfields. Wild Bill Schroeder, king of the auto mahouts, said the rain was all the better for his cars, and he wanted the battle royal to come off, rain or shine. Harris Hanshue, who had run out of oil and burned a cylinder, Wednesday, hoped and begged for the postponement. The Aerocar, which had the same trouble, secured a set of cylinders from an Aerocar in Los Angeles and turned the trick during the night, so Scorcher Smith was ready for the battle.

Most of the forenoon it was postponement and no postponement, and finally the banners went out, announcing the whole programme for the afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. Then it began to drizzle some more, and off on the mountains a raging blizzard could be seen.

MANY VISITORS PRESENT.

In the early morning a number of loaded automobiles arrived from Los Angeles, including the 100-hour Oldsmobile and its mate, a Doison, the Fennemore-Feuerborn freak and several Reos, also Charlie Pratt in his big Haynes. These cars' occupants told of a heavy rain met at Cucamonga.

Wednesday night Manager Dundas, Charles Fuller Gates and Supervisor Bantz went over the course about midnight and moved the finish about a quarter-mile nearer Riverside, to make the finish more safe, having to carry the judges' platform and erect it. They also set up the starters' platform at the starting point, finding both platforms dumped away out of the proper place and the lumber covered with frost.

At about 1:30 o'clock yesterday the hill-climbing races began with a motorcycle event. The course, after changing the finish, was exactly three and a half miles. The best time made by the motorcycles was 6:16⅘, which was averaging better than thirty miles an hour. This showed that the course was in good shape. Great palms had been taken by the Riverside motorists to get the road up Box Springs Cañon grade as good as possible. Most of this good work should be credited to Harry Bantz, Supervisor for this part of Riverside county. He even got out and worked on the road with a shovel himself most of Wednesday, and while he was working hard, some one stole his overcoat that he had laid aside. This caused Supervisor Bantz some suffering, as he had a great need of the coat in the chilly ride back to town, but, being an automobile owner and a philosopher, he made the best of it and got another overcoat.

RECORD BREAKING.

The record breaking began in the $1150 runabout class, and lasted throughout the programme. Last year, when this hill-climbing racing was inaugurated at Riverside, the best time made by the stripped and geared-up cars, carrying only a driver, was 6:43. This was cut to 6:32 1-5 by Leigh Lynch with his Buick, and, not content with taking the runabout trophy, he also annexed the cup for the $1600 touring car class with another Buick, that he was not making good time. No zig-zagging and grand-stand work for Tommy Pillow. He understands the devil locked up in the high-power cars and takes no chances and makes no foolish moves. Life is too sweet, and besides there are some more races and hill climbs yet to win.

Next to Pillow the work of W. G. Schroeder attracted the most attention. Schroeder had a pair of fast Tourist cars and was known as unofficial record breaker on this course. In his first appearance, starting early in the $2500 class, he was unfortunate in getting off and had to give up after getting only a few hundred yards, his clutch sticking. This put him out of this race, but the judges allowed him to make a trial for record and his time was nearly a minute faster than any other car made in this event.

RAN CLOSE SECOND.

In the free-for-all runabout race Bill Schroeder made good, and nearly equaled the time made by Tom Pillow with the 60-horse power Daniels car. The big Tourist runabout he drove, was much admired and attracted constant attention. This is the first of these high powered runabouts produced in California.

The table of results will give a full report of each race, there being no special novelty in any event, each car going off at two-minute intervals and covering the course without incident. The few exceptions, where drivers had trouble with their cars, was in getting a good mixture in the chilly atmosphere. It was hard on the cars to stand in the chilly winds at the starting point for an hour or more and then of a sudden to be turned loose at top speed with cold engine and chilled carburettor. In nearly every race some car had carburettor troubles and was slowed down so much that a poor showing resulted.

In the first event, the motorcycle race, the Harley Davidson should have won from the performances on Wednesday. This machine had been tampered with and the rider, Paul Derkum, of Los Angeles, found both oil and gasoline tanks stuffed with cotton waste and the commutator "fixed" with oiled threads. After he had got away in the start and was well up the first hill his gasoline gave out and he then dismounted, and not readily locating the trouble started back, but on further investigation found the gasoline had been shut off by some one just before he started. He then went on but had lost too much time to win. One of the automobiles also acted strange and was not able to work, as it had been doing all along in practice, but no charges were made.

FREEZING WEATHER.

All along the course there were brush fires, the spectators keeping up the fires to keep from freezing. Off on Old Gray Back and about San Jacinto Peak could be seen great snow storms all the afternoon, and it was a chilly time for all, the passengers in the contesting cars having an unusual cold time of it.

This will probably be the last year that the Riverside automobile Derby will be held at this time of the year. The public-spirited people of the Orange City appreciate the importance of this event and want it kept up as an annual Derby. In past years Admission Day was always observed at Riverside with a big bicycle meet, and it looks now as though Riverside organizations and officials would make September 9th an automobile holiday hereafter, for the celebrating of races over the Box Springs Cañon grade.

The new drive about Rubidoux Mountain was not inspected by the automobile visitors yesterday because of the cold and rain.

There was but one accident at Riverside. A careless driver tried to race over the course in a Mitchell runabout in the morning, and ran into the bank on one turn. His companion, who was sitting on the footboard in racing fashion, jumped out and slid on his face, but after applying bandages was able to get out and witness all the events in the afternoon.

Los Angeles was better represented than all the other towns of Southern California combined. Cars were driven into Riverside on Wednesday from Covina, Pomona, Ontario, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, San Diego and Pasadena. All the old standbys like ex-Mayor Hazard and his famous "El Valiente" car were there.

Last evening the motorists and their lady friends were given a grand ball at the Glenwood Hotel in honor of the Riverside hill climb, and very few cars were driven home last night, the motorists not wishing the cold drive. The results are:

HOME TEAM WINS AT POLO.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 29.—The Santa Barbara team won the final match in the polo tournament for the championship of Southern California here today, defeating the Los Angeles cracks by a score of 5 to 3. The game was probably the liveliest of the entire series, and many brilliant plays were made on both sides. There were numerous wagers on the result, although the betting odds ran at 2 to 1 in favor of the home team.

Santa Barbara scored one point in the first of the four spirited periods, and added two more in the second, the Los Angeles players failing to mark up in either. Neither side scored in the third, while the visitors humped up some in the final period, running in three points, while the entertaining gamesters captured two more.

This afternoon's game concludes the tournament, leaving Santa Barbara the victors. Riverside first lost to the home team, and then fell down in the match with the Los Angeles men. The third day was devoted to a scrub match that enlivened the sport beyond the expectations of the promoters of the tournament. Now, in the finals, after the fastest sort of a play, Santa Barbara has taken the decisive honors in the presence of a large throng.

SWEET MARIE AUCTION SALE.

GREAT TROTTING MARE BRINGS SMALL PRICE.

E. T. Stotsburg Pays $14,000 for Great Daughter of McKinney—Believed She Will Reduce All Records Before She Retires—William Garland Retiring Owner.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Sweet Marie, the famous trotting mare with a record of 2:02, was sold at the Old Glory horse sale at Madison Square Garden today for $14,000, and George M. Webb, manager for E. T. Stotsburg, a Philadelphia banker, was the purchaser.

Sweet Marie was the center of interest at the sale in Madison Square Garden, tonight, when led before Mr. Bail, the auctioneer. Breeders of trotters and pacers in all parts of the country crowded close to the daughter of McKinney, immediately after the auctioneer had described her turf achievements and asked for bids.

The first man to display an inclination to own the mare was B. W. Johnson, who bid $5000. Mr. Johnson's bid had hardly been called when "Andy" Welch said $10,000. Mr. Dagnon went Welch $1000 better and then G. W. Welch, acting for Mr. Stotsburg, offered $12,000. Mr. Dagnon raised that bid by $1000 and Mr. Webb countered with an offer of $14,000. Mr. Dagnon then retired, and Sweet Marie's future home will be in the Quaker City.

Another get of McKinney's, Prince McKinney, created spirited bidding. He was bought by John M. Shultz of Port Chester, N. Y., for $8000.

Sweet Marie was bred by Frank C. Schumaker of Los Angeles. Her earnings during the last four years have been very large and she is the most popular trotter that has appeared on the grand circuit in ten years. Schumaker sold his mare to William Garland of Los Angeles who said he believed Sweet Marie would be able to lower all present trotting records before she retired.

NEW RACE TRACK.

NEW ORLEANS EXPANDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judging from rumors there will be another race track in the immediate vicinity of New Orleans by the opening of the racing season next winter. According to information, the proposed new race course will be built on the east bank of the Mississippi River, opposite New Orleans, and very near Gretna, in Jefferson Parish, where the major portion of the ground has already been secured. Men high in State politics and also a number that move in the social world will organize a stock company, but at what sum it will be capitalized is not known, and build a modern race course.

Both the American Turf Association and Western Jockey Club will be petitioned for dates. Should the governing bodies of the two organizations that control racing in the West refuse dates, the New York Jockey Club will be appealed to. It is the intention of the promoters of the proposed new jockey club to give a sixty-day meeting each year.

Frenchman Is Defeated.

TUXEDO PARK (N. Y.) Nov. 29.—In an exhibition match at the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet Club courts today, Frank Forrester, professional of the Georgian courts of Lakewood, N. J., defeated Ferdinante Garcin, champion of France, three sets to one. A large number of society folk witnessed the match. Garcia gave Forrester a handicap of half of fifteen and a bisque. The set was won by Forrester at 6-4, and the second set went to the Frenchman at 6-2, but the third set, the hardest fought of the match, was won by Forrester after some very fine tennis. The fourth and deciding set also went to Forrester at 6-4.

Keystones Win Out.

The Keystones defeated the Dyas-Cline baseball team, yesterday afternoon, by the score of 2 to 1, at Thirty-eighth street and Santa Fé avenue. The game was hotly contested and went ten innings. Sherman and Wherry formed the battery of the Keystones, and Lyons and Watson were in the points for Dyas-Cline.

The news of the resignation of the Spanish Cabinet has been received with satisfaction at the Vatican, which is strongly opposed to the proposed bill of associations in Spain. This bill is directed against the existence of religious orders.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Think what you please." "Keep your mouth shut."

"Do as I tell you."

This is the gist of the advice to the army of pacification by Gen. Franklin Bell. Incidentally, his address to the troops at Pinar del Rio shows what he fears they may think.

Gen. Bell told the members of the Eleventh Cavalry that the President would not like it if they wrote home that the army should remain because the Cubans were unfit for self-government, and in fact, that they should remember that Cuba cannot be expected to learn in four years what the United States has taken 130 years to acquire.

The large interests at home in tobacco and sugar do not want annexation, and as the United States has one race problem on its hands, Gen. Bell does noe want another.

THE PRESIDENT KNOWS.

Besides, the President has repeatedly said that the United States does not want to acquire territory to the south.

The solders were told that they would hear much about the necessity for the army remaining in Cuba, and while they could think and should think as they chose, they should not write to the home folks sentiments contrary to the express wishes of the Commander-in-Chief.

MAGOON INVITES CONFERENCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVANA, Nov. 29.—Gov. Magoon has issued an invitation to all the Senators and Representatives chosen to office in the last election to attend a conference, Saturday, for the consideration of urgent affairs. Liberal leaders expressed the belief that the governor intended to request the resignations of all Senators and Representatives, as a first step toward new elections.

Alfredo Zayas expressed keen satisfaction with the possibility of new elections, and said the Liberals would willingly resign, but feared the Moderates would refuse to do so.

GLEANINGS BY CABLE FROM OTHER LANDS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a meeting of thirty-nine bishops here today, under the presidency of Cardinal Richard, which discussed the reopening of the Catholic institute. Tomorrow the bishops will examine the manner of transferring to the state the property and goods sequestered under the association's law, which by statute will belong to the state after December 11. They will also consider plans for hiring habitations for priests who have ben deprived of their lodgings by communes and departments.

ALGECIRAS'S SECOND FIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOULON, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a second fire on board the training ship Algeciras here today. It was soon extinguished by streams of water from neighboring vessels. Two officers went over the hull afterward, and failed to find the bodies of three sailors who perished. The fire was due to a short circuit.

FLEMISH PAINTING STOLEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FLORENCE, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was discovered today at the gallery of the Palace Ferroni (formerly the Palace Spini) that a very valuable picture by the Flemish painter, Yan Brenghel, of the sixteenth century, representing a landscape with figures, had been stolen.

SUES FOR SLICE OF HOOSIER STEEL TOWN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A sensational legal fight, involving title to a large slice of the city of Gary, Ind., is promised in a statement made today by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Bar Association, who is named in a bill to recover a portion of an estate valued at $3,000,000, filed on behalf of Wallets May Yeakle, aged 14, of Lincoln, Ill., against E. H. Gary, president of the United States Steel Corporation, and others.

Miss Yeakle's suit dates from the death of her uncle, Col. Cline, who was an eccentric and recluse, living in one room in a 100-room house at Englewood, when he died in 1902. After his death, it developed that Col. Cline was worth approximately $3,000,000 in real estate.

The action involves the validity of the title to the entire site of the town of Gary, on which millions of dollars have been expended for improvements, and clouds title to all other property belonging to the estate which has been sold since the death of Col. Cline.

J. O'BRIEN EXPLAINS WHY HE DID NOT WIN.

Jack O'Brien's nose is broken. The terrific blow from Tommy Burns's fist landed on the bridge and caved in the bones forming the arch. O'Brien claims that the blow is what prevented him from defeating Burns, for the optic nerves were affected, so Jack says, and he was unable to see clearly. O'Brien explains that he could not land any of his blows, after the fifth round, with any degree of accuracy, and those who were close to the ringside will believe there is something in the argument. O'Brien missed many left jabs for the face, and his eyes had the peculiar staring look which is noticeable in blind men.

O'Brien passed the greater part of the day in his room at the Angelus yesterday. A physician was in attendance frequently and Valet Swanson was kept busy carrying comforts to the boxer. Jack is in a bad way, it is believed, although he is cheerful and declares that he can defeat Burns at another meeting. Jack also says that his left arm was rendered almost useless by a boil or abscess which formed back of the elbow, and which pained him severely toward the close of the fight.

Burns was out on the streets yesterday. He had reared a black tent in the form of an eye shield over his injured eye, which is badly swollen and discolored. Burns's face also shows the effects of the left jabs and uppercuts which O'Brien handed him during the fight. Tommy says that if he meets O'Brien again he will knock him out.

"WE BOYS" DEFAULT GAME.

Were Leading the Score When Darkness Inspired Them to Refuse to Continue.

The "We Boys" of the First M. E. Church lost a game of baseball by default to the "Baraca Boys" of the same church on St. Vincent's campus today.

Th Baracas decisively defeated the We Boys some time ago in a joint debate, and today's baseball game was an attempt on We Boys' part to retrieve, in so far as an athletic victory can retrieve an intellectual defeat, the prestige lost through the joint debate. According to agreement, the game was to be called at 2:30 o'clock. The Baraca Boys were on hand promptly to start the contest, but the We Boys failed to show up with their team until 3 o'clock. Owing to this late start it was growing dusk when the ninth inning opened, with the We Boys in the lead by the score of 11 to 9 and at the bat.

They failed to make good, however, and three men were promptly put out. The optimistic Baraca Boys then took the bat in a last endeavor to put men enough over the home plate to win. The We Boys refused to play further on account of darkness. The Baraca Boys will arrange another game with the We Boys.

Lay Corner-stone.

TONOPAH, Nev., Nov. 29.—The corner-stone of the arena for the Gans-Herman fight was laid today by Manager Riley of the Casino club and "Kid" Herman. A force of twenty carpenters will be put to work on the building tomorrow. Gans is expected to arrive here next Monday.

JOE WALCOTT PLAYS QUITS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Honey Mellody of Charleston defeated Joe Walcott of Boston at the Lincoln Athletic Club in Chelsea tonight. In the twelfth round Walcott quit. He said that his left arm became disabled in the ninth round and that it was impossible for him to continue.

VIRGINIA STRONG.

NORFOLK (Va.) Nov. 29.—Seven thousand persons saw Carlisle defeat Virginia here today by a score of 18 to 17. A missed goal prevented Virginia from tieing the score.

Virginia made the first touchdown on a blocked kick and three line rushes. Her other scores were made by Johnson and Honaker in runs of eighty yards.

The Indians scored through Mount Pleasant and Little Boy by hammering the line in two instances and on a 50-yard run. Little Boy scored twice, as did Johnson for Virginia.

POLY BOYS BEATEN.

REDLANDS, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Redlands High School team defeated the fifteen representing the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School by the score of 6 to 0, here, this afternoon. The game was hard fought throughout and the teams were well matched. A large crowd of enthusiasts witnessed the contest. The gridiron was muddy on the west end and both teams suffered when the center of the battle shifted in that direction.

Golf Play.

Many other attractions of greater drawing power and the chilly weather of the afternoon kept all but seven of the regular golfers away from the Country Club yesterday. In the Thanksgiving sweepstakes there were but seven entries, and but three of these turned in scores. These were P. N. Coffin, who made a gross of 98 and a net of 84; W. W. Butler, whose gross was 87 and net 84, and S. S. Parsons, whose gross was 99 and net 87. Joe Ball, Henry Newton, S. P. Hunt and P. R. Wilson did not turn in their cards.

Billiard Game.

After long days of labor and nights devoid of ease, Kennedy and Seymour will decide first place honors this evening in the three-cushion billiard tournament that has been going on at Berry's rooms for the past two months. Keniston wins third money and the other two will play forty points tonight to decide first and second.

Marvin Hart's Dream.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Marvin Hart thinks he can defeat either Tommy Burns or Jack O'Brien, contestants last night in the championship fight at Los Angeles. He has issued a challenge to either of them for a fight of twenty rounds or to a finish.

McGovern Arrested.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Terry McGovern, formerly feather-weight champion of the world, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was released on bond.

MATINEE IS POSTPONED.

The harness horse matinée scheduled to be held at Agricultural Park, yesterday afternoon, was postponed owing to the muddy condition of the track. The officers of the Los Angeles Driving Club have not decided when the races will be run, but if the track is good by Saturday the events may be pulled off then; if not, they will be postponed until one week from Saturday. It is not likely that the races will be held this week, for the rains of Wednesday night soaked into the bed of the track to a considerable depth.

STRANGE FREAKS ON THE RAILS.

RUNAWAY ENGINE CAUSES TWO WRECKS AT WINNIPEG.

Frightful Catastrophe Avoided by Mere Chance, But Two Men Are Killed and Four Rendered Helpless—Eighteen People Hurt at Dayton, O., by a Center Hit.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WINNIPEG (Man.) Nov. 29.—A runaway engine in the Canadian Northern yards today caused two wrecks, killing two men and seriously injuring four others. It was only by chance that a more frightful catastrophe was avoided.

The Northern Pacific train from St. Paul was steaming into the yards an hour behind time. Engineer Young was horrified to see a switch engine bearing down on him at full speed. Both engineers reversed their levers, so that the collision was comparatively slight. The passenger engine was badly wrecked and the train derailed, but only two injuries were reported, a woman passenger sustaining a badly sprained back and the fireman being cut on the head.

The most serious and peculiar part of the accident was to follow. When the switch engine's lever was reversed, Engineer English and Fireman Hunt jumped to save themselves, and on the collision the engine bounded back, the throttle open, and tore madly back to the station. The engineer rushed to a nearby telephone, but almost before he could get to it the big engine was doing deadly work.

The flagman at the bridge saw the runaway rush by in a cloud of steam and smoke, but he was helpless.

Across the river the engine continued its mad career, and straight down the main track on which stood the "flyer," ready for its trip south. A switchman saw the runaway, and the danger of its crashing into the passenger train, and he pulled a lever, sending it down another track, forgetting that thereon stood many freight cars.

Seven men were engaged in loading a car. Two were inside the car, and were instantly killed. Four others were so badly hurt that their recovery is doubtful.

The other man has not been accounted for, but it is believed that he escaped.

EIGHTEEN PEOPLE INJURED.

ACCIDENT AT DAYTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DAYTON (O.) Nov. 29.—A traction car on the Dayton and Xenia line, filled with suburbanites and people from Xenia, was struck by a Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis freight engine about midnight and eighteen persons were injured, none of whom will die.

The accident occurred at the Ludlow-street crossing. The engine struck the car almost in the center, and hurled it into Ludlow street, out of the path of the engine.

OF THINGS LITERARY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Nov. 14.—"Take a girl and two men. Choose a locality. Slowly add other characters. Dictate about 7000 words a day. In a fortnight you have a complete novel."

Something like the above is the avowed recipe of L. T. Meade, the immensely popular English authoress. Mrs. Meade laughs when one talks of the thinking out of a plot. "I seldom have one," she said to me yesterday, "and when I have one, I never stick to it. The inspiration that comes moment by moment is far better."

Lisbeth Meade ought to know, for her novels are certainly thrilling and their plots are uncommonly complex. Recently she published her 200th romance, which she called "The Blue Diamond," and she is now hard at work on her 201st, although I could not get so much as an inkling from her as to what it is about. Perhaps, however, seeing that it was begun so recently, Mrs. Meade herself doesn't definitely know.

She is Irish, this versatile story teller and one of a select band of successful authors who began writing at an early age. She wrote her first book, a story for children, when she was seventeen. She is one of a numerous and distinguished family. Her father, an Irish clergyman, named her Lisbeth Thomasina. Her uncle is bishop of Cork; her cousin Admiral, the Earl of Clanwilliam, who twenty years ago, commanded the North American fleet of the British navy.

Soon after her first book was published, Miss Meade secured a governments and historic manuscripts. She distinguished relatives offered to get her a government billet and she deliberately chose one that brought her in the midst of books and musty documents and historic manuscripts. She lived by choice in one of the centuries-old structures in the heart of the ancient city, Bishopsgate Without, and studied the East End of London and its peoples.

In her spare time she scribbled away for dear life and attracted the attention of editors and publishers by her magazine and newspaper stories. Then came an offer of the editorship of "Atlanta," the girl's magazine. For six years Miss Meade held this post and at the same time turned out several dozen books for girls. They were mostly of school life and proved intensely popular.

Then came her collaboration on a novel, its immediate success and the romance of her life. She married Dr. Toulmin Smith. No longer had she to be the slave of the market. She was able to spend all the time she wanted on the writing of her beloved books. Novel after novel appeared, and then, when her son and two daughters began to grow up, the mother went back to her books for boys and girls, with here and there a novel, always an intensely dramatic work. One could scarce believe these were written by the same author of the many simple and charming girls' story books.

"The Brotherhood of the Seven Kings" is perhaps accounted her best novel. As to her books for girls, they are all popular. There is scarcely a house in Britain boasting of bookshelves and girls where the name of L. T. Meade is not to be seen. To the girls of the British Empire she is the queen of authors.

She travels a good deal, having cycled all over Europe. The Woodlands, her beautiful home, is situated on the edge of breezy Dulwich Common, on the outskirts of Southeast London. She goes in a great deal for society and is a noted bridge player.

When interviewed, she was looking over the last proofs of a new edition of "The Blue Diamond," in her comfortable library. The walls were covered to the ceiling with shelves of books, while several comfortable leather arm chairs and a large flat-top desk completed the room.

"This is my study, my workshop," said Mrs. Meade. "Yet I do not sit down here much, simply to read my morning's mail or to revise and correct my work. I dictate all my stories and novels to my stenographer.

"I work regularly every week-day morning from 9:30 to 1 p.m.—three and a half hours altogether. I read my letters and dictate answers first of all. Then I revise the previous day's manuscript. Then I am ready to dictate. I do this walking round the room—sometimes standing at the window or in front of a picture. I always like something to look at, although I have dictated while lying on a sofa with my eyes shut when I have been ill.

Walking about helps to bring new ideas. Suppose I want a new story. I take a girl and two men. I hunt up names for these characters, generally from 'Who's Who' or a city directory. I jot down a score of names on a slip of paper and mix them up. Next I choose a locality—London, the country, France, Germany, whichever I happen to think will serve best. Now I am ready to start dictating. Plot? No, decidedly no. I have no plot, and, as a rule, not the slightest idea of what the story will be. I just make a beginning, and as my stenographer takes her shorthand notes the story begins to unwind itself and grows by degrees. The incidents and local color come as inspirations from moment to moment. The plot unfolds itself quite easily. At 1 o'clock we stop. I have dictated perhaps 7000 words. I cannot work slowly if I tried. I average 7000 words a day during the three and a half hours. If a publisher is in a great hurry, I can do 8000, but I prefer not to as a rule.

"Sometimes, of course, editors and publishers ask for a plot, and then I have to send them a skeleton, yet I cannot remember ever having kept to it when I have written the story. It's very much easier not to think of any plot, but let the book write itself.

"Occasionally a publisher has asked for a novel in a hurry. On one occasion they wanted it within the week. I did it—80,000 words—and really one of my most successful stories. It was finished in heaps of time, but, of course, I had to work morning and night at it. And that's rather too hard work when one is growing old."

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Meade is 46, and as youthful looking a matron as ever came out of the county of Cork. Her hair is sunny, her eyes blue, her pleasing features typically Irish.

Only One Day More

Treasury stock of the Manhattan Mining Venture Company advances from 10 to 25 cents a share Saturday night at 9 o'clock, December 1, and this is the last opportunity you will ever have to buy this valuable stock at the low price of 10 cents a share, so send in your order at once and participate in this and all future advances of which there will be many, on the price of this stock. If you live out of the city better wire your order at our expense, and let your remittance follow by mail, although all orders received after December 1, but bearing a postmark before or on that date will be filled in the order they are received.

Our Company, the Manhattan Mining Venture, is an Arizona corporation, with a capitalization of $1,500,000—1,500,000 shares, each with a par value of $1, fully paid and non-assessable.

Our corporation owns eight of the most valuable gold mining claims in the State of Nevada; they are the Indian Chief, Nos. 1, 2 and 3; Indian Chief Extension, Nos. 1 and 2, situated in the heart of the great Manhattan gold mining district, and three other claims known as the Butterfly mine, in the Twin River district, which are located within one-half mile of the old Ophir mine, that yielded more than seven and one-half millions of gold from 1873 to 1900.

The Five Indian Chief claims are located in the heart of the great Manhattan gold mining district, which, though but a little over six months old, is already conceded by every well-known mining man to be the richest gold mining district of Nevada.

ON OUR PROPERTY

Five of our claims, the Indian Chief and Indian Chief Extension properties, contain outcropping quartz ledges that assay as high as $470.45. When we tell you that it requires only $85 free milling ore—and that taken from our claim is free milling—to put the mine on a dividend-paying basis, you can readily estimate the amount of profits our Company should earn when we get to milling $470.45, and what we should earn when we get to milling $1000 and $1500 ore, to say nothing of the enormous returns there will be for the stockholders, when we locate the mother lode of the placer deposits, which have just recently been found.

ON ADJOINING CLAIMS

On the property of the Bulldog Mining Company, immediately adjoining our Indian Chief claims, and within a stone's throw of our property, two shifts of miners are working night and day, and have sunk a 70-foot shaft that is yielding ore, some of which assays better than $1000. This same ledge is identical to those of our property, some of which assayed $470.45; same formation, etc., and expert mining men, who have examined our property, say that these ledges are wider and more valuable as depth is attained.

On the opposite side of our Indian Chiefs, as high as $1500 ore has been struck on the Georgy group of claims, and expert mining men say the same vein runs entirely through one of our Indian Chief claims.

In addition to this wealth that we know is on our claims, our mining superintendent discovered the other day valuable placer deposits. Miners rushed to the vicinity of our claims in hundreds when the discovery became public, and there is practically no doubt whatever that the Mother Lode is also on our claims.

The finding of the placer ore alone was sufficient to warrant us raising the price of our stock to 75c or $1.00 a share, but we did not. We are going to continue selling it at 10c a share, as we have agreed to do until December 1, after which time it will be advanced to 25 cents per share.

ADJOINS BIG PRODUCERS

Our Indian Chief claims are situated between and also adjoin nearly all the other big producers in Manhatan, namely, the Hooligan, Paymaster, Georgy group and others. Every indication is that our property will be as great or a still greater producer than any of these. To be perfectly honest, we really believe we have property that will rival the famous Mohawk mine in wealth.

DEVELOPMENT WORK

Development work is now progressing rapidly on our five Indian Chief claims, and a force of miners is at work sinking a shaft and taking out rich ore that is being placed on the dump ready for the mill, while you are reading this advertisement. In fact, every effort is being made by the officers of this Company to get the valuable gold in our claims out of them and into the pockets of the stockholders at the earliest posible moment.

About December 1, at which time this stock advances to 25 cents a share, it is expected that two shifts of miners will be put to work—a night and day force. This should enable us still quicker to yield returns to those who have had the good judgment to get an interest in this wonderful gold mining enterprise.

FEATURES OF OUR COMPANY

We are now offering a small allotment of treasury stock to pay for development work at the low price of 10 cents a share, par value $1. Kindly bear in mind a few of the following facts while weighing the advisability of joining us in this enterprise.

Our property is not a prospect, but a legitimate GOLD MINE.

We know there is GOLD in our claims.

The men behind this company are the men who have helped make Manhattan famous as a gold-producing district. They are mining men in every sense of the word—men who have made a success of the business for years—who are getting rich from mining, and who are now giving you the opportunity for once of getting rich with them. It is up to you to take advantage of this offer. They can present the opportunity to you, but they cannot make you invest. You must have the good judgment to discern and grasp an opportunity to make money when it is presented to you.

Compare Manhattan with any camp you have ever heard of or ever have seen, twice the size of Manhattan; count the shipping mines; look at the price of stocks in the district; think of the age of the camp with her population of almost 5000, and the rest we leave to you and your knowledge of mining.

The ore is free-milling. It can be treated by stamp mill and cyanide at minimum cost. This means that the mines can be developed into producers by the expenditure of a few thousand dolars. DIVIDENDS SHOULD QUICKLY FOLLOW.

We own our eight claims free and clear. They were deeded to us directly from the original locator and paid for in full by us. Development work has already been commenced and will be pushed until the five Indian Chief claims, which are to be opened up first, are on a DIVIDEND-PAYING BASIS. Afterward, the Butterfly mine, which contains quartz ledges that are almost as rich in gold as the Indian Chief claims, will be put on a money-earning basis.

Just as soon as the development work warrants it, this stock will be listed on the Goldfield Mining Exchange for the further protection of the stockholders.

We may be over-enthusiastic on the subject of this wonderful mining enterprise, when we say that we believe this stock wil be selling on the open market for as high as $2 and $3 a share or perhaps more within six or eight months, but we do not believe we are. Every indication certainly points to a big advance in the price of this stock in the near future.

RARE PAPYRI RICH IN LORE.

Two Graeco-Roman Explorers Make Find.

Scriptural Scrolls Dug From Oxyrhynchus.

Classic Vellum Fragments of Great Worth.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A cable dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

It now is possible to give further details of the remarkable find of papyri as a result of the efforts of Drs. Grenfell and Hunt of the Greco-Roman branch of the Egypt exploration fund at Oxyrhynchus. The find consists of no fewer than 130 boxes of papyri, ranging in date from the second century, B.C., to the sixth century, A.D. They comprise all classes of literature, many fragments of lost, or even unknown classical works, and some most important fragments unknown to Christian literature.

The most important find is a fragment of vellum containing 450 lines of gospel, which has a variation from the authorized version. The subject is the visit of Jesus and his disciples to the temple of Jerusalem, and their meeting there with the Pharisee, who rebukes them with their failure to perform the necessary ceremonial of purification. In the dialogue which follows, which resembles in some respects Matthew xxiii, 25, the Pharisee describes with considerable fullness and detail the formalities he has observed, whereupon Jesus delivers an eloquent, crushing reply, contrasting outward with inward purity.

With regard to the literary value of the fragment, the discoverer makes some remarks. He says:

"Among the most remarkable features of the fragment is its cultivated style, picturesqueness, vigor of phraseology, which includes several words not found in the New Testament, and its display of curious familiarity with the topography of the temples and the Jewish ceremonies of purification.

"There can be little doubt when the fragment is published, as it shortly will be, that there will be as much controversy among theologians as was provided by the discovery of the 'The Sayings of Jesus,' in another mound.'

"Other Christian fragments of considerable value were found, including a vellum leaf of the fourth or fifth century of the lost Greek original of the acts of St. Peter, which are known only in Latin, and a leaf of papyrus of an unknown version of the acts of St. John.

"The finds in the sections of classical literature are most important. The first is a papyrus containing no fewer than thirteen columns of over sixty lines of paeans of Pindar in good preservation, and portions of several volumes. Next in importance is a roll containing about 100 lines of the tragedy of 'Hippolytus' of Euripides and many fragments of Plato, the speech of Demosthenes against Bostus and some of the manuscript fragments of one of the poems of Sappho.

"Mention also should be made of an unknown history of Greece, which differs in many respects from that of Xenophone."

It will take a long time to unroll,

DR. W. H. GRENFELL, the explorer, who, with Dr. Hunt, has made a wonderful discovery of papyri.

join and examine this important find, all of which has been removed to England, but the explorers are to be congratulated on their brilliant harvest of literature.

POLES EXCITED OVER RELIGION.

DEATH OF ARCHBISHOP OF POSEN BRINGS CRISIS.

Outbreak of Nationalist Passion at Russian Semi-Annual Statement That Stablewski's Successor Will Not Be a Pole—Prelate's Body Lies in Cathedral of the Kings.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

POSEN (Prussia) Nov. 29.—All last night the body of Mgr. Stablewski, Archbishop of Posen, who died November 24, lay in state in the cathedral here, the ancient burial place of the Polish kings, and throughout the night a procession of people passed through the building.

The funeral of the archbishop is being made the occasion for a demonstration on the part of the Polish Nationalists, and an outbreak of Nationalist passion has occurred over the Russian semi-annual statement that Mgr. Stablewski's successor will not be a Pole.

The Poles are intensely excited over the expectation that the Prussian government will veto the nomination of any prelate except a German.

A letter written by the late Archbishop to President Witting of the National Bank of Berlin, formerly Mayor of Posen, was published today. In it, the Archbishop, asking for Herr Witting's advice, said that for the past fifteen years he had called attention to the serious consequences of systematicall embittering the population on their tenderest religious feeling. No agitation, he said, would be able to incite the children. If a feeling of bitterness did not exist among the parents, the children's movement against religious instruction in the German language would not last an hour. The mothers, the Archbishop said, point to the children of the Cabinet ministers, and even of the Emperor, who learn religion in their mother tongue, although they are able to speak English and French.

The Archbishop's letter concluded with saying that if the government was not willing to reintroduce religious instruction in the mother tongue, such instruction ought to be left in the Polish schools to the church.

A Wonderful Jump.

In County Sligo, Ireland, among the hills, there is a small lake renowned in that region for its fabulous depth. A professor happened to be in that part of Ireland last summer, and started out one day for a ramble among the mountains, accompanied by a native guide.

As they climbed, Pat asked him if he would like to see this lake, "for it has no bottom at all, sorr."

"But how do you know that, Pat?" asked the professor.

"Well, sorr, I'll tell ye; me own cousin was showing the pond to a gentleman one day, sorr, who looked incredulous like just as you do, and me cousin couldn't understand it for him to doubt his worrd, sorr, and so he said, 'Begorra, I'll prove the truth of me words,' and off with his clothes and in he jumped."

"Yes, sorr, in he jumjed, and didn't come up again at all, at all."

"But," said the professor, "I don't see that your cousin proved his point by recklessly drowning himself."

"Sure, sorr, it wasn't drowned at all he was. The next day comes a cable from him in Australia, askin' us to send on his clothes."—[Tit-Bits.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Simple Way to Overcome the Dangers of this Disagreeable Disease.

Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and lungs, with many annoying symtoms. In this climate there are few who do not suffer from this disagreeable disease, often in a chronic and dangerous state.

Fortunately, within the last few years, a simple and reliable treatment for catarrhal troubles has been found—Hyomei, a combination of healing and germ-killing balsams, that, when breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, reaches the tiniest cells in the respiratory organs, carrying its healing and health-giving properties to every part where the catarrhal poison is present.

Used in this way, Hyomei kills all catarrhal germs, drives the poison from the system and heals all irritation that may be present in the mucous membrane.

If you have the ordinary catarrhal symptoms, such as offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, cough, raising of mucous, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomei at once.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want any one's money unless Hyomei gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. The R. T. CROWD KEEPS BOOKS BUSY.

Mob Struggles to Gamble at Ascot Park.

Ordinary Card Witnessed by Seven Thousand.

Muddy Track, Slow Events, Sports Ahead.

Over 7000 people braved the chilliness of a cold afternoon and attended the opening of the winter race meet at Ascot Park yesterday. The card was an ordinary one. The grand stand was full, almost every seat being occupied, while underneath in the betting ring a mob of 1000 men struggled and crowded and fought their way to the betting booths in the effort to place their money on the horses they liked. It was as bad as any football rush.

Sixteen bookmakers cut in and in addition there were two field books and a combination book, and these nineteen penciliers were kept busy all afternoon taking in bets and cashing them. There is little doubt but that the sports had the best of the day, for they rapped the books hard on almost every race. The track was heavy from the morning's rain.

Two strongly-played favorites won in Panfoufle in the first and Carsman in the fourth, while there was much money cashed on El Casador and Judge Denton. Old Bull Curtis furnished the sensation by winning the second race at odds of 30 to 1. Jockey Harris was the feature of the riding, for he was second four times, first once and third once in six times up.

Results:

Futurity course: Pantoufle, 114 (Booker,) 4 to 5, won; Toupee, 104 (Harris,) 12 to 1, second; Don Domo, 104 (Preston,) 7 to 2, third; time 1:11⅘. Willie Gregg, Elizabeth F. Perry Wicks, Veritas, Vincit, Prominence and Tazer also ran. Waterbury and Lillie B. scratched.

Mile and seventy yards: Bill Curtis, 104 (Carroll,) 30 to 1, won; J. F. Donahue, 102 (Harris,) 2 to 1, second; Pacifico, 104 (Pelandi,) 5 to 1, third; time 1:49⅘. Reservation, Oration and I Told You also ran. Rubinon was scratched.

Five and a half furlongs: El Casador, 105 (Fischer,) 3 to 1, won; Nappa, 105 (Harris,) even, second; Budapest, 102 (Preston,) 4 to 1, third; time 1:09⅘. Mishors, Pepper and Salt, Kamsack and Fire Away also ran. Kliter was scratched.

Mile and a sixteenth: Carsman, 109 (Harris,) 7 to 2, won; Arimo, 100 (Ross,) 12 to 1, second; Gorgalette, 102 (Kehoe,) 7 to 1, third; time 1:49⅘. W. H. Carey, Azora, Supreme Court, Stilicho, El Otros, Arilene and Ed Ball also ran. I Told You scratched.

Six furlongs: Judge Denton, 113 (Booker,) 4 to 1, won; Sir Caruthers, 105 (Harris,) 5 to 1, second; Col. Jewell, 105 (Koerner,) 20 to 1, third; time 1:17. Effie King, Dod Anderson, Parvo, Jean Handion, Prince Magnet, Komombo, Lady King and Rossini also ran. Dan Collins left at the post.

Five and a half furlongs: Kirkfield Belle, 105 (Kent,) 6 to 1, won; Blue Bottle, 95 (Preston,) 2 to 1, second; Pinkin, 101 (Harris,) 8 to 5, third; time 1:10. Miss Martha, Lizzie Fitzgibbon, Maxim Gorky, Miss Fidgity and Chico also ran. Elndale scratched.

Benzenah Beats O'Leary.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 29.—Andy Bezenah of Cincinnati was given the decision over Jack O'Leary of Milwaukee, after a ten-round bout before the Badger Athletic Club, this evening. The Cincinnati boxer was the aggressor throughout. Only in two rounds, the second and eighth, did O'Leary make a favorable showing. Bazenah landed two blows to O'Leary's one and got the better of several hot mix-ups.

"WEAKNESS"

Affections of men commonly described as "Weakness," according to my observations, are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbances, and are almost invariably induced or maintained by appreciable damage to the reproductive system from either a contracted disorder or too long or too often repeated excitement, and, as these may not be perceived by the patient, are very frequently overlooked by the physician.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS

From statistics compiled from my practice, covering over 8500 cases, 90 per cent. have recovered in seven days or less, many of these cases being those who had been treated by others for much longer periods without any apparent decrease of the disorder.

Special attention given to "Weakness," Varicocele, Contagious Blood Diseases and Acute and Chronic Urethral and Prostatic Inflammations. Consultation free, and no charge whatever for treatment of any case in which cure is not effected. HOURS—9 to 4, 7 to 8. Sundays, 9 to 12.

Ida M. Tarbell

Begins a New Historical Serial in the December Number of The American Magazine

In the pages of Ida M. Tarbell's newest and greatest serial, "The Tariff in Our Times," the great men of the last fifty years live again. You see them striving to serve the nation; actuated mainly by patriotic, sometimes by petty motives.

You watch them—Morrill, Chase, Stevens, Sherman, Fessenden—struggling to swell an annual revenue of sixty-four millions to meet a war expenditure of a million a day. As you read how the same circumstances make some men martyrs and others cormorants, the paradox of human nature, its glory and shame fascinates you.

Backing up to the Civil War, the perspective of present-day questions takes outline; how special interests grew up and flourished on the nation's necessity, how the evils of this decade had their origin and why the end is not yet, gradually becomes clearer.

Miss Tarbell's "History of the Standard Oil Company" was a masterly piece of work—a story of a corporation regardlessly seeking its own private interest. "The Tariff in Our Times" is bigger every way. It is a picture of great men seeking great public ends, constantly thwarted by petty men seeking their own private ends.

It's a political history that will make history. It begins in

¶ The sales of the October and November Numbers show how merit will make a magazine go. The December Number will be the brightest on the newsstand. Read Mr. Dooley on "The Christmas Spirit." We won't enumerate more. You are sure to want the magazine which is issued under the editorship of John S. Phillips in association with the following editors and writers: Ida M. Tarbell, F. P. Dunne (author of Mr. Dooley), William Allen White, Lincoln Steffens, Ray Stannard Baker.

THE Times Magazine

Out Today The Times Magazine—a periodical that is going to make its mark—is out today. It is the youngest of magazines, but it starts full grown and full size. It is a big, bright and attractive monthly—well written and full of pictures—and interesting from beginning to end. THE TIMES MAGAZINE is a magazine for both men and women. Every number will cover a wide diversity of subjects, ranging from fiction to science, and whether you prefer facts or fiction, you will find the best of each in this magazine.

Among the contributors are Brand Whitlock—the Reform Mayor of Toledo—who writes on "The Discovery of Democracy;" Upton Sinclair, who contributes an article on his co-operative home colony; and Jack London, who has written a characteristic short story for this number.

The Best Story of the Year

You should not miss the great serial by Basil King, entitled "THE GIANT'S STRENGTH"—which begins in this number. It is a dramatic story of modern American life, in which the richest man in the United States is the central figure. It is a splendid study of the psychology of ruthless money-getting. Interwoven with this stirring tale of Brains and Dollars is a charming love story. The serial rights to this novel were obtained by The Times Magazine in competition with five large publishing houses.

What is Tammany?

Alfred Henry Lewis—who knows Tammany Hall and its ways from top to bottom—has written an article describing its personnel and its methods. He relates its sinister history from the days of Tweed and Kelly down to the present. He shows how this vast polltical machine has been built up by a succession of "bosses" until there are rings within rings, all welded into an organization so unscrupulous and powerful that it would take a veritable Hercules of politics to put it out of business.

Times and Manners

Under this title there will be published in every number an editorial review. These pages will be filled with crisp and terse editorials and comments—mostly in paragraphs. Fundamental democracy will be the dominating idea behind this monthly expression of opinion—the democracy of the individual, not of the party.

American Morals

Professor Franklin H. Giddings of Columbia University contributes the first of a series of articles to be published under the title, "Natural History of American Morals." He undertakes to show how the intense economic life of America has effected the character of the people. Are we becoming a nation of speculators, gamblers and grafters? Are our attempts to lead a better life largely expressed in hysteria and lynchings? These are questions he pertinently asks—and answers.

Jack London

In this number there is an Alaskan story by Jack London, who writes of primitive men of primitive instincts, face to face with nature.

Ellen Terry

"Some Christmas Memories" is the title of an article by Ellen Terry, the great English actress. This sketch of an English Christmas of Miss Terry's childhood will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of those who look back with fond remembrance to the old-fashioned Christmas of a generation ago.

Broughton Brandenburg

There is a clever story of the Chinese quarter by Broughton Brandenburg, who shows how ironclad Mongolian tradition, running plumb against the stone wall of Facts, butts down the wall and goes on.

The End of the Cuban Fiasco

If grim war holds any horrors for you, that alone should not keep you from reading this article by Grant Wallace, the special correspondent of The Times magazine in Cuba. There is more laughter than tears in this story of the insurgents as told by one who saw them in their camps. The article is profusely illustrated by reproductions of photographs taken by Mr. Wallace in the field.

Rambles in Europe.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Healy will deliver a free lecture this evening in University Methodist Church, entitled "Rambles in Europe." Dr. Healy will take this opportunity of telling his friends all about his last summer's four months' vacation trip, and he is one of the best descriptive talkers in Los Angeles.

Tried to Chop Door.

Robert Burns was arreseld at the home of James Lavine, No. 2106 Santee street, last night on the charge of drunkenness. The officers say that Burns was attempting to chop a door down at the Lavine house, and that they had to force him to desist. Burns will be held in the Central Police Station, and a complaint filed against him.

Crawford's Hot and Cold.

Capt. George W. Crawford, a noted mining engineer of New York, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and is a guest at the Angelus. Capt. Crawford stopped over en route here at Death Valley, and says that there is two feet of snow there. The last time he stopped there was in August of this year, when the thermometer registered 147 degrees at midday.

Afraid of a Whipping.

Frank Abbot attempted to have "Kid" Williams arrested last night, charging him with accepting $10 from a third party to whip Abbot. An officer took the men to the Central Police Station, but the officers refused to detain Williams. A prominent doctor, who is said to have been a witness, told the police that Abbot was in no danger of being attacked.

Three Girls Missing.

Three girls wandered about Los Angeles last night thinly clad and hunted by the entire police force. The trio escaped from the Whittier State School late in the afternoon. Their absence was not noticed for several hours. Despite the effort of the department, they were unable to locate the girls. One girl is a negress, another a Mexican and the third a white girl.

BREVITIES.

J. W. Frey has moved his stock of mantels, grates, tiles and andirons to his warerooms, cor. Los Angeles and Twelfth streets, where can be seen the largest assortment of black and brass fireplace trimmings to be found in the United States. Lowest prices.

FINDS MYSTIC TONGUE.

Dr. Von Lecoq Discovers Valuable Archeological Treasures in Central Asia Lands.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOMBAY, Nov. 29.—Dr. Von Lecoq, who has been traveling in the most remote parts of Central Asia on a scientific mission with which he was charged by the Prussian government, has arrived at Zringar, capital of Kashmir, with an important collection of archeological discoveries.

These collections include several highly interesting paintings upon stucco, with gold-leaf backgrounds, like imitation work, and a number of inscriptions in ten different languages, one in a wholly unknown tongue. This probably is the greatest archeological find since the days of Sir Henry Rawlings and Sir Austen Layard.

HEROIC TREATMENT FAILS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Dr. P. J. Barry last night performed a quick operation upon the throat of George Becker, 35 years old, with a penknife in an effort to save the man's life. Becker was a bartender. For eight months he had been suffering from a tumor in the throat, being unable to speak above a whisper. Last night in an insensible condition he was carried to Dr. Barry's office. He had stopped breathing. With no other instrument than a penknife at hand the physician made an incision in Becker's throat and inserted a tube. He started artificial respiration, but after a few minutes the tube became clogged and Becker died.

CRUSOE'S ISLAND INTACT.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 29.—Eugene Motz, the Chilean Consul, received an official notice from his government, last night, to the effect that the report circulated last August, at the time of the disastrous earthquake, saying that Juan Fernandez Island had sunk into the ocean, was untrue. The document said that the report of the disappearance of the island was at first credited everywhere, and no efforts were made to verify it. A short time ago, however, warships were sent out by the Chilean government, and the island and its inhabitants were found uninjured.

Turkey and Pie Surprise in Foreign Colony.

Bethlehem Institute Gives a Great Big "Feed."

Volunteers Fill Up Hungry "Kids" to Limit.

Half a thousand of the friendless poor among the Molokane, Mexican and Japanese residents of Los Angeles had a feast of good things yesterday at Bethlehem Institutional Church. There was enough for all. Turkey browned to a turn, with rich cranberry sauce, and all the sweetmeats that go to make a first-class Thanksgiving dinner were served.

Long tables laden with dainties were a most attractive sight to the peones, many of whom had never before tasted a real Thanksgiving meal. Hours before the dinner they haunted the vicinity of the church and watched the preparations. Eager-eyed they wondered if the birds would hold out, and if there would be enough of the mince pies and sweetmeats to go around.

Scores of the Molokane, who spent last Thanksgiving at home, were given the time of their lives. Little Russian girls had a taste of American cheer for the first time, and were loth to leave the tables even when dinner was over. There was an abundance and the groaning board was a goodly sight.

MEN HAD TO WAIT.

Women were given the preference and with the children they sat first. The task of keeping the men in line was not easy, as there was a tendency to take things by storm. There was no lawlessness, however, and the hungriest mortal was able to check his desire to rush at once to a seat at the white tableclothed inviting dinner.

Ladies of the churches in this city and in Pasadena, under the direction of Rev. Dana Bartlett, served at the tables. Up and down the lines of hungry women and children the sweet-faced matrons went pressing each to enjoy the bounteous fare.

Then came the men, big strong fellows, who would have cackled a salt horse. With appetites that were appalling they attacked the browned turkey and soon picked the bones clean. From some wondrous source a never-ending supply poured into the banquet chamber and it would have been possible to have fed many more.

ALL MADE WELCOME.

There were pathetic sights. Mothers with little children who had never before seen so many good things to eat were wistful in their thankfulness. Aged men, who had lived for months on scanty fare, tottered to the board and were made welcome.

None were turned empty away and it was not necessary to give credentials of good character or standing in the community in order to get a piece of turkey.

Liberality marked the conduct of all and a royal greeting from the givers of the feast was offered to the guests who ate and ate and then ate some more.

VOLUNTEERS' FEAST.

At the Volunteers of America Hall on East First street, the "newsies" had the time of their lives. This feast began early and lasted until 4 o'clock, when the final batch of the 400 youngsters were filled. In batches of eighty each, they sat to dinner and many a lad has a tummy ache from the sweetmeats with which he stuffed himself.

Adjutant and Mrs. Hughes had charge of the dinner. No effort was spared to make the affair all it was promised. To the turkey and sweetmeats were added creamed sweet corn and plum pudding, all steaming hot. The spread was most enticing to the "kids," who were gathered from the streets to enjoy themselves.

"Can I take anythin' I like?" asked a wistful little chap, scarcely 7 years old.

He was told to help himself to anything on the table.

"Then I'll take some pie first, and some nuts and candy," he said.

A sweet, motherly woman told the little fellow he could have the sweetmeats after he had eaten his turkey, and to reassure him she stuffed his pockets with nuts and candy. These he munched as he devoured the substantials.

HAPPY YOUNGSTERS.

One of the prettiest pictures was the row of eager faces seated at the well-loaded tables during the first hour of the dinner. The youngsters were held before the spread until a blessing was said, and not a few kept his eyes wide open for fear of losing sight of the glorious feed.

Each boy proved himself a hero. In spite of temptation to "grab," the little fellows were orderly and well behaved. Their efforts to appear at ease were ludicrous, and when they were finally allowed to have their own sweet will and were given the run of the big room, where games were played, their joy had no bounds.

Everything was given by the Los Angeles public for this first-class dinner. The women you have seen seated patiently on the street corners for the past few weeks were gathering pennies and dimes for the feast. They made a success of the affair and will repeat it again on Christmas Day.

Out of Tune

It's not every one who can pick out for himself the fabric and the coloring that will be in tune with his make-up as a man.

That requires study—that requires the remarkable intuition that a good tailor possesses which enables him to look at a Suiting and in his mind's eye form a picture of yourself in that Suiting.

This tailor's intuition is what enables our expert salesmen to aid you in picking out just the fabric and just the pattern and just the hue that will best become you.

If you are a tall man a Brauer-Krohn Cut-a-Way Frock style for 1906-7 would probably suit you best. There is something "different" about it.

An Ideal Present for a MAN
PAUL DE KOCK

Major Pendennis's remark that he had read nothing of the novel kind for thirty years except Paul de Kock, "who certainly made him laugh," is likely to remain one of the most durable of his testimonials. And Bulwer wrote of De Kock as being "more racy and powerful than any other writer I am aware of." He was one of the most fertile and most charming of contemporary novelists, one of tacse, whose fame will never die.

"De Kock kept France laughing for more than fifty years."—The New York Herald.

"Lively and amusing sketches of life."—Professor George Saintsbury.

"The pen pictures that he drew around his characters, from first chapter to last, simply were delicious."—The North American, Philadelphia.

"No one of his contemporaries was as well known. The names of Balzac, George Sand, and even the elder Dumas, seemed obscure beside his."—The Bookman.

The masterpieces of the writings of Charles-Paul de Kock are now for the first time completely translated into English and printed only for distribution among bona fide subscribers. They will be printed solely for such private distribution, and no copies will be procurable through the ordinary trade channels or otherwise as above indicated.

LIFE SAVER BOTH TIMES.

Private Burdette Rescues a War Lieutenant.

And Now Rev. Dr. Burdette Helps Him Again.

Climax to Battle Charge Is Wedding Here.

"I'm glad I saved him for you," said Dr. Burdette yesterday to Mrs. Clara M. Jackson, as a party of happy people stood in a prettily-decorated bay window at No. 706 West First street.

"And, sir," continued Dr. Burdette, turning to Lieut. Christopher C. Gilbert, whose life he had saved forty-taree years ago, during the famous assault which Gen. Grant made upon Vicksburg, "I hope you will never be sorry I pulled you out of the deadly rain. I was under your command then; now, after these long years, you are under my command, and I am about to marry you."

The lieutenant saluted. "March on," said he.

The marriage of Christopher C. Gilbert, aged 66, a native of Indiana and a resident of Long Beach, and Clara M. Jackson, aged 48, a native of New York and a resident of Los Angeles, is a charming sequel to the story of a thrilling episode in the lives of a lieutenant and a private of the same company years ago.

"I was then a second lieutenant," said Gilbert, speaking of the war at the conclusion of the marriage ceremony. "I had been wounded at Corinth, Miss., on October 3, 1862, and received my commission for service in that battle. I was second lieutenant of Co. C, Forty-seventh Illinois Volunteers, and a younger brother of mine was serving in the same regiment. Before I was really able, on my brother's acount, whom I was fathering, I left the hospital and returned to the front.

WHEN HE TREMBLED.

"We were before Vicksburg when the order for the famous assault came. My captain was sick, and the first lieutenant had a gathering on his foot which made it impossible for him to take command. The order was placed in my hand to be read."

"Yes, and I think your hand shook a little as you read it, even as you trembled a few minutes ago when you said 'Yes' to my serious question," interposed Dr. Burdette. "But you read it in a firm voice and then bravely took the lead."

"A passage way had been cut the night before between the Walnut Hills to facilitate the charge," continued Lieut. Gilbert. "Co. C was the third company to rush through the cut, and I remember that when we reached there the ground was covered with the bodies of men, and that bayonets bristled up from those who had fallen.

"As I neared the middle of the field a cannister shot caught me downward across the breast and tore most of the flesh from my left hip. As I fell the sturdy arms of a small, boyish private gathered me under the shoulder, and I was borne onward through the deadly cross-fire and down the hillside to a point of safety. Today that private has saved my life again."

JOKES AT HEROISM.

"You weighed a ton," said Dr. Burdette, "but I remember that I was glad that most of you was above me to keep off the rain."

Lieut. Gilbert recovered from that terrible gunshot wound, but he jokingly says that since then his cane has been his best friend until he met Mrs. Jackson, "and," he added, turning to a Times reporter, "you have heard of the lieutenant and the private, let me tell you that the lieutenant is getting a jewel as well as a Jackson."

After the ceremony, which took place at 1:30 o'clock, Lieut. and Mrs. Gilbert were toasted at a dainty wedding luncheon, and then left for Redlands, where they will spend a short honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holmes stood up with the bride and groom.

WAR DAYS ARE OVER.

Maj. and Mrs. Wilcox Will Make Their Home in Los Angeles—Thrilling Experiences.

Maj. E. F. Wilcox, U.S.A. (retired,) who has seen some of the most active service in the Philippines, has decided to make Los Angeles his permanent home and is now established at No. 1427 West Twenty-seventh street.

The major has recently returned from the Philippines and is accompanied by Mrs. Wilcox. The experiences of both Maj. and Mrs. Wilcox in the recent uprising of the Moros in the islands have been thrilling.

It was during the famous attack on the Moros, during which 700 of the Filipinos were killed, that Mrs. Wilcox had her most thrilling experience. In company with the wives of the officers who were fighting at the front, only a few miles away, they spent the day in momentary readiness for an attack.

Mrs. Wilcox was one of the bravest of the brave and when the alarm came that their stronghold was to be attacked she was one of the first to buckle on the revolver left her by her husband, and with the other women go to a place of safety, leading the children by the hand.

The fact that the American forces triumphed over the entrenched Moros brought about a speedy pacification of the surrounding district.

Maj. and Mrs. Wilcox say they are delighted with Los Angeles. They were guests at the Westminster, but have now moved into their new home.

EXCITEMENT OVER DRIVER.

County Hospital Neighborhood Stirred Up, But Jeff Tibbitts Has Another Job There.

After driving the "crazy wagon" for eighteen years, Jeff Tibbitts has been given another job at the County Hospital.

The rumor that he had been discharged, based on his disappearance from the wagon which transports the insane to and from the hospital, raised excitement in that neighborhood. Committees were formed to urge his reinstatement. Jeff has been very kind to the children, spending about half his meager salary in charity.

Dr. Bernard Tanner, assistant superintendent of the hospital, states, however, that Jeff has only been taken from the wagon and given work about the hospital stables; failing eyesight is the cause of the transfer.

Jeff is a big, good-hearted negro. He used to be a horse trainer, and was taken to the hospital over eighteen years ago with a broken leg; he has been there since.

[Photographed yesterday by Marceau.]

DR. WALTER LINDLEY.

MANY things have been said about Dr. Walter Lindley—of his love for boys, his public-spiritedness, his interest in his fellowman, his business capacity and his professional successes—but it remained for Thanksgiving Day to bring out another delightful phase of his character—his life as a family man.

If the doctor were not a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the city, his home would not have been invaded yesterday by a reporter who sought to learn how he spent the day.

It was a quiet but an extremely pleasant holiday for the candidate, who for the time laid aside all the affairs of the campaign to enjoy himself with the members of his large family at his beautiful home on Figueroa street.

It was an especially delightful day for his two youngest children, Dorothy, 12, and Francis, 8, for it afforded them an opportunity to have a few hours of playtime with him after several weeks of denial they had been forced to endure while he was deep in the energies of politics.

It was a happy day, too, for his mother, Mrs. Milton Lindley, 76 years old; not to mention his wife and his grown children and other members of the family.

An interesting feature of the reunion was the fact that four generations were represented, for among the big company were three little grandsons of the doctor, in whom their great-grandmother took the liveliest concern.

Gathered about the table with Dr. Lindley, his wife and two children, were his mother, who is in the best of health; his two grown daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kitchin, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Bothwell; his three grandsons, Henry and Walter Kitchin and Lindley Fowler Bothwell; his sister, Miss Ida D. Lindley, principal at the Marlborough Preparatory School; his brother, Albert Lindley, of Sacramento; Miss Julia B. Monette, a guest; Miss Mary E. Haynes, sister of Mrs. Lindley, and her brothers, Dr. Robert Haynes and Dr. John R. Haynes, both accompanied by their wives and the young son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Haynes.

The company was a merry one, and the merriest of all was the host, whose loyable nature was displayed at its best in the midst of this large company of those who are dearer to him than any political office or other public honor.

Dr. Lindley remained at his home for the greater part of the day and took part in no public meetings.

TEN TONS OF TURK EATEN IN HOTELS.

ALMOST 20,000 pounds of turkey must was served to hungry guests by the several big downtown hotels yesterday. This enormous mass of Thanksgiving food would have been even greater had not the accommodations at the hotels been overtaxed.

Guests stood in line before the more prominent grill rooms and cafés from 6 until 9 o'clock waiting their "turn" to secure tables. Reservations of tables for parties were made as long ago as one week. The hotels had combined their grills and their dining-rooms and still the crowds of hungry people with the necessary cash for a bountiful dinner overtaxed the resources.

In the opinion of the hotel men Thanksgiving of this year surpassed that of any other year by a great margin. The generous prosperity which has existed in the city for the last year is in a way responsible. The more stylish eating places were eagerly sought for. Extra waiters were engaged by every hotel downtown. In some of the larger ones over one hundred extra tables were arranged. Still there was not enough room.

At the Alexandria the Indian Grill overflowed before 6 o'clock. Then the big dining-room on the Fifth-street side was thrown open and this was quickly filled. The private dining-rooms on the second floors were all reserved a week ago, and in the banquet hall on the same floor twenty tables were arranged. These were all filled before theater time. Over 250 plump turkeys were roasted, and all disappeared before the appetites of the Angelenos. This amount does not include the 200 pounds of turkey which was reserved for a special Thanksgiving spread for the employés of the hotel.

At the Angelus the conditions were duplicated. The foyer to the grill-room was filled by those waiting their turn at the tables. The dining-rooms upstairs was also filled, and many were turned away. Here the employés were also given a royal banquet.

The Van Nuys dining-room resembled a great banquet hall from 6 o'clock until 10. Reservations had been made days in advance. In "Helps' Hall," where the employés eat, there was a toothsome spread of a hundred or more pounds of turkey. It was turkey everywhere. Turkey for the guest and for the employé. Cranberry sauce and the time-honored pumpkin pie fought hard for second honors. Celery and other "trimmings" struggled for a position of honor on the menu.

The Hayward was a duplicate of the others. Its grill room was as popular as the ticket office for the first night of grand opera. The Lankershim had

FALLS AND BREAKS LEG.

Man Alighting from Eagle Rock Car Fractures Bone and Crawls for Help.

Alighting from a swiftly-moving outbound Eagle Rock trolley car four miles from Los Angeles last night about 10 o'clock, Fred Douillard stepped on a pebble and fell, sustaining a broken leg. Although unable to walk, the injured man crawled to the home of James Campbell and was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Douillard is a butcher and resides at the "Three-Mile House" on San Fernando road. He was returning from the city and when he found that the car was carrying him past his station he signaled to the motorman, but did not wait until the car had been brought to a standstill.

Evidently the car men did not see him fall, for they left him lying in the roadbed. Finding his left leg broken, Douillard made his way to the nearest house. Campbell was suffering from a wounded hand, but assisted Douillard into a wagon, hitched up a team and brought him to Los Angeles.

MYSTERIOUS SHOT.

A weeping woman, a man trying to console her and a man attempting to escape from the police after firing a shot from a revolver formed a trio in a drama last night for which the police are unable to furnish the lines.

Henry Hort is held in the City Jail on suspicion of having fired a shot at the woman near Fourth street on Central avenue about 9 o'clock. The two other characters disappeared.

Startled by a shot from a pistol ringing out on the still night air, and dashing to the scene, the officers saw Hort disappearing down Central avenue. After being told that Hort had fired the shot the officers ran after him

TURKEY SHOT FROM MOUTH.

AND DENVER RED THANKLESS ON THANKSGIVING.

Wandering 'Bo Makes Highest Score for Bird in Gallery, and Then a Swaying Citizen Who Seems Unable to Miss Target, However He Aims, Beats Him.

This is the sad but true story of the moocher who was not thankful.

Children, let us take warning from the sad example of Mister Denver Red, who was wafted into Los Angeles yesterday from parts unknown.

Red arrived from somewhere on the Owl yesterday morning; it would really be more accurate to say that he arrived UNDER the Owl. Before night he was telling his troubles to everyone who would listen on the "bo" corner at First and Los Angeles street.

With Red was another "bo" hunting a warm and equable climate. Both were stirred out of their ennui by the pleasant prospect of the opening of the racing-gambling season at Ascot.

Before they had been in town an hour—really before they left the railroad yards—they both made a happy "touch." Red saw the Easy One first and got a dime. The other "bo" rushed around the block and met him at First and Alameda and also got a dime.

As there was plenty of time, they made the long mooch to Ascot and ducked inside somehow or other and watched the races. They expected to make another touch out of the race crowd, but it turned cold and dismal and everyone got grumpy. In the end, the two 'bos were lucky to get a stolen ride back to town on one of the jammed street cars.

Result: They landed hungry and cold back on the old 'bo corner, after the town was lit, with a solitary measly dime each.

The moral of this story really comes in the middle. Red's pal was thankful from his heart. He took his little old shiny dime to the negro fish cart and contracted for 10 cents' worth of fried fish flesh.

Red must needs try frenzied finance. At a little tenderloin shooting gallery he saw a big sign which seemed to call him in out of the dark. It advertised a tur ey to be given away for the best shooting score. Some of the high scores were posted; they were made by good shots; they looked easy to Red.

In Red's world it is not etiquette to inquire where people learned to do things; but, anyhow, Red took up the rifle with a handy air. Would he dine from the negro fish wagon? He would

BUILDINGS GO MANY MILES.

Those Reared in Los Angeles This Year Would Reach to Santa Ana.

A remarkable record of city building is shown by the books of the Chief Inspector of the Bureau of Buildings, J. J. Backus. He is making his computations for the annual report, and the summary of figures made yesterday is a striking one.

So far this year there have been more than 8000 building permits issued.

The actual frontage of the buildings for which permits have been issued—not the lot frontage, but the frontages of the structures themselves—amounts to more than thirty-five miles.

Enough new buildings have been reared in Los Angeles this year to reach, if set side by side, from Los Angeles to Santa Ana, or to Pomona, and then on to Ontario; or there have been enough new buildings to reach from this city to San Pedro, and still have a line long enough to stretch out half way to Santa Monica.

As there is a full month to go on before the close of the year, the city's building record will still be swelled to a considerable extent.

VAIL CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS.

LAND AND CATTLE OWNER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Steps Off Redondo Coach on Wrong Side and Grand-Avenue Car Runs Upon Him at Seventh Street—Ribs Broken and Severely Shocked, But Will Recover.

Walter L. Vail, the wealthy land and cattle owner of this city, was seriously hurt in a street-car accident late yesterday afternoon. His wife and son saw him caught between two cars and crushed before their eyes.

Two ribs and a collar bone were broken. Dr. J. De Barth Shorb says that Mr. Vail will recover in spite of the terrible injuries he has suffered.

In company with his wife and grown son, he was returning from Redondo on car No. 20 of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway. As the car stopped on Grand avenue just before turning to Seventh, Mr. Vail stepped off. He left the car at the front and on the wrong side, stepping directly toward the opposite track.

Just as he got to the ground car No. 461 of the Grand-avenue line rounded the curve south-bound. Vail was caught between the two cars and crushed in the chest.

He fell unconscious between the tracks. One of the bystanders spread his overcoat on the ground and Mr. Vail's unconscious form was laid upon it. A messenger was sent to the Good Samaritan Hospital on Seventh street, to Dr. Paul Bresee, to Dr. Lasher and Dr. Shorb.

There was a long wait for an ambulance while Mr. Vail lay there on the borrowed overcoat, nursed by his wife and son.

He was removed, when the ambulance arrived, to his home at No. 720 South Burlington avenue. Dr. Shorb stated late last night that although the patient is suffering from the severe shock and the broken bones, he believes there are no critical internal injuries and he will recover.

Mr. Vail is a man of about sixty years, which tends to make his injuries more grave.

He has large cattle interests in various parts of California and Arizona as senior member of the great ranch and cattle firm of Vail & Gates. This firm used to be the proprietor of Catalina. He is known and respected all over the Southwest for his bluff, sterling qualities.

SAVES DRUNKEN MAN.

Prompt Cool-Headed Act of Motorman Avoids Almost Sure Death on Street.

An intoxicated man attempted to cross Spring street, south of Mercantile Place, in the rear of a north-bound car at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As he stepped past the rear of the north-bound car he found himself on the track directly in front of south-bound University car No. 422 which was only a few feet away.

The man was too dazed to move. Motorman Bruce applied the air and reversed the motor so suddenly as to blow out a fuse.

That act of the motorman stopped the car almost instantly and threw passengers from their seats, but it saved the man standing in front. It saved him by not much over an inch.

Stronger and stronger grows the sentiment that Lindley is the man for all friends of prosperity to consolidate upon. Harper is fading; he has not the ghost of a show. Gates is still wobbling and is losing ground every day. The great, strong Lindley tide is rising and booming. Let us rally around Lindley, the beloved doctor the man of achievement, the man who has done so much for Los Angeles, the man we can elect—let us rally around

AT THE CITY HALL.

CITY'S HELPERS SLIPPING OFF.

SERIOUS PROBLEM TO SECURE SKILLED WORKERS.

Statement Made That Private Concerns Entice Employees Away from Engineer's Office With Larger Salaries, and Municipal Work for Months Ahead Piles Up Untouched.

The latest City Hall problem: How is the city going to retain the services of competent men in the City Engineer's office when they can secure much higher wages for the same work done for private parties?

It is really a serious question. The department is months behind with its work, simply through inability to get sufficient help to complete it.

It is stated that within the past year there have been forty city employés leave the department to secure places which offered higher rates of wages.

To qualified men the City Engineer's department pays $4, $5, $5.50 and $6 per day. But outsiders can afford to pay a higher rate, and they have taken some of the most valuable employés of the city.

Probably 400 pieces of work are piled up in the City Engineer's office. People who want their streets improved or sewers constructed have to await their turn, which means a delay of probably a year. There is no method at present whereby street work can be advanced.

Still the property owners are eager for improvements. They are willing to pay for them, and they have repeatedly asked that some change be made whereby the public work on these improvements may be hastened. The persons paying for street improvements have to stand the cost of wages to the city employés engaged to their work. These men are paid on a day schedule and the wages are charged up against the particular piece of work on which they are engaged.

The city's records show that during the past year there has been an expenditure of property owners of $534,839 for street improvements; but this is only one-third of the entire amount petitioned for or now under way. The statement was made in the City Engineer's office last week that while the city is receiving an average of five completed pieces of work per week, there piles up in that office an average of twenty pieces of work per week.

The City Council a week ago passed a resolution requesting the Board of Public works to confer with the City Engineer and adopt plans whereby the street improvement work could be cleared up. The Board of Public Works commissioners say they are powerless under existing conditions. A city ordinance provides just how much may be paid to employés of the City Engineer's office. This is not elastic. Outsiders pay more for the same grade of labor demanded in this office, and as a result it is extremely difficult to get desirable additions to the force, and even the men now engaged gradually slip away.

It is probable a proposition will be made to the Council that it make provision for this emergency, either through an ordinance increasing salaries for this department, or through a resolution allowing the employment of temporary help at a rate which will bring the desired assistance.

Contracts Awarded.

The construction of the sewer in Lucas avenue, from First to Arnold streets, will cost the property owners on that street $1161. The Board of Public Works has awarded the contract to C. Ukropina. The contract for the improvement of Allison avenue has been awarded to C. W. Shafer.

Mott-street Improvement.

M. L. Wicks has petitioned the City Council for permission to improve by private contract Mott street, between Stephenson avenue and Venice avenue.

Sample Ballots Sent Out.

Sample ballots for the municipal election have been sent out to the voters of all the wards of the city except those of the Eighth and Ninth wards. Ballots to these voters will be mailed today. This will complete the mailing of 55,000 sample ballots, and has required the labors of a small army of clerks for the past week.

Hearing on Street Vacations.

The Board of Public Works will hear petitioners and protestants at 2 o'clock this afternoon regarding the request of the Los Angeles Inter-Urban Railway Company that certain streets crossing its new Covina line be vacated at such crossings. The vacations desired are portions of Gillette, Safford, Kingston, Gardner, Plymouth Cambridge, Cornwell and St. Louis streets.

Storm Drain Bids.

The Board of Public Works will open bids for the construction of the Main-street storm drain on Monday at 11 o'clock. This drain is to extend from Third street to Sixth street, and will there connect with the storm drain recently completed and draining into the Los Angeles River. Work must be commenced within fifteen days and completed within sixty days after the contract is awarded.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF SOCIETY.

Members of the City Department to Incorporate and Handle Fund For Benefit of Sufferers.

An application will be made Monday to the Secretary of State for a charter for the "Los Angeles Firemen's Relief Association," a sick, accident and death benefit society to which all the members of the Los Angeles fire department will be eligible.

For several years past the Fire Commission has handled what has been known as the Firemen's Relief Fund. This was a consolidation of the various gifts to the firemen by persons who wished to recognize their services in cases of fire. By general consent the Fire Commission has placed all such sums in the relief fund, and has passed upon the merits of applications from firemen for assistance from the fund.

But a feeling has prevailed for a long period that this relief fund should be largely increased, and that firemen while in good health should make some provision for their assistance when sickness or accident overtakes them. The general insurance societies refuse all firemen risks, and they must look out for themselves while in this extra hazardous pursuit.

After many conferences the firemen have undertaken the formation of the association mentioned above. The details of the plan have been matured by a committee composed of Messrs. Tibbett, Fernandez, Bryden, Anderson, Powell and Moreno. They have had the assistance of the City Attorney in preparing their papers of incorporation and in consultation.

As soon as the organization is completed and the charter is secured, it is understood the Fire Commission will turn over to the new association the money on hand in the Firemen's Relief Fund, and this will be administered under the provisions applying to the money collected under its rules.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF NEW CHAMBER OF MINES.

Meeting in Chamber of Commerce Today to Perfect Permanent Organization—Proposed Plan to Safeguard Investors and to Advance Interests of Los Angeles.

Final steps will be taken this afternoon toward the organization of the Los Angeles Chamber of Mines. A general meeting has been called in the Chamber of Commerce at 2 o'clock to hear the report of the committee of sixteen, which will submit a constitution and bylaws, that have been carefully thrashed out, and plans for permanent organization.

The committee has worked hard in its endeavor to establish an organization that will further mining interests of the Southwest, direct mining trade to Los Angeles and enable the eastern public to turn here for reliable information in regard to mining. The promoters desire a large gathering this afternoon and are bidding for attention from leading citizens.

The plan of organization has been drawn up on lines almost identical with those of the Chamber of Commerce. The corporation will have no capital stock and will be self-supporting through membership fees, dues and registration charges. Five dollars will be the price of initiation and dues are to be $1 a month. The Chamber of Mines will not attempt to guarantee anything beyond title, location, management and development and will not go into the value of properties or stocks, or in any way become a party to speculation.

For the purpose of establishing a bureau of information the chamber will have a secret corps of engineers, known only to officers and directors of the corporation. Any mining company in register with the chamber upon the payment of a $50 registration fee, also depositing a certified check to cover the cost of investigation. The mining company then submits a report of its conditions relative to title, location, management, and development with the statement of its own engineers and memorandum of records in the mining district where the company is operating.

If this data is then verified by the secret agents of the Chamber of Mines and final report is submitted, carefully gone over, adopted and then placed on file as public information to be given free of charge in answer to all inquiries. The mining company so registering is allowed to use the report of the chamber, provided that "all of the text" of such report is used.

In the matter of title, the chamber will guarantee its report as far as location registration, survey or patent and compliance with the demands of the law. The report on location will show the State, county and mining district and its proximity to other known mines. In regard to management, Bradstreet and Dunn will be relied on in many cases for a report on the financial standing of the managers of a property and the amount of experience they have had in the mining business and their reliability. Development will give only work done with a list of equipment on the ground for future development.

The following standing committees are mentioned in the constitution: Mining and mining affairs, investigation and reports, manufacturing, commercial and mercantile affairs, transportation; laws, publication and statistics; hotels, finance and auditing, building and permanent exhibit, exposition, membership, grievance, election of officers and a board of directors. Each article in the constitution and bylaws will be carefully gone over and will be adopted separately.

The men on the temporary committee are John R. Matthews, chairman; Dan Murphy, E. A. Forrester, Roi King, Will A. Harris, Joseph Diedrich, Fred Hines, D. C. McGarvin, C. M. Shannon, W. J. Rouse, E. W. Gillett, A. V. Ilmore, E. W. Peck, W. P. Hatch, H. Z. Osborne and W. H. Wilson.

CAN SEE SNOW DRIFTS.

Citizen on Pico Street Watches Two Men on Mt. Wilson Through Glass Climb White Trail.

Novel and surprising was the experience of W. P. Haskins yesterday when he leveled a field glass on Mount Wilson from the vicinity of Pico and Arlington streets. The distance in an air line is great, yet so clear was the atmosphere that the lens discovered two men trudging up the trail in the deep snow. Their movements could be distinctly noted and the glass showed each as he struggled through the deep drift which covered the path.

The light rain which fell early in the day so clarified the atmosphere that objects were visible for a great distance, even to the naked eye. That men could be easily distinguished at a distance of fifteen miles, even with a telescope, seems most remarkable.

STATEHOOD'S SMALL VOT

ARIZONANS GENERALLY SIGN ED THE PROPOSITION.

The Negative Vote Was, However Large Enough to Settle All Question of Public Sentiment—The Joint Vote of the Two Territories Would Also Have Been Against It.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TI

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 29.—Of returns of the Arizona counties in last general election have been canvassed by Territorial Secretary W. F. Nichols.

For delegates to Congress, Marcus Smith (Dem.) declared elected, has received 11,101 votes, a plurality of 2132 votes over his leading opponent. The vote of the other candidates was W. F. Cooper (Rep.) 8369; J. D. Carr (Soc.) 2973; C. F. Ainsworth, J. Statehood, 508. Cooper carried the counties of Apache, Pima, Yuma, in which, oddly enough, J. Statehood polled its heaviest vote.

As is always the case in Arizona with its large transient and shifting population, the registration was far above the vote. The number of votes registered was 22,783, while only 2 votes were cast. Of these who voted about 7000 failed to mark their ballots on the Statehood issue, mainly due to the fact that the squares for voting upon Statehood were at the bottom margin of the ballot.

The vote upon Joint Statehood was 14,285, in the affirmative 2141, a majority of 13,144 against the movement. The Joint Statehood vote constituted 15 per cent. of the vote cast on that subject, 13.33 per cent. of the total vote cast and only 9.6 per cent. of the total registered vote of the Territory. It is believed that the advocates of Joint Statehood got out their full strength for their campaign was an active and thorough one, the Territory being flooded with their literature and covered by their orators. Though both Republican and Democratic Territorial Central Committees and candidates were open in their opposition to jointure, little was done by the Bi-Partisan League which had the anti-jointure cause especially in charge. The league had almost no money, despite the charge that the great mine owners and railroads were supporting it. On the contrary, the joint-Statehood organization seemed remarkably well supplied with funds, even starting a daily newspaper at Phoenix.

The charge was freely made that Arizona would have accepted Joint Statehood were the corporations not opposed, fearing that Statehood would raise their taxes. In this connection it is interesting to note that the heaviest vote for jointure was cast in Cochise county claimed to be controlled by the Copper Queen Company, in Graham county around the copper camps, Pima and Yuma counties where the Southern Pacific has been credited with control and in the city of Phoenix, which would lose the capitol were jointure to carry. Almost generally, the agricultural districts cast the heaviest percentage of votes against jointure. In Maricopa county the farming precincts of Powles, Lehi, Arlington, Cartwright, Merrill, Ian, Riverside and Alhambra, not a vote was cast for jointure, while the precincts of Heard, Isaac, Agua Caliente, Scottsdale, McDowall, Peoria and Orme cast but one each. In Phoenix 246 votes were cast for jointure and in the rest of the county, almost exclusively agricultural, only 148.

It is interesting to note that, had the Territories voted together, as was designed by the original Hamilton bill before amendment by Foraker, jointure would have been signally defeated. It is worthy of mention, also, even conceding the election of Andrews in New Mexico, that had the last election been a joint-State affair, the Democrats would have been in the majority.

GAMBLING STOPPED.

From and after January 31, 1907, Phoenix will absolutely shut off gambling of every kind. Heretofore faro, roulette and crap games have been run in the open, licensed by both city and county. It even has been the boast of the old-timers that the games in Phoenix all were square and the liquor undoctored, for the old-timers were experts in both and woe would have been the lot of the dealer who drew from the bottom of the deck or of the saloonkeeper who doctored the liquid staff of life. The licenses for the games all are paid up till the 1st of February. Hence the delay in execution of the mandate of the people of the City of Phoenix on the subject of gambling, expressed in the late special election. The anti-gambling ordinance just passed is all-comprehensive. It copies the Littlefield bill, now in Congress, and goes it several better. After January it will become a misdemeanor to play bridge for a prize, even for a souvenir spoon, and even the slot machine must go. "Shaking for the drinks" suddenly will become a crime, as will the church lottery and the election bet. The City Council has determined to make no exceptions, even to club poker playing. Tucson and Douglas have led in the war against gambling and now there is a prospect for a general anti-gambling law to pass the Legislature that meets in Phoenix in January. To this is added the possibility of passage of the Littlefield bill. It is very evident that old-time conditions rapidly are passing in Arizona.

Though Councilman O'Neill's anti-gambling bill probably will be the first measure introduced in the Legislature, a close second is likely to be Councilman Cleveland's bill for the division of Graham county. The county's population is about equally divided between the mining and agricultural settlements. Cleveland is from the mining district, which, forever is at outs with the farming section down along the Gila. If the measure carry, it may mean a reapportionment of the Territorial Council, whose twelve members now are divided among thirteen counties, Pima and Santa Cruz joining upon one.

STATEHOOD'S SMALL VOTE.

ARIZONANS GENERALLY IGNORED THE PROPOSITION.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 29.—Official returns of the Arizona counties in the last general election have been canvassed by Territorial Secretary W. P. Nichols.

For delegate to Congress, Marcus A. Smith (Dem.) declared elected, having received 3132 votes, a plurality of 2132 votes over his leading opponent. The vote of the other candidates was: W. F. Cooper carried only the counties of Apache, Pima and Yuma, in which, oddly enough, Joint Statehood polled its heaviest vote.

As is always the case in Arizona, with its large transient and shifting population, the registration was far above the vote. The number of voters registered was 22,786, while only 23,562 votes were cast. Of those who voted, about 7000 failed to mark their ballots on the Statehood issue, mainly due to the fact that the squares for voting upon Statehood were at the bottom margin of the ballot.

The vote upon Joint Statehood was 16,756, in the affirmative 2141, a majority of 12,144 against the movement. The joint Statehood vote constituted 14.13 per cent. of the vote cast on that subject, 11.13 per cent. of the total vote cast and only 9.6 per cent. of the total registered vote of the Territory. WON THE SILK FLAG.

Chairman J. D. Dillon of the Territorial Democratic Central Committee offered a silk flag, valued at $100, to the Arizona county that should cast the lowest proportionate vote for jointure. Gila county has won, with a vote of only 3.54 per cent.; Pinal county being a close second with 5.55 per cent. The flag will be intrusted to the Gila county Board of Supervisors.

By the official count, Don. Babbitt (Dem.) has been announced elected Treasurer of Maricopa county, by a plurality of only two votes over his Republican opponent, R. E. Miner. The latter has instituted a contest.

BURIED IN SNOW.

Northern Arizona is buried deep in snow, with more to come. At Flagstaff the snowfall was twenty-seven inches and at Williams thirty inches. Snow fell as far west as Kingman on the Santa Fé road and covers the mountains of Central and Southeastern Arizona. In Phoenix the precipitation was in the shape of over an inch of rain the first for many months, giving the roads a needed drenching and washing the oranges into excellent condition for packing. It is considered a marvelous dispensation of providence that the rain came not during the preceding week, when the Territorial Fair was on. The Salt and Gila rivers have raised but little and no trouble has been experienced at the Roosevelt dam, where the river flow is handled through a tunnel, while work is being pushed on the dam's foundations. Following the rain and snow came cold weather all over the Territory, but not cold enough around Phoenix to nip the orange trees or hurt the ripening crop.

THE DIVERSION DAM.

Two hundred men already are at work on the diversion dam, for the valley canal systems. Bedrock has been uncovered on the south side, at a depth of twenty feet and an electric railroad is being built to the stone quarry, about a mile distant. At first electric power is to be furnished from Phoenix by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, but a survey is being made for an electric line from Roosevelt to the diversion dam and to Phoenix. It is told that this line will cost $4000 a mile to build and wire.

GAMBLER FOUND TROUBLE.

At Kelvin, last Sunday, John Roberts, a gambler, hunted trouble with Robert DeVance, a cowboy, and got it. DeVance was in a saloon, talking with a female musician, upon whom Roberts believed he had acquired rights. Roberts was the first to draw, firing two shots ineffectively while DeVance was making for the outer air. Then the latter turned and came back, shooting. One of his bullets went wild, fatally wounding a Mexican, but the other killed his adversary. The cowboy has been released on bail for later trial.

OTHER CRIME MATTERS.

At Troy, in the same neighborhood, on the same day, a bunch of Mexicans had a drunken fight, in which one of their number was seriously wounded. Near San Carlos, also on Sunday, an Apache buck killed his own child, though without murderous intention, while punishing it for some childish fault.

After deliberating more than thirty hours, the jury in the case of Elton E. Weller found him not guilty of the crime of murder, in the killing last June of Charles E. Williams, at Mesa. It was shown at the trial that Williams was a violent and dangerous man, and that he had made threats against Weller. The defendant would have been released without much delay had it not been shown that he had shot Williams twice in the back, while the latter was running toward a buggy, possibly to secure a deadly weapon.

The police have just made public the details of a remarkable crime committed a week ago in the Capital Hotel, in Phoenix. A burglar rifled several rooms, seizing and chloroforming one roomer who had awakened. The landlady appeared on the scene about this time, to be forced at the point of a pistol to hand over the cash she had on hand, about $35. The robber has escaped.

HIS BANK FAILED.

Deputy Sheriff W. T. Williams of Gila Bend never has been a believer in banks, hence has carried his wealth around with him, in bills, concealed in a small satchel. This satchel he placed in a closet in the Sheriff's office. After Williams returned from an absence of a few hours he had the closet unlocked, to find the satchel there, but the money, about $1100, missing. The Sheriff and his deputies state their inability to even formulate a good theory to account for the disappearance of the money.

NET LOSS OF TWENTY DOLLARS.

Constable Lee Redwine, has pleaded guilty to a charge of extortion. During fair week he arrested a man for disorderly conduct, in the city, but released him upon receipt of $10 cash bail. This amount was not turned in to any officer qualified to receive it. This morning the constable was fined $30 and sentenced to thirty days in jail, a period that will take him within two days of the expiration of his term of office.

A DENTAL TRUST.

Dr. E. C. Herkner, a California dentist, claims there is a dental trust in Arizona and that the Territorial Board of Dental Examiners exists mainly for the purpose of keeping safe to its membership the dentistry field of Phoenix. Dr. Herkner tried to bust the trust. It cost him a $25 fine in a justice's court. The trust is still as intact as ever, though somewhat bunged. Herkner was an applicant for a license to practice at the dental examination held several days ago. He failed because of dissatisfaction with a filling expressed by the board's chairman, Dr. W. G. Lents. The next day Herkner visited Lents and spoke his mind and resented being called a liar by starting a fight from which Lents emerged a decided loser.

SHORT ARIZONA NOTES.

Around Phoenix are several deposits of hydraulic lime, from which superb building lime can be made, though disliked by the average mason because of its quick setting. M. L. Vinault of Phoenix, now is opening up a lime quarry north of Phoenix, and will attempt to displace California lime with the native product.

Great difficulty is being experienced in securing enough California oil for the kilns of the cement mill at Roosevelt, rendering it necessary to draw upon the reserve stock of cement on hand.

The Mesa Milling Company, at Mesa, has arranged for the enlargement of its mill to capacity for an output of eighty barrels a day, with the best of modern equipment.

The Arctic ice factory, tied up the past season by an agreement between the city's two other ice manufacturing concerns, has been sold under execution of judgment to W. B. Lount, of the Phoenic ice factory.

The poultry owners of the Salt River Valley have formed an association and will have an exhibition some time in January. C. B. Wood, superintendent of the poultry exhibit at the Territorial Fair, will be sent to represent the Arizona association at the Los Angeles poultry show, which begins January 1.

During the season just closed, eighteen carloads of extracted honey were shipped east from the Salt River Valley and two carloads from the upper Gila Valley, from Safford.

A permanent recruiting station for the United States army has been established at Phoenix, under charge of Capt. R. C. Williams of the Thirteenth Infantry. Branch stations will be opened at several other Arizona points.

SUFFERED FROM ATAXIA

Was Treated For Sciatic Rheumatism.

Finally Cured by Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

Wife of a Government Employee Makes a Statement of Interest to Every Nervous Sufferer.

Mrs. S. C. Wellock, of 114 Cleveland avenue, Everett, Mass., is the wife of an employee in the government works at Chelsea. Mr. Wellock is a veteran of the civil war, having served in Co. C, First Massachusetts Infantry, and both are well known in their home town. This is important because Mrs. Wellock has been cured by a popular remedy of a disease until recently regarded as incurable and her statement will bear the most searching investigation. The permanency of her cure is best attested by the fact that she has felt no return of the symptoms for over a year. She says:

"I had been troubled with nervousness for the last ten years, and about two years ago had an attack of what was pronounced sciatic rheumatism. I noticed that the trouble kept growing on me, and I began to take medicine for it. It was then I learned that I was suffering from locomotor ataxia. I had terrible tremblings in my right legs which would get rigid, and when this happened in the street I had to stand still until it passed away to keep from falling. My right arm felt as if a thousand needles were pricking it. The sheet touching my knee in bed would nearly cause me to scream out with pain, and both knees were so weak I could hardly stand.

"I had to use a cane and be helped about by my son. Then the pain began to settle in the calves of my legs and the muscles became numb and quivered constantly. The cords under my knees seemed to be drawn up tight and the terrible shooting pains in my legs would nearly drive me insane. My toes became numb and at times would prickle as if needles were being thrust into them. My eyes became dull and black spots floated before them. My heart was very weak. The doctor told me I had to be very careful or I would bring on a stroke and it might cause death. Besides the nervous trouble, I suffered from acute indigestion and inflammation of the stomach.

"My attention was called to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by a pamphlet which was left at my house in which were given a number of cases of nervous diseases, including locomotor ataxia, cured by these pills. I bought several boxes right away and very soon felt relief. I was so pleased that I kept on taking them until they cured me entirely, and I have had no symptoms of the trouble for over a year."

Nervous diseases may be traced directly to the blood for their cause. This is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been so successful in nervous disorders, such as dizziness, sick headache, nervousness, paralysis and locomotor ataxia. These diseases have been permanently cured by treatment through the blood when ordinary remedies had failed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the nervous system by making new blood and also cure effectively such blood diseases as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip, fevers, and anaemia.

A booklet, entitled "Nervous Disorders," will be sent free to any one interested upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

DRINKS CARBOLIC ACID.

Because James J. Monka, a New York horseman, attended the opening of Ascot Park yesterday, Mrs. Dolly Monka attempted suicide by drinking carbolic acid in the Mission Apartments on North Broadway last night. Until Monka appeared in the Receiving Hospital his wife struggled against aid. She will recover.

Mrs. Monka was feeling indisposed and did not wish to attend the races. Her husband left her and later met her out with a party of friends and went to the Kerkow Café for dinner. While there Mrs. Monka excused herself and left the café, supposedly for a few minutes.

While the party were still waiting for Mrs. Monka, a message was received to the effect that she had attempted to kill herself. A friend of Mrs. Monka's found her in the room and sent her to the hospital. Mrs. Monka was an artists' model in New York, it is said by friends, and was famous for her beauty.

NOT VERY THANKFUL.

Mrs. Charles Darlington of No. 2440 Hunter street applied to the police for lodging in the city jail for herself and baby last night, claiming that her husband had driven her from home. The woman told the officers that she had arrived in Los Angeles from Houston, Tex., two weeks ago. Darlington is a boilermaker. His wife said that he drove her and her baby out of the house and would not allow her to take the remaining four children. The woman claims that she will insist upon her husband being prosecuted.

He Owned a Grave.

William Gowdy, a nephew of John K. Gowdy, formerly Consul-General to Paris, is a candidate for county assessor in Rushville, Ind. Democratic leaders questioned his eligibility, charging that he had not been a freeholder for four years, as required by law. Young Gowdy, however, proved that during the period named he had owned half a lot in the Rushville Cemetery, and Atty.-Gen. Miller has decided that the possession of this "six feet of earth" constitutes eligibility in the eye of the law.—[Boston Transcript.

The Farrand-Cecilian

345-347 SOUTH SPRING STREET.

You don't have to LEARN to play the piano—NOT THIS ONE, the Farrand-Cecilian Piano, for you or any one else can play it, play any kind of music you want. Classical, Operatic, Dance, Rag Time or Coon Songs, even though you know nothing about music or piano playing. Just slip in a roll of perforated music as shown in the illustration, put your feet on the pedals and go ahead—that's all you need do.

The Farrand-Cecilian is a high-grade upright piano with a brilliant, clear, sweet tone, and with the mechanism of the Cecilian Piano Player built inside the case.

You can play this piano with the fingers, just the same as you would an ordinary piano, or you can play it with the mechanism of the Cecilian Piano Player, which is built into it, so it is equally available for the wife and daughter, who have spent years of patient study and practice in learning how to play the piano, and for the man who doesn't know a blessed thing about music.

Wouldn't such a piano—a piano that all in the family could play—be used far more than the piano you have now?

Come in and see it, anyhow. We'll be glad to show it to you and glad to have you try it. You can buy on very easy terms, and we'll take your old piano in exchange if you have one.

PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

FOR MAYOR,

DR. WALTER LINDLEY.

Independent Republican Nominee.

Pen Points

Better have the "Wilson scare" now than afterwards.

A man can live two lives, but when the jig is up he can die only one death.

Everybody is willing that Lee Gates be the Demosthenes, but not the Mayor of Los Angeles.

The politicians of Cuba appear to be even more split up than are the Democrats in this country.

But perhaps the thing is not to be wondered at. Tobias has been caught with the goods before.

Just a few days more and these wretched mud slingers will be back in their own wallow again.

In explaining matters afterward, Lee, the Eloquent, will probably make some references to Tobe, the Squeak.

What did Lee Gates ever do to Tobias Earl that he should queer him with the public by posing as his friend?

It is said that Tobias Earl cuts a wide swath in society. Then society must be as rotten as they say it is.

Perhaps the reason Tobias speaks so insistently of the future is that he finds more pleasure in contemplating it than the past.

The latest reports from the race show that Wilson is running neck and neck with Gates, and that Harper has slowed down to a walk.

We thought that Lee Gates was too big to be overshadowed by an intellectual runt like Tobias, the Juggler, but it seems we were mistaken.

Our municipal ship cannot be allowed to drift with the ebb tide. We must have a steady hand at the helm. Pilot Lindley is the very man.

Even by standing on the shoulders of Tobias it is not now thought that Lee Gates will be able to jump out of the cat-hop he has got himself into.

While public office is a public trust, the fact that it is also a soft snap seems to linger somehow as a vague impression on the popular mind.

It is now believed that Gates will not poll the entire wobble vote, as was at first supposed. A part of it will go to Arthur Harper out of pure sympathy.

Owing to other pressing engagements, Mayor Schmitz will not be able to come to Los Angeles to help out Stanley Wilson's campaign, as he had hoped to do.

If the people of Salt Lake can keep up the practice of soaking Joe Smith with $300 fines for unlawful cohabitation polygamy will ultimately become a losing business in Utah.

A good sign of the state of the country at the present time is that when a man steals a million dollars, the tendency is to call him a thief instead of a financier, as was formerly the custom.

Hearst spent over a quarter of a million dollars in his latest New York campaign, while Hughes spent only $613. Hearst will now have more reason than ever to decry the use of money in politics.

Speaking of the crowds that are coming to this town this year, and of those that are also on the way, it isn't stretching the truth much to say that the throng includes everybody and his aunt.

In order to kiss a young man on the pier, a girl delayed the sailing of a steamship out of New York for ten minutes one day last week. The same thing has often before caused the world itself to stand still.

The choicest business corner in Seattle was purchased by "Big Tim" Sullivan not long ago for $250,000. With that amount of money he could not have done much better than to butt in on one of the back streets in Los Angeles.

If the negroes have set out to beat us Ben Tillman he will find it difficult to escape. Either he will have to remain at home in South Carolina or the porters on the Pullman sleeping cars will have to be displaced by white men.

Bob LaFollette refers to his colleague, Mr. Spooner, as "one of the forty thieves" of the United States Senate. The Senate deserves the insult because it fails to throw this foul-mouthed blatherskite out of the nest that he befouls.

Two men in this country now positively assert that they have found a way to grow gold. They are William Hatch of California, and John Raffel of New York. We mention their names so that no one will think we had reference to John D. Rockefeller and Pierpont Morgan.

A MASTERLY CAMPAIGN.

The campaign made by Dr. Lindley's managers has been masterly. The Republican forces have been unified. All the elements which were at first in doubt have swung into line. The waverers have fully committed themselves. Opponents have become supporters. Those whose only anxiety is to land on the winning side have seen a great light. With the best of generalship and a compact organization, Lindley's battle is all but won.

TO REPUBLICANS.

Republican voters will stand by the party flag when the standard-bearer is a true Republican and a patriotic and honest man. Dr. Lindley is an independent Republican. His ability is questioned by none, is acknowledged even by his rivals, yes, by his enemies. His integrity stands the test of the closest scrutiny into every act of his life, public and private. Why then should any loyal Republican forsake his cause? There is no justification for such an act, and there will be no desertion on the part of any loyal Republican.

The natural Republican vote of this city, in a straight conflict, is at this moment 10,000 plurality over the strength of any other party vote.

If Lee Gates were to get all the votes his political managers by misleading trickery claim for him, he would not get enough to overcome this Republican plurality. He will draw less than 2000 Republican votes from Lindley. He will draw much more from the Democratic candidate. The woods are full of Democrats who are shouting for Gates. The kid glove foreign voters who are usually Democrats are for Gates. The kid glove southern vote (all Democratic) is largely for Gates. His main shouters are these kid glove citizens of foreign or of Southern birth. It is with these he runs mostly and with these he stands night after night on the same platform.

The Gates wire-pullers are claiming twice as many votes for their partisan as he will get. But if he got even all they claim he would fall 4000 to 6000 short of the vote going to Lindley. The Express test vote—a "test" of the trickery of the Express, with Satan only knows how much stuffing in it, shows not quite one-third enough votes to elect Gates.

Intelligent, independent, loyal Republicans are asked to weigh these facts well. They should not waste their votes by throwing them away on a candidate sure to lose. To do this is to vote indirectly for the Democratic candidate (who, although a fairly good man, is by no means the equal of Dr. Lindley, and stands on an unsound platform)—or to vote indirectly for Wilson with the whole gang of walking delegates behind him waiting for a chance to raise hades.

Vote your party ticket, Republican voters, when the party candidate is clean, honest and capable. Dr. Lindley is all these.

If anything could be open to ridicule, it would seem to be the idea that officers of the Citizens' Alliance, an organization that Stanley Wilson's Typographical Union is fighting tooth and nail, could by their persuasive powers woo back to Harper the voters that Wilson has coaxed away from him.

HOW DR. LAMB FARED.

If Dr. Lamb had not gone into the Republican County Convention, submitted to its arbitrament and then decided to ignore it, he would have stood a much better chance of election as Supervisor. If Mr. Gates had not repeated Dr. Lamb's mistake, he would be in a better position today. Ben Ward was the wise man of the bunch. He could not be accused of bolting because he never was a candidate for the Republican nomination. In politics it does not pay to agree to any form of arbitration and then "wobble" or break faith. The fact that Mr. Gates submitted his case to the Republican City Convention, was fairly treated there but defeated, and then shied—this added to the further fact that he himself named a board of arbitrators, promised to abide by their decision and then broke his word—all this record will place Mr. Gates in the defeated class alongside of our good friend, Dr. Lamb.

When those jawsmiths in Congress get up to tell how the Panama Canal ought to be built, they will bear in mind that the man down at the other end of the street in the White House knows a few things about that business himself.

WHAT A BUNCH!

Dr. Ralph Hagan, discredited police commissioner, and Dr. R. S. Lanterman, who enjoys a similar line of practice, have come out against Dr. Lindley for well known reasons.

Any doctor who relishes the notoriety he may gain by training with this pair is certainly welcome to all the satisfaction he may derive from it.

One thing is certain—Dr. Lindley will gain votes by the obviousness of the fact that Dr. Ralph Hagan will not be reappointed police commissioner if Lindley is Mayor.

CALIFORNIA'S POSTAL GROWTH.

The growth of California in the past ten years is graphically told in the record year by year of its postal receipts and the net revenue to the Federal government arising therefrom. Here are the figures as given in the annual reports of the auditor for the Postoffice Department:

	Receipts.	Net revenue.
1897	1,907,070	353,727
1898	2,074,469	1,041,941
1899	2,169,815	1,140,276
1900	2,272,815	1,180,469
1901	2,509,729	1,293,402
1902	2,817,862	1,472,654
1903	3,062,952	1,603,271
1904	3,264,682	1,823,454
1905	4,071,140	2,215,490
1906, estimated	4,650,000	2,600,000

The growth in both receipts and net revenue since 1900 is quite striking, being:

	Receipts.	Net revenue.
1906	$4,650,000	$2,600,000
1900	2,272,815	1,180,469
Increase, six years	$2,377,185	$1,419,540

There is a growth of more than 100 per cent. in each instance.

In the ten years the yearly expense of that most useful phase of postoffice work—free delivery—has been:

1897	377,710
1898	402,437
1899	413,629
1900	444,396
1901	495,519
1902	533,362
1903	557,201
1904	597,156
1905	699,483
1906, estimated	735,000

In the decade the postoffices of California have issued money orders, domestic and international, representing a great many millions of dollars. Of those the record year by year is:

	Domestic orders issued.	International orders issued.
1896	$ 8,795,514	$ 849,794
1897	9,392,018	845,982
1898	10,105,274	848,189
1899	11,909,146	838,738
1900	14,894,397	1,082,171
1901	17,817,737	1,791,613
1902	17,921,402	1,545,138
1903	20,221,717	2,040,444
1904	22,153,279	2,324,667
1905	23,298,717	2,452,827
1906	25,474,283	2,861,059

There is a wealth of meaning in those figures of prosperity. The first fiscal year following William McKinley's first election and the adoption of the present protective tariff was 1898. Note the increase in 1906 over 1897, the last Democratic low tariff fiscal year:

	Domestic orders.	International orders.
1906	$25,474,283	$2,861,059
1897	9,392,018	845,982
Increase	$16,272,265	$2,017,598

Inasmuch as postoffice money orders are the wage-earners' almost entire medium of remittance, it follows that the increased work and increased wages consequent upon the protective tariff enabled the California wage-earner to send away nearly three times as much money in 1906 as in 1897 to parties in this country, and nearly four times as much to parties in foreign lands.

Toward the gross postal receipts and net revenue of the State, as shown above, the city of Los Angeles contributed as follows:

	Receipts.	Net Revenue.
1897	190,126	104,173
1898	212,063	111,538
1899	219,167	114,722
1900	247,629	152,616
1901	280,726	153,674
1902	354,193	199,852
1903	448,729	250,621
1904	550,217	322,081
1905	646,513	374,592
1906	834,000	455,000

In 1906 Los Angeles contributed more than one-sixth of the gross postal receipts of the State, and about one-sixth of the total net revenue.

If any candidate in the local field deserves election it is Mr. Yonkin, the Republican nominee for the Council in Ward Six. Mr. Yonkin has signalized his ability and fidelity in the public service and has the esteem of all who know him. The malicious Non-Partisan boss, Lissner, is fighting him; but he will get the bulk of the Non-Partisan votes in the ward. And so will Dr. Lindley, by the way.

WHY ARBITRATION FAILED.

All good citizens regret the presence of three respectable candidates for Mayor in the field, thus scattering the patriotic vote which stands for honest municipal government. Some good citizens still think one of these candidates should withdraw.

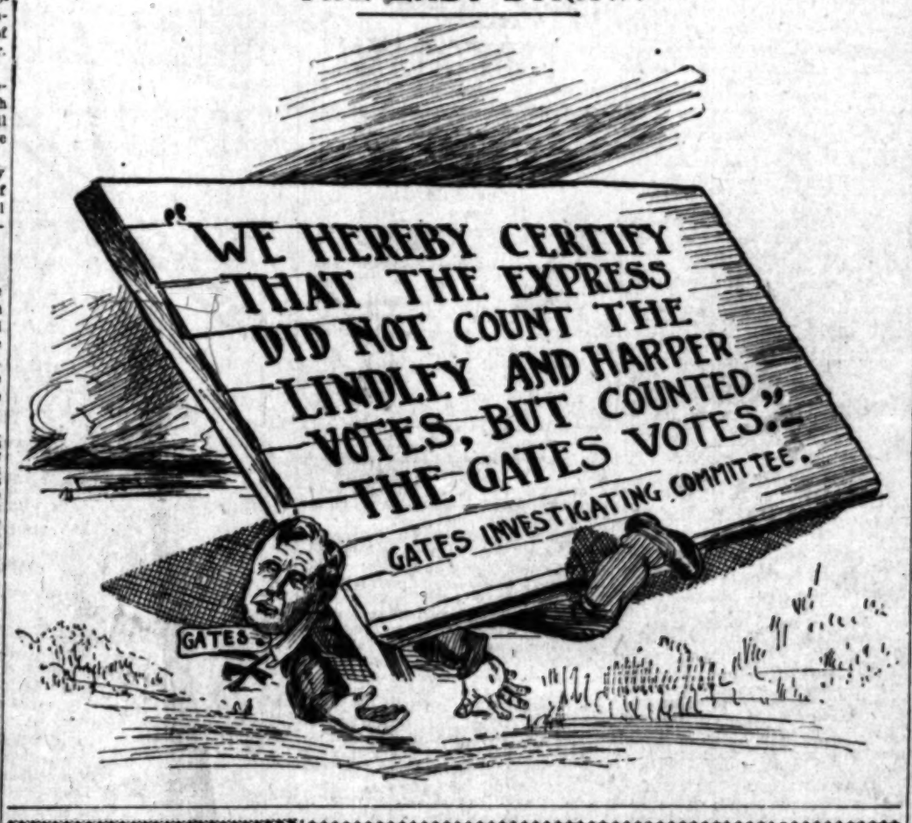
In such a situation it is proper to inquire who is to blame. In the light of all undisputed facts, it is clear that Dr. Lindley is not to blame. In all sincerity he offered to submit to arbitration the question as to who should withdraw, and he stood by his agreement like a man, as he has always stood by all of his agreements. Let this fact be remembered. Dr. Lindley merits the confidence and esteem of all honest men for this patriotic attitude in this attempt to ward off the danger of splitting the patriotic vote and letting an unfit candidate slip through the gap.

Let the blame lie where it belongs if this city suffers from the failure to arbitrate. Mr. Gates must be held responsible. He agreed to arbitrate and then backed out—faltered, wobbled, fell down.

Dr. Lindley's patriotic stand will draw to him thousands of votes. It will elect him. The people want for their Mayor a man who keeps his word, who stands firm, stands fast, stands true.

A new cause for divorce is the refusal of the wife to allow her husband to kiss her on the lips. But it does seem that a wife ought to have some protection against the whisky and tobacco treatment that many of them are compelled to submit to.

"THE LAST STRAW."



THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

Art in Windy Canyon.

Don Spaghetta Macaroni was the foreign singer's name,
And the papers had been crowded with their tributes to his fame;
When he came to Windy Cañon with his operatic troupe,
Why, you know we bought the tickets for the concert with a whoop.

He had dusted his complexion with a lot of powdered chalk,
And he strolled along quite gally, taking side looks at the girls.

Soon he saw a comely damsel, which her name was Hazel Green,
And she's positively the finest that a mortal ever seen—
And she shuffled both his eyebrows when she, blushed and stammered "Sir!"

But the lady wasn't caring for such operatic styles—
So he slipped his arm around her and he tried to give her a hug,
When the marshal grabbed him suddenly and clapped him in the jug.

Then the pot began to boiling, and from clear across the sea,
Came a howl of awful horror that such things as this could be,
"Don Spaghetta Macaroni, we will rise and take your part,"
Came the message, "for the folks in Windy Cañon love not Art."

Criticised our minds and manners, and he criticised them well;
Said we languished here in darkness, that our weak artistic taste
Showed all our nobler feelings had gone hopelessly to waste.

So, 'twas me and Toothless Tuttle, One-Eyed Jones and Pegleg Pete,
Held an earnest conversation on the corner of the street,
And we got a bag of feathers and a kettle full of tar,
"He will see," said Toothless Tuttle, "what real artists us folks are."

In a suit of tar and feathers hastened out upon his way;
"It's a hasty job of painting, but we've shown our love of Art."

Before Carving the Turkey.

The President proclaimed it, that we ought to all give thanks—
But I'm an unknown person on the rosters of the banks,
And I've been sick, and worried, and a lot of things went wrong,
And so I got to thinking that my thanks could not be strong.
But then, who knows? It might be that the bank that held my dough
Would have been one that busted—so, you see, I hardly know.

I look the whole year over, and I haven't gained in health,
Nor shot to fame and glory, nor been cluttered up with wealth,
But still I get to thinking of the things that might have been,
And of the folks in trouble that so far I've not been in,
And then, although I'm poorer than a starving alley cat
I think that I am thankful, in a measure, just for that.

Why, I might have a title—be a count, perhaps, or earl—
And then be rudely parted from a million and the girl;
Or I might be a magnate with uncounted money's might
And a thousand busy juries planning daily to indict;
Or I could be out for office, with the public on my trail—
So I breathe a thankful whisper, rather than a sorry wail.

When I look the wide world over, and observe how all the rest
Have their troubles and their sorrows, spite of all they have possessed.
Then I get to thinking maybe things are just as well let be,
And I don't know anybody I would rather be than me—
So I sigh a gentle blessing on the few things in my lot
And I sing a thankful measure for the things that I am not!

The Shoppers's Husband.

Another day comes, bringing to us its samples to match, its orders to cancel, its inquiries to make. Let me be brave and patient throughout the day, and reflect that in the next world there is neither shopping nor thinking of shopping. And let me have the grace to realize that in the glad hereafter there is no first of the month.

Fame and Money.

"Good for you, Scribblem," says the friend to the dreamy-eyed poet. "I tell you I am rejoiced to see your poem, 'Soul-Space,' in the Decade Magazine. Any man should be proud of such an honor."

Modestly thanking him, the poet goes on. But her does not disclose the fact that the occasion of his happiness is the check he has received for royalties on his rag time song, "Ma Coal Black Baby Wid her Shoebox Feet," which he has published under an assumed name.

CLOSE VIEW OF LEE C. GATES.

His Employer, Mr. Brant, Thinks He Would Be a Disappointment in the Mayor's Chair.

The subjoined correspondence between A. B. Cass, former President of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and O. F. Brant, manager of the Title Insurance & Trust Co., will explain itself.

It will be observed that Mr. Cass desired to obtain from Mr. Brant his opinion of Mr. Gates's candidacy for Mayor and Mr. Brant replied with frankness.

It was the recognition of the fact that the city faces a crisis fraught with danger that impelled Mr. Cass, as a patriotic citizen, to draw out Mr. Brant.

Mr. Brant is one of the most successful business men of the city. He has been the personal friend and employer of Mr. Gates for twenty years, Mr. Gates being an attorney for his company.

Although Mr. Brant has a genuine affection for Mr. Gates he has regretted Mr. Gates's course in this campaign and does not hesitate to indicate that Mr. Gates is making a mistake—that on account of his peculiar temperament he will be a disappointment if elected Mayor. He states emphatically that he wishes Mr. Gates would withdraw—that he would rather see him in his coffin than Mayor.

No man is so well qualified by experience, contact and judgment to pass upon Mr. Gates's candidacy as is Mr. Brant, his close associate, his sincere admirer and well-wisher, a man of wide knowledge of the world and of keen insight into character.

Herewith The Times reproduces the letter of Mr. Cass and the reply of Mr. Brant:

FROM MR. CASS.

Mr. O. F. Brant,
City.

My Dear Mr. Brant:

Being a personal friend of both Mr. Gates and Dr. Lindley and fearing the spirit of rivalry is becoming so bitter it will cause an injury to both, and possibly deprive the city of the valuable services of either as Mayor by the election of one of the opposing candidates, I would like to know your reasons why Mr. Gates should withdraw, as it seems to me this is the only solution of the problem.

Being a lifelong Republican and believing the party has committed no error in its nomination for Mayor, I believe Mr. Gates, as a loyal Republican, should be shown by his friends and close business associates the errors of his ways.

Yours truly,

FROM MR. BRANT.

A. B. Cass, Esq.,
City.

My Dear Sir:

In reply to your note I would say that my first reason for desiring Mr. Gates to withdraw from the race for Mayor is that I am his friend, that in my opinion his election would be the greatest misfortune that could overtake him. I have said to him and I say to you that it is my belief that it would be better to nail him in his coffin and follow him to his grave rather than elect him Mayor of Los Angeles. He is an honest man, a good lawyer, a good friend, a gentleman, and could now go to his grave happy and respected. I feel certain his election would only bring unhappiness and regret.

My second reason does not apply to Lee more than Lindley or Harper. A less number to divide the good votes between would make more certain the election of a satisfactory Mayor.

Yours very truly,

[Signed] O. F. BRANT.

THANKSGIVING AFTERTHOUGHTS

What is Thanksgiving Day? A day when certain people of close-fisted tendency are thankful that they are called upon to give nothing but thanks.

The father who, with several small children, dines out at some distant relative's, is thankful that the fuss and fret come but once a year.

From the Salem, Mass., Post of Thursday, November 29, 1648: "Mistress Betty Johns and Master Godly Barebones, whilst returning from a four-hours' edifying sermon in a church, narrowly escaped injury by two arrows lette fly by some concealed sauvages. Only ye extreme coldnesse, which caused ye same to crackle sharpely, revealed ye sauvages' whereabouts, thus holding ye goode friends to make their escape. So we of this latter day and age see wherein we have much for which to shake hands with ourselves, to wit: Short sermons, no Indians and comparative warmth. Still, some persons are never satisfied.

What is the "white man's burden" so often heard of? Must be that extensive ment our digestive apparatus is called upon to handle each [illegible] Thanksgiving Day.

Who child the eagle is our national bird? What about the turkey?

The survivors of the turkey family are to enjoy a respite of two weeks before the drafting for Christmas enrollment; then a few days later they run the New Year's gauntlet. What chance has the poor bird anyway?

Overheard on the street: "What's wrong, oll man?" "Done out of my Thanksgiving dinner." "How's that?" "Forgot the banks were closed, and so couldn't get my turkey out of safe deposit." (Think this over—we haven't seen your meat bill yet.)

He: I'd rather be a lobster than a turkey about this time of year. She: How nice to have one's every wish gratified.

Why don't the dyspepsia tablet people advertise heavily about Thanksgiving time? Big money for them in the idea.

Past upon the closing days of present opera season comes the ing of another operatic contract, calls for fulfillment, with a two term, in the coming March.

The impresario is Henry R who is at present negotiating Mason Operahouse open time month named. From appearanc overtures will be successful, an deal may be closed this week.

As frequently announced, in dispatches, Mr. Russell's body of ers is his so-called "San Carlo" pany. The original band of that has not proceeded outside of Ru and made strenuous objections t Russell's assumption of the title, a name is only a name, and the ter makes little difference to the ple of the United States, with singers have to deal only on personal merits.

Mr. Russell's repertoire is va and a number of his stars are fam His particular feminine attrac are Lillian Nordica and Alice Ne both of whom are too well know Los Angeles play-goers to need than mention.

His principal tenor is Florencio stantino, also a celebrity and an ity who is already famous in Eu While not a Caruso in voice, Cons tino is a distinguished singer who a tone of great and expressive be His work in all the lighter Ita operas is brilliant and pleasing, face and physique, Constantino is most an identical counterpart of E sandro Bonci, whom Hammerstein introduce to American audiences month.

Other men in Russell's company clude the famous Russian barit Adam Golpers; the young Spa bass, Andres Perello de Segurola; French tenor Riccorda Martin; Italian tenor, Umberto Sacchetti, Raffaele Barochi, buffo.

A number of the women have tained prominence in operatic among the most promising being Italian soprano, Tarquina Tarqu the French soprano, Fely Dere and a young American girl, Luisa less—from Kentucky, notwithstand her Latinized name.

Russell has just commenced an tended season at the French opera New Orleans, following which he come to the Pacific Coast for a s tour, and will then proceed to N York—after the close of the Met politan season—for the remainder the spring.

And from our own company, wh is still with us, good things should expected in Monday night's "Tosca." Mme. Adaberto will have the ti part, of course, and by all that is j and right, Salvaneschi should be lowed to sing Mario Carvarado There was a rumor that the role wou fall to D'Ottavi, but this seems unl ikvable.

Pacini, who proved himself in "Ca alleria" and "The Barber," will seen as Scarpia, and should do go work.

The Sacristan will be played Lombardi.

The Belasco management is workin upon a revival of the ever-popula "Old Heidelberg," in which Miss Gard ner will be seen again as Kathie, wit Mr. Stone as the lovable young stud of royalty, Prince Karl Heinrich.

Who does not remember Nick Lon and Idalene Cotton, clever vaudevill players, who delighted Orpheum audi ences a number of years ago, and late appeared in the splendid cast of our first "Prince of Pilsen?"

They are to appear as head-line at tractions on the next week's Orpheum bill. Both are character comedians and eccentric dancers of high order.

Miss Bessie Bartlett will appear in recital next Wednesday evening at Gamut Hall. She will be assisted by Miss Estelle Catherine Heartt, contralto; Mme. Menasco, 'cellist, and Archibald Sessions, pianist.

Miss Bartlett will combine her soprano songs with a personal transition of Benberg's intense "Ballade of Despair," which she will read as the conclusion of her evening's programme.

Mr. Wilczek will appear in a programme of violin compositions at Simpson Auditorium a week from next Tuesday, and at that time he will offer his premier performance of the Bach adagio and fugue from the G minor sonata.

Mr. Wilczek says that he has been studying upon this masterpiece for fourteen years, and he believes that he has only just now arrived at a point where he is capable, in some degree, of interpreting its mysteries. Would that more young virtuosi had reverence for and a fear of the great Saint Johann Sebastian.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will give a benefit concert next Thursday evening at the home of George W. Wilson, No. 615 North avenue 66.

The programme will be presented by Miss Willamene Wilkes, Mrs. Frank Bryson, Miss Kie Julie Christin, J. B. Poulin, Hubert Whitehead, Jaime Whitson Overton and Archibald Sessions.

The projected "Leah Kleschna"—says Mr. Morosco—will probably be given immediately after next week's "Lottery of Love" revival. Miss Willard will not appear until "Leah Kleschna" is produced.

Mr. Kopta will brave strong rival attractions tonight—and some lack of public attention—to give his first chamber music concert, at Gamut Hall.

Tonight at the opera the strong double bill of Tuesday night, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I'Pagliacci," will be repeated. It will also be given tomorrow afternoon, in place of the dreary "Chopin."

Tomorrow night will see the last performance of "The Barber of Seville."

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

That upon the closing days of our present opera season comes the making of another operatic contract, which calls for fulfillment, with a two weeks' term, in the coming March.

Mr. Russell's repertoire is varied, and a number of his stars are famous. His particular feminine attractions are Lillian Nordica and Alice Neilson, both of whom are too well known to Los Angeles play-goers to need more than mention.

His principal tenor is Florencio Constantino, also a celebrity and an artist who is already famous in Europe. While not a Caruso in voice, Constantino is a distinguished singer who has a tone of great and expressive beauty. His work in all the lighter Italian operas is brilliant and pleasing. In face and physique, Constantino is almost an identical counterpart of Alessandro Bonci, whom Hammerstein will introduce to American audiences next month.

Other men in Russell's company include the famous Russian baritone, Adam Golpern; the young Spanish tenor, Andres Perello de Segurola; the French tenor Ricorda Martin; the Italian tenor, Umberto Sacchetti, and Raffaelo Barachi, buffo.

A number of the women have attained prominence in operatic work, among the most promising being the Italian soprano, Tarquina Tarquini; the French soprano, Fely Dereyne, and a young American girl, Luisa Milne—from Kentucky, notwithstanding her Latinized name.

Russell has just commenced an extended season at the French opera in New Orleans, following which he will come to the Pacific Coast for a short run, and will then proceed to New York—after the close of the Metropolitan season—for the remainder of the spring.

Mme. Adaberto will have the title part, of course, and by all that is just and right, Salvaneschi should be allowed to sing Mario Carvaradossi. There was a rumor that the role would fall to D'Ottavi, but this seems unbelievable.

Thou knowest the sunshine and the morning dew

Oh, radiant rose, thy holy, still content
Is balm to us whose days are full of strife;
Thy beauty is a word from God, and sent

That we may smile, though oft by thorns beset,
And climb, like thee, each day a little higher

On American Soil.

"The English aristocracy, when transplanted to American soil, sometimes flowers in a magnificently strange way," said Lucretia reflectively. "If set on the Arizona desert, it does its level best to remain, forever and a day, a trimly cut rose near a box hedge. It can never by any possible chance be taken for a cactus native to the soil."

The Rambler looked interested. "Your pretty figures of speech suggest some weighty idea behind them," said he. "What is it?"

"You remember the Marmaduke De Laceys whom we met last year at one of Mrs. Wharton's receptions?"

"Tall, blondish young fellow, good looking, good clothes, a don't-cher-know accent—rather a howling swell, as I remember—and a pretty little wife with very pink cheeks and nice hair and eyes?"

"The same. Well they're no longer in Los Angeles. They've moved to some small town further south. They were distressingly poor, and they hadn't the remotest idea of how to make a penny. Never earned one in their lives before, you know. What do you suppose these scions of the English nobility are doing now?"

"Giving dancing lessons?"

"Nonsense! As if any 'furriner from Yurrup,' even an inflated Englishman, would presume to try to teach an American how to dance! Prepare for a shock—they're running a butcher shop!"

"Wh—e—w!" whistled the Rambler, who certainly was not prepared for a shock quite so severe as this one.

Then came the second overpowering jar. "And they dine every evening in full dress in the little room they live in behind the shop!"

The Rambler was too astonished, for a moment, even to whistle. Though, on thinking it over, he could find no valid reason for surprise. The English are always awfully English, all the world over, he mused, and the English have a cast-iron creed that the conventionalities are the only true signs of civilization.

"And perhaps, after all, John Bull is right," said the Rambler to himself. "So what does it really matter, as far as observing the conventionalities goes, whether he sells one dead steer from a counter or 10,000 live ones from a range?"

COURTS DEATH BY ACID ROUTE.

Office of The Times, No. 25 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Nov. 30.—Miss Della Tully made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide at her boarding place, No. 464 Herkimer street, early yesterday morning. Carbolic acid was the medium chosen, and when discovered the unfortunate young woman was suffering terrible agony. Medical attendance was at once summoned, and later she was removed to the Pasadena Hospital, where she is now hovering between life and death.

Miss Tully was discovered about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and, it is supposed, made the attempt upon her life about an hour before. By her side was found an empty carbolic acid bottle, bearing the label of the Palace Drug Store, and her lips were terribly burned by the action of the chemical. Drs. Hoag and Mattison administered antidotes, but they had a hard fight before they were able even temporarily to stave off death.

Examination of the throat disclosed the fact that the acid had burned into the lining to a dangerous degree. The unfortunate woman suffered horrible agony as soon as she recovered consciousness sufficiently to realize what was going on, and those present say that the scene was pitiful.

Inquiry at the Palace Drug Store disclosed the fact that Miss Tully purchased the carbolic acid there early yesterday morning. This bears out the theory that the deed was not premeditated. Friends of the young woman state that she seemed to be in the best of spirits day before yesterday, and went about her work singing. She was not of a morbid disposition, and was never known to brood over any real or fancied sorrows.

When she purchased the poison she stated that she wanted it for disinfecting purposes, and spoke in such a natural manner that the clerk who made the sale had no idea that anything was wrong. He did not notice anything peculiar in her behavior, the news that she had committed suicide came as a total surprise.

Miss Tully has been a resident of Pasadena for four years, having formerly been employed at Hotel Green. She was always considered a very attractive young woman, and had a host of friends and admirers. She is about 25 years old, and, as far as known, has no relative living in this section.

At the Pasadena Hospital, where Miss Tully was taken for treatment, it was stated last night that it was yet too early to predict what the outcome of her injuries would be. The first great danger, resulting from the shock, is thought to be over, but the condition of the patient is precarious and it will be several days at least before she will be out of danger.

THANKSGIVING IN CHURCHES.

Thanksgiving was observed by nearly all of the churches yesterday morning. Memorial services were held at which appropriate music was rendered and timely addresses were given. The services were well attended in every case in spite of the rain and the fact that the streets were far from pleasant for traveling.

At All Saints' Episcopal Church matins were sung at 10:30 o'clock. Special music was provided and the rector, Rev. William MacCormack, delivered a strong address. He took as his topic the things for which we should be thankful and also the unpleasantnesses which occurred in the past year. The blessings which have come to the world at large and the American people in particular were enumerated, as were also the great catastrophes, including the San Francisco disaster.

At the First Presbyterian union services, participated in by nearly all of the Protestant churches in Pasadena, were held. A special quartette provided the music and the pastors of the different churches participating occupied the platform.

At St. Andrews Roman Catholic Church mass was sung at 10:30 o'clock and an appropriate sermon was preached. Music suitable to the festal season was rendered. The service was largely attended.

ANNEXATION PLAN PROSPERS.

From the present outlook it appears that the project to join Pasadena and South Pasadena will meet with almost universal support. When the project has been broached heretofore there has been more or less opposition on the part of South Pasadena property holders, who did not feel like losing their identity. This question seems to have been allowed to drop out of sight, however, and it is not thought that there will be any serious opposition.

It is pointed out that by joining the two cities it will be possible to furnish fire and police protection to both at a lesser cost and with greater facility than two separate services could be maintained. The question of fire protection is one of particular importance to South Pasadena at this time, as many fine residences are being erected. There is at present no department of any kind and a conflagration might do untold damage before assistance could be summoned.

The fact is pointed out that Pasadena is in need of several radical changes in the fire department and that if the two cities are to be joined, it should be done at once in order that the increase in the department may be made in a way that will be to the best advantage of Greater Pasadena. Geographically there would be no difficulty in guarding the two cities under the supervision of one head.

"Greater Pasadena" is being taken as the slogan of the annexationists and the project is being worked for all it is worth. The prompt action of the Council in taking up the matter has put confidence into the hearts of the supporters of the scheme.

POLICE STATION BREVITIES.

Fred Hall and N. J. Ford, two brakebeam tourists without any apparent aim in life, struck Pasadena yesterday afternoon and within a short time after their arrival landed at the Police Station. Patrolman Hayes got Hall, while Ford was taken in tow by Patrolman O'Dell. Both were locked up on a vagrancy charge and will have to explain in court today how they happened to so far forget themselves as to include Pasadena in their itinerary.

A. S. Parsons thought that he had a good many blessings to be thankful for so he decided to observe the festal season of Thanksgiving in what he thought was a suitable manner. He looked too long upon the flowing bowl, however, and wandered into Pasadena in a condition bordering on total paralysis. He attempted to go to sleep in Mercantile alley, but Desk Sergeant Reynolds happened along about that time and escorted him to the Police Station, where he was provided with a bed at the expense of the city.

"PIE" FOR MONROVIA.

MONROVIA, Nov. 29.—Judging from reports, Monrovia will get its share of appointments from the newly elected county officers. There are rumors to the effect that one of the prominent officials of this city has been tendered a responsible position under Ben Ward. Another appointment is expected to come from the Sheriff.

The Protestant churches united this morning in a general service at the Baptist Church, Rev. Clark H. Marsh preaching the sermon. In the afternoon the ball game brought out a big crowd, the High School team playing with the city team.

In the roller polo game played last night at Pasadena between Pasadena and Monrovia the latter was defeated by a score of 6 to 0. It was a fast game.

There are more tourists spending the winter in Monrovia than ever before, and quite a large number of them are making investments, some large, many more small. Their introduction to California has not been as pleasant as might be, the November month registering the lowest continuous temperature here within the remembrance of the old residents.

A very heavy snow fell last night on Monrovia Peak and Wilson's Peak.

CLAREMONT CITIZEN DIES.

CLAREMONT, Nov. 29.—Claremont yesterday lost one of its most honored citizens in the death of Dr. E. M. Pease, for the last twelve years a resident of the town. Dr. Pease was taken ill last Saturday, and removed the first part of this week to the Pomona Valley Hospital at Pomona. Tuesday evening it was decided that an operation was unavoidable, and it was performed that night. Dr. Pease survived the operation successfully, but failed to rally after it. He was 78 years of age. Dr. Pease was born in Granby, Massachusetts in 1828, and educated for missionary work in the foreign field. He spent eighteen years in active missionary work in the Micronesia. During the past year he had been engaged in translating the Bible into Micronesian. He had completed the translation of the New Testament, and hoped to finish the Old Testament by July. He came to Claremont in 1894, and had taken an active interest in the town life since. Besides his missionary work Dr. Pease was known as a physician, having graduated from the Columbia Medical School after taking his Amherst degree. Dr. Pease leaves a widow and two sons.

OCEAN SPARKLETS.

OCEAN PARK, Nov. 29.—Operating under the provisions of a statute covering local improvements, Pier avenue is being wired for electric illumination. Iron posts are being erected on both sides of the avenue, and the fixtures are to be paid for by popular subscription. The juice to be used in the illumination will be provided by assessment of the property of a certain district receiving the benefit.

Similar proceedings are being taken for the illumination of Third street, the two assessment divisions representing the two distinct business sections of Santa Monica.

EDITOR PAYS BET.

COVINA, Nov. 29.—Considerable amusement was occasioned on the business streets of Covina just after noon today by the appearance of a gaily decorated wheelbarrow, pushed by the editor of the Covina Argus, J. L. Matthews, and in it seated a young lady, a member of one of the leading families of the city. Matthews, who is somewhat short in stature and inclined to corpulency, was struggling manfully to pay a bet which he made several months ago with the occupant of the wheelbarrow that, in the event of the then proposed electric road from Los Angeles failing to enter Covina by August 1, 1906, he would trundle her in a wheelbarrow from her residence at the corner of Citrus avenue and Center street through the business part of the city and return, a distance of half a mile, without resting. Matthews did it, finishing the last 200 yards on a run amid the ringing of the fire bell and the cheers of the amused spectators. The wheelbarrow, a new one borrowed for the occasion, was decorated with red, white and blue bunting, scarlet streamers, smilax and roses, the lady carrying a Japanese parasol.

HIGHWAYMAN ROBS TWO.

"Throw yer mitts up, ye rubes, quick er take lead," was the command that froze E. T. Powell and E. B. Cavanaugh, two business men of San Bernardino, yesterday morning, as they were hurrying to catch the Salt Lake newspaper train.

The robber poked into their faces an ugly looking revolver. His features were partly shielded with a handkerchief. He secured quite a sum from Cavanaugh and several dollars from Powell, overlooking a package of greenbacks Powell had in his inside pocket.

The robbery occurred on East First street near the viaduct. The victims say the robber was perfectly cool. After completing a hurried search for coin, he commanded the men to bike.

BOATMEN DOUBLE RATE.

AVALON, Nov. 29.—The boatmen have advanced the rate for viewing the marine gardens near here. The price which used to be 25 cents, is now 50 cents. One of the reasons assigned for the advance is that "the gardens are run over so much and required so much care in irrigating and cultivating that it becomes necessary to advance the price."

The Metropole witnessed a merry wedding party today when George W. Baird and Miss Sinclair were united in marriage. Rev. Dr. W. Horace Day and Rev. Dr. McGlaskan performed the ceremony. The private dining-room was handsomely decorated with bright red and yellow holly and smilax, and a wedding bell hung suspended from the ceiling over the table. There were in the party Mrs. Sarah Baird, Miss Lulu Cliff, A. A. Baird and Miss Clara Parmelee.

A party came over today, the guests of Capt. William Banning. There were in the party Russell Taylor, Norwood Howard, M. L. Montgomery and daughter, W. C. Montgomery and wife of San Francisco, Thomas Cousins of New York, Mrs. L. T. Brown, Miss Errol Brown of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Miss Katherine Mellus and Miss Josephine Hannigan of San Francisco.

The members-elect of the Hawaiian Legislature will ask the United States Congress to raise their pay to $1000 a session.

SAY THAT FLAG MUST BE FREE.

STAND AGAINST CHARITY IN LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 29.—There is an extra United States flag in Long Beach which the donors desire raised over some school building. The flag was given by Uncle Sam Woman's Relief Corps of Los Angeles, and was intended for the East Fourth-street school in this city, having been bought on solicitation of Mrs. Carrie Drake, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Sons of Veterans.

When this became known the Long Beach G.A.R. and W.R.C. entered a vigorous protest against any "charity gift," and forthwith purchased a 6x12 foot flag and held the exercises originally planned by the Ladies' Auxiliary. This action left the latter organization "out in the cold," with a flag on its hands. School Superintendent Morgan refused to allow any flag to float over a school except it be a gift which will in no light place Long Beach as being an object of charity. If this can be shown the rejected flag will be allowed to grace the school at Hill and American avenues.

WHERE THEY GAVE THANKS.

The Protestant churches united in a Thanksgiving service today at the new Baptist Church, corner of Fourth and Locust. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Will A. Betts of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Josiah Sibley of the Presbyterian Church read President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation. Rev. E. W. Thornton of the Christian Church read a portion of the Bible and prayer was offered by Rev. J. W. Spears of the First Congregational Church. The offering for the destitute of the city was under the direction of Rev. Dell Johnson, of the United Presbyterians, and Rev. Andrew Mitchell of the Friends' Church preached the Thanksgiving sermon. The special music was rendered by the Presbyterian quartette, Miss Alta Palmer, Mrs. H. B. Parker, Dr. A. T. Covert and Prof. H. E. Nixon, accompanied by Miss Pearl Tranger.

OLDER BOYS.

Friday night the Older Boys' conference of the Y.M.C.A. of Southern California will convene in this city, closing Sunday night. Probably 150 delegates from out of town will attend. An informal reception will be tendered the visiting boys and Y.M.C.A. secretaries. At 5:30 o'clock and 6:30 o'clock they will be entertained at dinner at the association rooms. In the evening addresses of welcome will be made by Eugene Tincher and ex-Mayor Stephen Townsend, with responses by Paul Bean of San Diego and some member of the State committee, closing with an address by F. A. Crosby of New York, special representative of the Boys' Work Department International Committee.

Saturday morning will be devoted to group study of the Bible, conducted by Thomas Caldwell, Occidental College, C. M. Richmond, Pasadena; L. F. Lewis, Riverside and Harry F. Henderson and W. W. Willis of Los Angeles, followed by talks by Ralph D. Scott, Long Beach; George H. Seager, Redlands, and Secretary J. E. Springer of Long Beach. "The High School Problem" will be discussed by Clayton Canes, Pasadena, and Clarence E. Fletcher of Riverside.

At noon luncheon will be served, followed by question box discussion. In the evening there will be addresses by Secretary Crosby on "The Junior Member," and L. T. Lewis of Riverside on "Association Boys' Camp Life."

On Sunday morning Rev. Josiah Sibley of the Presbyterian Church will preach the conference sermon, and the convention will close in the evening with a mass meeting.

SEASHORE SAYINGS.

Once again the Southern Pacific has begun work on its new passenger depot opposite the city park, and Long Beach fervently hopes the station will be completed by March 1 at least.

The charter Board of Freeholders will meet at the City Hall Friday morning at 9 o'clock with the avowed purpose of remaining in session until the charter has all been read, accepted and signed. This work will require two days and one evening. It has been definitely settled that an alternative liquor clause will be added in order that the people may express themselves on hotel licenses with restrictions or absolute prohibition, so that the difference of opinion on this matter will not defeat the entire charter.

The crop of people seeking adventure by landing in small boats on the shores of Avalon has dwindled so much that the owners of the San Diego and McKinley have abandoned any further invasions until spring at least.

The Women of Woodcraft last evening elected the following officers: Past guardian, Louise Anderson; guardian neighbor, Lelia Brown; adviser, Nellie Dearson; magician, Cora Koons; clerk, Phoebe Davis; banker, Annie Brown; captain of guards, Cora Bennett.

The Greater Long Beach Improvement Association has petitioned the City Trustees to abate the nuisance of the municipal dumping ground in the northern part of the city, claiming that the residents are exposed to danger from the unsanitary condition of the place.

J. W. Rhea, a carpenter, while at work on the roof of a cottage, slipped and started downward toward a picket fence directly underneath. He caught hold of the edge of the roof, which was full of small nails, and was able to swing clear of the fence, though two of his fingers were split to the bone by the nails, requiring surgical attention.

The weather the past few nights has been so cold that sidewalk contractors have experienced great difficulty in keeping newly laid cement walks from freezing, and have had to get their teams out at night to haul sand to dump on the soft work.

C. F. Van de Watter of the Townsend-Day Investment Company, has just returned from Sonora, Mex., where he concluded negotiations for an option on 16,000 acres of undeveloped land for settlement purposes.

SPREAD FOR VETERANS.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Nov. 29.—Roast turkey—2500 pounds of it—was the chief item in the dinner served to the "boys" in blue at this retreat today. With it went mashed potatoes, baked sweet potatoes, mince pie, cheese, coffee and other accompaniments. The turkey was done to precisely the right degree under direction of Chef Tom Rosengraves, for several years in charge of Uncle Sam's big kitchen here.

Services appropriate to the day were held in the Catholic chapel this morning by Rev. Father Patrick Hawe, the veteran priest of Santa Monica parish. Thanksgiving services were held in the Protestant chapel Sunday.

LORDSBURG SUIT DROPPED.

LORDSBURG, Nov. 29.—The threatened lawsuit for $1000 damages which M. A. Rogers alleged that he suffered for the loss of a part of his furniture which was burned, together with W. T. Michael's wagon, when the latter was hauling it to Los Angeles, ended yesterday in a fizzle. Michael sued M. A. Rogers in Justice Pierce's court for $160 owing to him, and at the same time he attached the money which was in the hands of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company. Yesterday a few minutes before the case was to have come before the court, after a frantic but fruitless effort had been made to effect a compromise, Rogers paid the full amount claimed, $160, together with all costs.

E. E. Neher, the manager of the Lordsburg Lumber Company, has commenced the erection of a $5000 bungalow from designs by Architect Oliver Clark.

CANAL CITY RIPPLES.

VENICE, Nov. 29.—Despite the biting breeze the beach was visited today by a large number of persons, who found pleasure at the dance hall or Auditorium.

Many admiring friends of Gentleman Jack O'Brien choked a sigh while reviewing the training quarters in which the Philadelphia exponent did heavy work for his stunt at Naud Junction last night. O'Brien was a favorite in beach betting, but several seaside patrons of the ring made big winnings by backing their judgment on Burns's tenacity in staying for twenty rounds.

The police department still has troubles. Patrolman Jones is scheduled to go out with the present month. For him this will be twice out in thirty days, he having been relieved and reinstated in the first week of the month.

CHOIR'S FIRST SERVICE.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 29.—Thanksgiving services in the First Methodist Church today were most impressive. The sermon was preached by Rev. John G. Hill and the newly-organized chorus choir made its first public appearance with great success. Mrs. Simard led at the organ and the musical service was in all respects most satisfactory.

PARISIAN DINING FAD.

Restaurant Patrons Made Comfortable on Sidewalks by Artificial Heat.

American visitors to Paris in the summer time have always been impressed by the prevalent custom there of dining out of doors.

The sidewalks in front of cafés and restaurants are always so occupied with chairs and tables that pedestrians often have to step into the street to get by.

This has long been the summer custom in Paris, but with the arrival of cool weather tables and chairs disappeared every year, and the diners returned to the stuffy little dining-rooms inside.

The persistence with which they clung to the sidewalk for the taking of their coffee led one enterprising restaurateur to humor them still further. His dining-room being inadequate, anyway, he undertook to make his guests comfortable out of doors by means of a large brazier placed upon the sidewalk.

Others followed his example, says the Outlook, and in a short time the streets were lined with braziers from the Madeleine to the Bastile, much to the satisfaction of the cab drivers and newsboys. One ingenious proprietor made his table legs hollow, filled with hot water, and thus utilized them as foot warmers.

And so one may now enjoy a fashionable Parisian café en plein air any day in the year.

Oyster Shells as Medicine.

"Ground oyster shells," said the physician, as he squeezed a lemon over his blue points, "were used as a medicine by the medieval doctors—a medicine for the rickets and scrofula."

"How absurd."

"Absurd! Not at all. Oyster shells contain lime, nitrogen, iron, sulphur, magnesia, bromide, phosphoric acid and iodine. These are all excellent tonics.

"You know how hens eat ground oyster shells, and thus produce eggs with good, thick, strong shells. Well, as the oyster shell powder acts on egg shells so I have no doubt it acted in the middle ages on the bending, crumbling bones of the rickety, putting strength and firmness into them.

"Ground oyster shells, I am convinced, would be good things for frail children today. They would strengther the frame, increase the appetite and have a splendid effect on the teeth."—[Philadelphia Bulletin.

Tell us how much Lard your grocer sells and we will tell you how much indigestion is in the neighborhood.

Lard is made from hog-fat and is bound to be greasy and indigestible—sometimes absolutely unhealthy. There isn't an ounce of hog-fat in Cottolene. Its basis is just pure, refined Cotton seed oil, which is thoroughly digestible and healthful.

The stomach of the average American has been subjected to lard-soaked food for years simply because people have not known the dangers of the "lard habit." Cottolene is so much superior to lard, both as to the palatability of the food it produces and its healthful qualities, that it will surely supplant lard for shortening and frying purposes wherever its virtues are known. Give your poor stomach a chance—divorce yourself from lard, and use Cottolene.

Cottolene is made by a cleanly, hygienic, sanitary process, which insures its purity. It is, moreover, healthful, because its chief ingredient is a healthful product. It will aid rather than retard digestion. The housewife who pays any attention to hygienic cooking will use Cottolene in place of lard every time.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

NEWS REPORTS FROM C

IN SNOWSHOES MINERS ESCA

MAKE A PERILOUS TRIP OUT HOLCOMB VALLEY.

Crudely Constructed Footge Proves Their Sole Means of Pro ress Through the Fleecy Stuff T Feet Deep—Narrow Misses fro Freezing in the Mountain Blizzard

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 29.—M ers, storm-bound in Holcomb Va over a week, are coming out snowshoes. Over twenty miners h in this manner reached this valley This novel method, grasping at the avenue afforded of escape from clutches of one of the worst sto that has ever held away in that i lated section within the memory some of the oldest miners.

George Moffatt, Harry Delm George McGrady and Walter Sm reached here today, and tell of novel experiences which befell th on the way through the long, win passes, covered, in many places, to depth of ten feet with snow.

The first fall of snow occurred de ing the night, and took many of t miners by surprise. The storm co tinued for three days continuously. many instances difficulty was expe enced in getting horses in from t ranges, and some of the animals we not recovered up to Tuesday, wh the party arriving today left the va ley.

Realizing that the valley would under snow for weeks, and that the was possibility for continued storm the miners decided to leave, and wer finally forced to put this determinatio into execution on account of prov sions getting low.

Several men started to walk to San Bernardino, without any special pro vision for overcoming the snow, an were compelled to put back to the cabin, the snow being too light to bear their weight. They came near freezing before they reached the camp.

Then snowshoes were devised, and in making them the miners consume the greater part of two days. Th skilled hands being present. The tran sit was thrilling in the extreme. Del mas and McGrady had covered thei snowshoes with carpet, and before many miles this became saturated with water and froze. It was necessary to stop in an abandoned cabin and reconstruct the shoes.

While the party was marching in single file through a narrow defile, a shout from the rear man caused his companions to look back, and they saw him floundering, waist deep, in the snow. One of his shoes had come unlaced. All one night the party was out in the storm. They camped beneath a cedar, and kept a fire roaring with limbs gathered from the shelter of its branches, and in this way saved themselves from freezing.

All record of the storm as furious, and the cold most intense, but say that they would have been far better off to have remained in Holcomb Valley than to have attempted to escape, as they suffered more on the trip and ran a grave chance of losing their lives. There are quite a number of miners still in the valley, many of whom will remain until the roads are cleared.

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN.

A strange woman, claiming to be the wife of a San Francisco physician named Hall, was taken to the County Hospital last night, from the St. Charles rooming-house, where she had been waiting in the parlor all day for the coming of her son. When the clerks questioned her last night, she became abusive, and the police were notified.

In a paper she had a piece of uncooked meat, which, she said, explained why she was in San Bernardino. She talked in a rambling fashion about fire losses, and the difficulty of securing a proper adjustment from the insurance companies.

During her ranting she was interrupted by Policeman Henderson, who asked her whether she had ever been in San Bernardino before, and quick as a flash she charged him with being a detective, and admitted that she had witnessed the hanging of William McDowell, a murderer, who was executed in the county court yard twenty years ago.

The woman is large and well built, dressed neatly, and advanced in years. Policeman Henderson believes she is the mother of the man who was hanged. This morning a number of pioneers called at the County Hospital to see her, but she had slipped away from the institution in the early morning hours, and all trace of her has been lost.

EAST COLTON LIQUOR FIGHT.

A fight over the liquor question is brewing at East Colton. At the recent election East Colton cast twenty votes for the licensing of saloons, and nineteen against. Two applications for saloons have already been filed with the Board of Supervisors. Yesterday and today the citizens of East Colton were busy circulating petitions protesting to the board against granting the applications. The protestants have retained Attorney C. B. Morris to look out for their interests, and a hot time is expected when the applications were taken up by the Board of Supervisors next Monday.

SAN BERNARDINO JOTS.

Enoch Davis, an aged man, reported to the Sheriff this morning that a thief had stolen his burro and wagon in the night. The Sheriff tracked the thief going toward Colton, and it is expected that the fellow will be behind the bars before morning.

Will Hickey and Dick Anderson pleaded guilty yesterday evening before Justice Thomas to the theft of seventeen chickens belonging to Steve Hennessy, and were sent to jail to serve 100 days in default of fines of $100.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

IN SNOWSHOES MINERS ESCAPE.

Crudely Constructed Footgear Proves Their Sole Means of Progress Through the Fleecy Stuff Ten Feet Deep—Narrow Misses from Freezing in the Mountain Blizzards.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 29.—Miners, storm-bound in Holcomb Valley over a week, are coming out on snowshoes. Over twenty miners have in this manner reached this valley by the novel method, grasping at the only means afforded of escape from the clutches of one of the worst storms that has ever held sway in that isolated section within the memory of some of the oldest miners.

Owens, Moffatt, Harry Delmas, George McGrady and Walter Smith reached here today, and tell of the many experiences which befell them on the way through the long, winding canyons, covered, in many places, to a depth of ten feet with snow.

The first fall of snow occurred during the night, and took many of the miners by surprise. The storm continued for three days continuously. In many instances difficulty was experienced in getting horses in from the ranges, and some of the animals were not recovered up to Tuesday, when the party arriving today left the valley.

Realizing that the valley would be under snow for weeks, and that there was possibility for continued storms, the miners decided to leave, and were finally forced to put this determination into execution on account of provisions getting low.

Several men started to walk to San Bernardino, without any special provision for overcoming the snow, and were compelled to put back to their cabins, the snow being too light to bear their weight. They came near freezing before they reached their cabins.

The snowshoes were devised, and, in making them the miners consumed the greater part of two days, no idle hands being present. The tramp was thrilling in the extreme. Delmas and McGrady had covered their snowshoes with carpet, and before many miles this became saturated with water and froze. It was necessary to stop in an abandoned cabin and reconstruct the shoes.

While the party was marching in single file through a narrow defile, a limb from the rear man caused his companions to look back, and they saw him floundering, waist deep, in the snow. One of his shoes had collapsed. All one night the party was out in the storm. They camped beneath a cedar, and kept a fire roaring with limbs gathered from the shelter of its branches, and in this way saved themselves from freezing.

All report the storm as furious, and the cold most intense, but say that they would have been far better off to have remained in Holcomb Valley than to have attempted to escape, as they suffered more on the trip and ran a grave chance of losing their lives. There are quite a number of miners still in the valley, many of whom will remain until the roads are cleared.

MOKIS AT LAST IN SCHOOL.

INDIANS OF THAT TRIBE AT SHERMAN INSTITUTE.

For First Time Government Has Succeeded in Efforts to Overcome Their Aversion to Going Away from Home to Gain an Education. Chief and Wife Among Pupils.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 29.—Another delegation of forty Moki Indians arrived at Sherman Institute today from Arizona, accompanied by Supt. Perry, a government officer.

Only within the last few weeks has the government been able to overcome the Moki Indians' aversion to going away from home to gain an education. Special efforts have been made by F. E. Leupp, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to induce them to enter Sherman Institute, and the problem was solved a short time ago, when the chief, Ta-wa-quap-ti-wa, a full-blooded Moki Indian, consented to enter the school to learn the ways and language of the white man.

He has adopted the Sherman uniform in place of the richly embroidered blanket, buckskin leggings and moccasins which he wore upon his arrival at the school, and he is proving an apt pupil. With him came his wife and several children.

With its 600 pupils, Sherman Institute is already filled to the limit of its capacity. To make room for the Moki Indians, in whose education the government has become especially interested, it was found necessary to send back to their reservation fifty boys and girls of mixed Indian blood, who have been attending the school, but who are allowed by law to attend the day schools.

The experiment of educating the Moki Indians at the school is being watched with particular interest, as they are one of the most primitive tribes in the United States, clinging to the same modes of living they are believed to have followed a thousand years ago.

RIVERSIDE BRIEFS.

The new Riverside Auto Transfer Company, which was formed recently to run a line of high-powered cars over the new Rubidoux scenic boulevard and other tourist drives of the city, has organized by the election of L. C. Wolfe president, J. A. Simms, vice-president; F. A. Miller, secretary and manager, and the First National Bank, treasurer. The machines have been ordered from the East and are expected to arrive in time for the formal opening of the Rubidoux Mountain road.

Dinner was served by the Y.M.C.A. this evening to about one hundred young men, who are strangers in the city and deprived of the Thanksgiving cheer of their own firesides. The menu followed the old-fashioned Thanksgiving idea, and was appetizingly served. Toasts and music followed the dinner.

SAN DIEGO DAIRIES.

Some of Them Are Not Up to the Standard of the State Sanitary Regulations.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 29.—A mild sensation has been caused here by J. L. Storr, State Dairy Inspector, who condemns the unsanitary conditions in many of the city and county dairies. He declares that the owners will have to reform or prosecutions will follow, steps for which will be at once taken.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICES.

Most of the churches united in union Thanksgiving services today at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. C. T. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church, preaching the sermon. A service was held last evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

WED IN ANAHEIM.

ANAHEIM, Nov. 29.—Fred A. Yungbluth and Miss Adella Strodthoff were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Strodthoff. Rev. Mitchell of the Presbyterian Church officiated. The bride was attended by Otto Strodthoff of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Yungbluth left on the evening train for Santa Barbara and other coast resorts to spend their honeymoon.

THANKS AND SPORTS.

Features of the Observance of the Day In Santa Monica City Yesterday.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 29.—As is the annual custom on Thanksgiving here, there was a union service of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian denominations in the morning at the tabernacle of the last named, with a sermon by Rev. Frank Stevens of the Methodist organization. In the evening there was a union service at the Nazarene Church on Main street, when a sermon was delivered by Rev. E. W. Pasko.

The day's athletic programme opened in the morning with a football game on the Utah-avenue grounds. It was between the St. Vincent specials and the Santa Monica town team. The score was 5 to 0 in favor of the home team, the touchdown having been made in the last half. The play was on a muddy field in a drizzling rain, but climatic conditions did not serve to reduce the attendance or detract from the interest in the contest. The Santa Monicans are open to challenge, and are arranging a game for Saturday afternoon with the Grand-avenue team of Los Angeles.

In the afternoon there was an exciting baseball game on the Southern Pacific diamond, in which the Gaston and Alphonse nines batted for the honors. Both teams were composed of local players, but the battery commander by Kent and Gill prevailed by a score of 6 to 5 over the Andrade and Hardman battery.

SANTA MONICA NOTES.

The Knights of Columbus, having purchased the Place residence on Fourth street, will soon take possession of it and convert the property into a clubhouse and lodge quarters. A building company has been incorporated for the purpose of managing the affairs and holding the title in the interest of the Knights.

The local Board of Education will soon employ two additional school teachers. These will be needed when the three new schoolhouses now being built are completed and ready for dedication.

Stronger and stronger grows the sentiment that Lindley is the man for all friends of prosperity to consolidate upon. Harper is fading; he has not the ghost of a show. Gates is still wobbling and is losing ground every day. The great, strong Lindley tide is rising and booming. Let us rally around Lindley, the beloved doctor the man of achievement, the man who has done so much for Los Angeles, the man we can elect—let us rally around him and defeat Wilson!

STOLYPIN IS OPTIMISTIC.

DECREASE OF DISORDER A "HAPPY AUGURY."

Has Confidence in Character of Approaching Parliament, and Believes Problems That Confront the Russian Government Soon Will Be Settled—Constitutionals Outline Policy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—The Strana today quoted Premier Stolypin as commenting optimistically in a recent conversation on the decrease of disorder in the empire and as hailing as a happy augury the fact that the new Parliament will be of such a character that the problems before the Russian government may be regarded as approaching a settlement.

The Premier further was quoted as declaring that the government would not hesitate to dissolve Parliament, even the day after its convocation, if it manifested an intention of adopting obstructive tactics and neglecting constructive work.

Contrasting the present situation with the condition of affairs at the end of 1905, the Premier attributed the wave of disorder and the armed revolt of that year to the indecision and lack of confidence in the administration then in power.

The Constitutional Democrats who anticipate a retention of their preponderance in Parliament already have outlined their tactics and have determined to devote the first part of the session exclusively to parliamentary work, and to endeavor to carry through a reform of the system of local administration, the enactment of universal suffrage and other indispensable legislation, before locking horns with the government in the great struggle for a responsible ministry and parliamentary government. They wish to avoid provoking a rupture with the government until the reforms for which they appeal to the country are enacted, and also are opposed to a flood of fruitless interpellations, to which much of the time and energy of the first parliament were devoted.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—Prompt steps have been taken by Premier Stolypin to deal with the famine relief contract scandal in which Lidval and M. Gurko, assistant Minister of the Interior are involved. The Premier has called a special meeting of the Council of Ministers for tomorrow to discuss the affair.

M. Gurko has resigned. When he presented his resignation the Premier told him he should not quit office, but that for his own sake, at least, he must face the court.

The Premier is expected to appoint an Inter-Ministerial Commission, composed of assistant ministers to investigate the case. He will then bring it before the First Department of the Senate in public session. Orders have been given to collect evidence to cross-examine all persons connected with the affair, and Gen. Fredericks, Governor of Nishni Novgorod, has been summoned to St. Petersburg to answer to the charge of standing sponsor for Lidval. A certain Gotskich, an assistant of Lidval in buying grain in the provinces, also has been summoned by the Minister of the Interior, but has failed to answer and is thought to be in hiding.

The Novoe Vremya, has published an article pointing out the inevitable peril to the good name of the Cabinet, and the impossibility of M. Gurko remaining in office.

"With a thoughtlessness that cannot be reconciled to the solemn responsibilities of his high office, M. Gurko made a confidante of a chance acquaintance picked up in shady company, a man much given to card playing. If the error is worse than the crime,' the paper says, "and if thoughtlessness should be punished, such men should not be indorsed in a ministry which purposes to win through the purity of its motive and the impeccability of its deeds."

The unhesitating fashion in which the Premier is handling this affair will, it is believed, strengthen the Cabinet, instead of injuring it, at the approaching elections.

OPTIMI TIC SERMONS MARK THANKSGIVING.

Rev. Dr. McIntyre Sounds Warning Note Against Boycotters.

In Thrilling Words He Holds Up San Francisco as the Saddest Example of Modern Times—Churches Packed With Givers of Thanks—Dean Wilkins Withers the Pessimists—Union Services in Many Houses.

IN RECENT years there have been discouraging circumstances attending the attempt to hold union Thanksgiving services, and the inclination among many ministers has been against the experiment. As a rule it may be called an experiment.

Yesterday there was a return to the days of our fathers, and notwithstanding the rain, all the services were well attended, and in some instances there was a great outpouring of the people—notably at Temple Auditorium, where a vast throng, recruited from almost a score of churches of all denominations, turned out to hear Dr. Robert McIntyre.

In many instances the decorations consisted of fruits of the harvest, making a unique and attractive display, calculated to turn the minds of the people upon what has really come to them as a fruitage of the soil.

There were eight of these union services, embracing perhaps, a hundred congregations, and a vast number of individual churches, and never was a brighter, more hopeful or more eloquent series of sermons delivered in Los Angeles than those heard yesterday, and that's the kind of gospel people like to hear.

AT AUDITORIUM.

DR. M'INTYRE TALKS STRAIGHT.

"Let us shut out the boycotters, the anarchists and the skillet-headed Socialists who would throttle our city."

These were the startling words of Dr. Robert McIntyre, pastor of the First Methodist Church, during his Thanksgiving Day sermon in Temple Baptist Church yesterday morning.

Packed to the eaves was the beautiful Auditorium, and the throng which gathered to hear the noted preacher listened to one of the most remarkable addresses ever made on a similar occasion in Los Angeles.

The future of Los Angeles was portrayed in words which thrilled with the promise of great things to come. The natural resources, wealth and geographical position were dwelt upon, and the speaker closed his peroration with the ominous warning quoted above.

There was a commotion following these remarks, and a woman who sat near the front of the vast audience, and who had several times acted strangely, arose and defied the preacher. She was taken out.

Though yesterday morning broke gray and threatening and a light rain fell shortly before the hour of service, the throng which filled the Temple Church was a record breaker. Crowded into the topmost gallery they remained to enjoy one of the best services of Thanksgiving conducted here.

Rev. Robert J. Burdette, pastor of Temple Church, introduced the well-known orator with the following witticism:

"I should like to have been a hod carrier when Robert McIntyre was a brick layer, and when he cried, 'more mort,' I would have flown up the ladder with eagle's wings."

The great Methodist was never more eloquent than during his discourse yesterday. He rebuked sin, and offered pardon and peace to the sinner. He denounced all forms of greed and was outspoken with regard to what he thought will follow should the minions of lawlessness gain control of Los Angeles. The speaker did not commit himself politically, but his hearers saw at once the significance of his direct remarks.

Following his intensely thrilling warning, Dr. McIntyre outlined the recent history of San Francisco, and held up the pitiable plight of that stricken city as an example of what unprincipled greed and disregard for truth and uprightness can accomplish.

"Here is the saddest example of all modern times," said the speaker. "San Francisco in the grasp of the unscrupulous destroyers of her civic wealth. The founders of that stricken city made no provision for churches, and though they are in the heart of our civilization, they have made a gigantic failure. The Methodists have made no progress there, though we have spent our time and poured in our money. San Francisco could build theaters and palaces, but had no room for the church.

"How shall it be with Los Angeles? We ought to pray for this city like the Jews prayed for Jrusalem. Let us strive to bring in the pure and not depend entirely upon the secular advantages for our success. We must create a municipal conscience, and if we are faithful, our children shall praise us for having builded wisely and well.

"I expect to live for the remainder of my life in Los Angeles. Her future is dear to me and I would strive for her welfare with all the strength I have. We must strive to give her a spiritual uplift that will keep up her moral tone of living and make her a city in which it is a pleasure to live.

"We are about to bring in the Owens River, and we shall then have an abundance of water for our municipality, the future of which the wildest dreams of the real estate agent have never pictured. While we are spending our millions for the water to quench our body's thirst, let us lay deep the conduits that shall bring a supply of spiritual water for our soul's comfort. Every man who has a home in this city ought to stop every twenty minutes and thank God. We are skimming the cream of the universe for this great land. I once stood in an eastern market and saw a merchant open a box of California oranges and heard the man exclaim: 'Those Californians have taught the world how to pack and ship fruit successfully.'

"Perhaps there is a man here who says he has nothing to be thankful for, and this in spite of the fact that he is living in the choicest portion of God's good land. Some of God's sweetest blessings fall into foul hearts, and rot and do nobody any good, yet we, here in California, have blessings which the angel hosts cannot have.

"Look at our geographical position. We are half way between the freezing cold of the Arctic zone and the blistering sun of the tropics. In the temperate zone God has placed us, and has given into our keeping treasure stores which have not yet been unlocked. From Canada to the Everglades and from Vancouver to San Diego we are a united land.

"As I have gone up and down the East I have met thousands of people who are planning to leave the ice-locked shores and make their home in the sunny Southland. They are coming here in droves, and we must see to it that they have the right kind of welcome."

TODAY SUITS HIM.

DEAN WHACKS PESSIMISTS.

Vigorous Dean J. J. Wilkins spoke to a large congregation at the Pro-Cathedral, made up from his own and some of the smaller Episcopal churches in the city. The decorations here consisted of pumpkins, apples, showy red peppers, and other products of the soil.

Dean Wilkins is proud to be called an optimist, and to read his text is to reaffirm this. He found it in Ecclesiastes vii, 10: "Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this."

The preacher swung into the subject with his very first word, and closed with an appeal to pride of country and of its achievements. He said in part:

"We Americans are not generally regarded as being, in any special sense, a religious people; rather we are accounted a mildly irreligious sort of folk, whose only god is the almighty dollar, and who would be content to pursue that object of our ambition, solicitude and care, for time, eternity and a day. Yet we alone of all the people of the earth do assemble in our respective places of worship once a year, at least, to render thanks to Almighty God for the return of the seed time and harvest.

"The present must be better than the past; today fairer than yesterday, and tomorrow the greatest day that has yet dawned. This is the divine rule and order. Never a day so good as this Thanksgiving Day, A.D. 1906; never were men so just, godly and wise; never were women so noble, true and pure; never children so bright and sweet with promise; never were Christians so numerous, sincere and devout.

"It is the crowning age of all the ages old Time has garnered in. Its praises shall be sung and its fame shall be rung when nations and dynasties and empires have crumbled into dust and all we are forgotten.

"There are those, I know, who dissent from this. There has always been a tendency to belittle the present day and make it small and mean. There are people who really do see spots on the sun, and they are always insisting that Solomon was wrong; that former days were better than these; that there is no such thing as progress and betterment; that religion has degenerated; that the church has fallen from her original high estate of piety and good works; that preachers have deteriorated; that politicians are trickier, more unscrupulous and evasive; that everything save toil and trouble is scarcer and dearer. There are such persons, and how they ring the changes on 'the good old times, when I was young, you know.'"

Dean Wilkins withered the pessimists by reviewing at length all the great scientific discoveries and material improvements of the past seventy-five years, declaring that they surpass the progress of a thousand years preceding. In closing he said:

"Let us be greatful for the former days, but let us be more grateful for the days that are; proud of their victories and achievements; proud of our country, true to it as patriots, and watchful and prayerful for it as patriots and citizens whose larger citizenship is in heaven."

CIVIC RIGHTEOUSNESS.

HEADS HANG AT CORRUPTION.

At picturesque Highland Park the union services were held in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. J. A. Jackson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, took as his text the good old-fashioned one found in Proverbs xiv, 34: "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Mr. Jackson said in opening, that it is customary to make conspicuous on Thanksgiving Day our material prosperity, but that he proposed to sidetrack that reason for thankfulness and deal with the vital principles in national life that make material prosperity possible.

He declared that the record of the past year has been so prolific with revelations of political and commercial corruption that the people have felt ready to hang their heads in shame and confusion.

"I do not wonder," he declared, "that men with limited outlook grow pessimistic, and prophesy a dark and ominous future; but no man can afford to look this question in the face with any narrow view. The future is big with promise and the present is the herald of a brighter dawn.

"The prevalence of a lowered moral tone that seems to have swept over the land is not by any means an unmitigated evil. It is bringing to light some facts we need most to know. One of the contributing causes to this lowered moral vitality is the great procession of alien races to our shores. This country is second to none in the welcome it extends to the honest toiler who comes to these shores with the express purpose of making this the land of his adoption, and maintaining its laws and institutions. But there are facts about the vast majority of these alien races that cause grave misgivings.

"Are you awafe that over one million immigrants landed on our shores during the year 1905 from almost every point under the heaven? The problem confronting us is one of digestion and assimilation. Here we have a horde of men, women, and children, over a million in number. One-quarter illiterate, two-thirds unskilled, three-fourths speaking a foreign tongue; ignorant of our institutions, and in most cases indifferent; with affinities for their native land which dis slowly, and with a marked absence of religious tendency. I say in view of all this, the question confronting us, is: Can we break down the old conceptions, and create within them a genuine love and sympathy for American principles and American institutions?

"In the providence of God this is one of the problems given this nation to solve, but it will never be solved by present methods. The church must be made to realize her larger mission as a social factor in the salvation of society. She has confined her efforts largely to individual cases, but social and economical conditions will compel her to deal with causes.

"It is a great work to save a drunkard, but while she is saving one, there are causes at work that make ten for every one she saves. Organized evil must be met on its own ground with organized righteousness."

PUMPKINS AND "SICH."

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

At Christ Episcopal Church there was no attempt at elaborate decorations, but they were suggestive. At the base of the several artistic iron columns supporting the rood-screen, at the approach to the altar, lay large yellow pumpkins, green squashes, plus f turnips and bunches of radishes, while bunches of carrots, beets and other vegetables were hung along the lower part of the trellis-like screen.

Rev. Baker P. Lee preached a practical sermon in which he reminded the congregation that while the rain might be considered unpleasant by some persons who didn't want to come to church very badly any way, it was a great Godsend to the husbandman. He depicted the man who revels in his wealth, but scorns to bend knee at the altar and lives unto himself alone, in contrast with the poorer man who is thankful that he possesses no wealth but is happy in doing for others less fortunate than himself.

A fair congregation was present, but it was noticeable that the tables placed in the vestibule of the church to receive gifts for the poor were not groaning under their burden, though a number of persons left packages of various articles of food.

OTHER UNION SERVICES.

HOUSES WELL FILLED.

Dr. Eli McClish preached a powerful sermon at the union service in Grand View Presbyterian Church, his subject being "Courage." The house was well filled and Dr. McClish's eloquence charmed his hearers.

At University Methodist Church there was a large congregation to hear Rev. John Habbick on "National Righteousness and Success of the Nation." A collection was taken for the "Door of Hope."

Rev. C. H. Kershaw had a large audience at the Boyle Heights Christian Church; Rev. Mr. Owen, in the East Los Angeles Baptist Church; Rev. R. A. Henck, in Salem Congregational Church; Rev. Mr. Rice in Park Congregational Church.

Services were also held in St. Vibiana's Cathedral (Catholic) at 9 o'clock in the morning and at St. Joseph's Catholic Church at the same hour. Individual congregations of all denominations held services of their own in different parts of the city, where it was impracticable to unite in any of the union services.

WIRELESS TELEPHONES.

A New Jersey Inventor Develops an Apparently Satisfactory System.

S. V. Granger, an electrical engineer living at Watsessing, N. J., has invented a wireless telephone system. The instrument is not unlike the ordinary telephone in appearance. It has the usual transmitter and receiver, spark, or flash coil, magnet, etc. The secret of the invention is contained in a glass tube nine inches long. In one end of this tube, which is bulb-shaped, is a quantity of mercury, mixed with a certain solution, the ingredients, of which only Mr. Granger knows. There is also a series of batteries. The only wires used are those applied immediately to the batteries of the telephone apparatus, the tube, transmitter and receiver and antennae. A nightly magnetised receiver, affected by the mercury tube, plays an important part, also. Establishing the telephone in a hotel, for instance, is very simple. A "central" is put up in the ordinary way, in charge of an operator. When a guest wishes to use the instrument he proceeds in the usual way. To get the desired number, the operator simply manipulates the "finder," which is like a lever on a motor box, over the switchboard, which is "tuned" for the particular station desired. These instruments are so "tuned" that no one can break in on the conversation. The number of words which it is possible to transmit is limited only by the ability of the person talking. Conversations of his invention have been heard a distance of eighteen miles as plainly as is possible over an ordinary instrument connected by wires. The distance a message can be sent is controlled by the amount of "power" in the tube. This "power," which is the secret of the invention, has to be measured most accurately. Too much or too little throws the instrument out of order when messages are to be sent long distances. An instrument, however, that is adjusted for a radius of fifty miles can be used satisfactorily within that circle, but not beyond that, the tuning of the instruments also prevents any but the persons concerned hearing the conversation. The wireless telephone also excels in point of rapid efficiency even the wireless telegraph, for the instant the operator at the transmitter speaks, the words are reproduced at the other end, as in a wire telephone, requiring no time to decipher it.

On November 3 there was printed in this column a report that M. Malche, a well-known inventor, had made a sensational discovery in the field of wireless telephony. His new apparatus consists of two posts which are placed on his premises. Each post consists of a telephone, battery, a special form of induction coil, and a frame which is formed of a series of insulated wires. It was stated that he was able to communicate between Toulon and Ajaccio, in Corsica, over the sea at 180 miles distance, using the sea as a conductor for the waves.

A dispatch from Copenhagen says that a lieutenant of the Swedish army after four years' experimenting has invented a complete wireless telephone. Swedish newspapers state that there will be a public demonstration of the invention in December.

Charles E. Alden, Cottage City, has devised a wireless telephone. The basis of Mr. Alden's system is like that of the wireless telegraph. It is but a small invention, the details of which, however, Mr. Alden does not care to discuss.

Japan Dislikes New Woman.

The girl who is the product of the female education of the present day does not make a suitable wife for ordinary Japanese by any means. She learns much at school that is of no use to her in after life, and she is too often made conceited by the smattering of knowledge she possesses and is apt to put on airs. There is a great lack of practicality about the instruction given to young girls at most modern schools. Some of the girls from these schools may suit the tastes of officials, but the majority of them are shunned by marrying men for the reasons given above.—[Rikugo Zasshi.

ANARCHY REIGNS IN RUSSIAN JAILS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—Not only does anarchy, with mob law, rule Russian towns, but it has spread into well-known prisons. Accounts come in continually from different parts of the empire, of warders killed, governors wounded and mutinous prisoners escaping to pillage the neighborhoods they pass through and sow bloodshed and horror wherever they go.

From a prison in Eastern Russia, just under the Ural Mountains, comes a story which seems almost incredible until it is remembered that as bad and worse things are happening in other districts.

According to the report of the governor, two men, sentenced to a long term of hard labor, were placed together in a cell, awaiting their turn to be taken to the other side of the Urals. They were friends, and soon made up their minds to escape. There was a third man in the cell, and to him they confided their plans. He promised to help them.

They worked hard all night long and for many nights, digging a tunnel under their cell. All the prisoners in the place knew of it; for in these prisons, where the supervision is inefficient, news travels from cell to cell like wildfire. Every morning, these men filled their pockets with the earth dug up during the night, and also put in behind their shirts. They turned it out in the prison yard when they went for their daily exercise. But one morning, when they were nearly at the end of their task, they discovered that they were being closely watched, and left off digging for a day or two. They had, however, no sooner begun again when they were searched, the earth in their pockets discovered, and their tunnel as well. All the prisoners heard of it, and began to look for the spy who had given notice to the authorities.

All declared that only one could be guilty, and that was the man who shared the two friends' cell. The prisoners swore to have the man's life. Delegates from every cell conferred at exercise time, and were unanimous in declaring that their victim must be hanged. The only one who suspected nothing was the victim himself, who helped the friends from good-natured-ness and had never the least intention of spying upon them. At last a fitting moment arrived, when there was no guard about. At 2 o'clock one afternoon, six "delegates" entered the cell. The hook and a rope were in readiness. They began their "trial."

"What shall we do with this traitor?" asked one man, pointing to the unhappy victim.

"Hang him!" they all cried. The man tried to escape. He rushed to the door, shouting for help. But he was one against eight, and, after an awful struggle, they pulled him back, slipped the noose around his neck and hanged him to the hook.

At this moment the guard appeared at the door of the cell. They were met with a volley of plates, benches, tables—anything, in fact, to keep them out till their victim was dead.

The inmates of the other cells, hearing the row, ran to their comrades' assistance. The soldiers fired. Four men fell. The "trial" was over. A few wounded, a few killed, and the hanged man cut down—still breathing. This is one of the pictures, out of hundreds, which disgrace Russia daily.

It Has No Equal.

The volume of The Times' advertising continues to make all competitors' business, in Los Angeles, on the Pacific Coast, and throughout the United States, look small by comparison. No daily or Sunday paper in the world approaches in volume or number of separate announcements the tremendous advertising business of The Times. The increasing activities of Los Angeles, and the whole southwest, are truly reflected in the ever-enlarging volume of The Times' advertising patronage. While glib-tongued solicitors harass and annoy by their "damnable iteration" the busy business men of Los Angeles and environs by their importunities for advertisements for rival papers having but a limited number of readers, the large and general circulation of The Times among the great average mass of the people is such a compelling business bringing force that 80 per cent. of the tremendous patronage of The Times comes as the voluntary act of sagacious business men making profitable investments in publicity.

Date.	Cols.	Date.	Cols.
Nov. 5	426	Nov. 4	516
" 12	442	" 11	537
" 19	458	" 18	543
" 26	451	" 25	553

Los Angeles advertisers regularly, day by day, week by week, and month by month, are setting the pace for the whole world. No other Sunday paper in the world approaches The Times in volume of advertising, and no other Pacific Coast paper prints one-half as much, and no Sunday paper contains a greater volume or more varied assortment of high class reading matter. The Times prints "all the news all the time," and still goes marching on.

TURKEY SHOT FROM MOUTH.

The woman who runs the shooting gallery bit the dime suspiciously when Red threw it down carelessly. She looked him over critically before she handed him the loaded rifle.

Red had on a cheap sombrero, nearly new, which he stole from a ranch bunkhouse; a pai rof trousers that sagged at the stomach, a ferociously dirty shirt and a yet dirtier handkerchief; which last he folded with careful pride around his neck.

He told the woman to start the swinging target and he raised the target rifle with the air of an expert.

Ping! A bullseye. Ping! Another. Ping, ping, until it sounded like a patrol wagon coming down the street.

When Red put down the rifle at last he had made mincemeat of the record score footed up. He slunk back into the shadow of the doorway, and he could just taste turkey on his lips, waiting for the awarding of the prize.

The drawing was about to take place when a gaunt and grinning man came tacking down the sidewalk. At the last telegraph pole he shut one eye to see single, took very careful aim and went with a rush and a bang into the shooting gallery, almost plunging over the counter with the impetus.

He pulled himself up and looked around in triumph.

The guns on the counter delighted him. He desired at first to shoot with two at once and was insulted because the woman wouldn't let him. Finally he compromised on a fine target rifle.

The little German woman started the swinging target again; she turned just in time to let out a wild yell and duck under the conter. The boozy gentleman was waving the rifle's muzzle around in terrifying fancy circles.

Instead of following the motion of the target with his rifle, he made it go the other direction.

Ping! (bullseye.)

He put down the rifle with majestic air and demanded, "Who rung th' bell?"

As there was no answer except a snicker, the drunk turned with great dignity and fired another shot at the swinging target.

Ping! (bullseye.)

The boozy citizen stared at the target for a minute, swaying on his feet; then a great light broke upon him. He turned and cracked his face into a yellow-toothed smile. "Dum 't I didn't ring the bell m'self!"

It seemed as though that boozy target rifle couldn't miss. Every time—or nearly every time—the rifle cracked, it was followed by the sharp ping of a bullseye.

Poor old Red was almost in a fainting condition in the corner. His heart stood still as he counted the pings. One more and he was done for. The drunk had tied his score!

The target was swinging back and forth like a pendulum and the drunk was waving his rifle crazily in the opposite direction, and the little scarred German woman was trying to crawl under the counter.

It was time for desperate measures. Just as the drunken man was squinting his eyes to shoot again, Red gave him a sudden shove from behind.

NEW CHARACTER STUDY.

Germany Discovers a Way of Telling Personal Characteristics by the Tongue.

Germany has taken up the pastime of reading character and telling fortunes by the tongue. Somebody has been making a study of the organ of speech and has discovered that it is full of indications.

A long tongue is said to denote openness of character. It suggests generosity and free-handedness. Its possessor makes friends and enemies easily, but doesn't save money.

When the tongue is long and thick the openness degenerates into a tendency to gossip and scandal. The future of the owner is beset with troubles of his own making. It also indicates flightiness and inconstancy.

Short tongues indicate secretiveness and dissimulation. Their owners make good detectives and attorneys.

The owner may acquire some money by economy and guile, but has not largeness of spirit to make a great fortune. Very thin pointed tongues are found in diffident people who do not succeed in life.

Short and broad ones accompany craft and falsehood; the person who has such a tongue is compelled by it to deceive and betray, whatever effort he may make to keep straight.

The vibrant, quavering tongue denotes the artistic temperament. Brilliant carmine hue is a sign of long life, pale pink tongue denotes both weakness of character and delicacy of constitution.

"If it's all true," says a German newspaper, "it is lucky that it is only at the doctor and not at our friends that we stick out our tongues."

WEIGHS SIX HUNDRED POUNDS.

Kansas Music Teacher Believed to Be the Heaviest Woman Living.

Mrs. Annie Redline of Sabetha, Kan., believes herself to be the heaviest woman living. In support of which belief she cited the following anatomical dimensions: Weight, 611 pounds; waist, 11 feet 11 inches; arm, 32 inches; calf of leg, 37 inches; bust, about 13 feet; and height, 4 feet 8 inches. From the size of th echair which she carries with her the displacement is estimated at fourteen tons net.

Notwithstanding these generous proportions, however, Mrs. Redline wears only a No. 4 shoe, albeit addicted to the use of moccasions rather than ordinary footwear as being more expansive when she is standing or walking. As a rule the lady prefers a seat to an erect position, and spends most of her time in the capacious armchair.

By profession Mrs. Redline is a music teacher, being an accomplished pianist and a vocalist of no mean ability. On occasions, however, she appears in public, "just to show what Kansas can produce," as she puts it, but confines her appearances principally to functions in her native State. For Mrs. Redline comes from Kansas, where all the tall tales originate.

Her husband, Henry Redline, is a man of medium stature and apparently not at all crushed by the superabundance of bliss with which women showered him on his marriage. Like his wife, Mr. Redline's pride centers in their children, aged respectively, 18, 14, 12 and 10 years.

"At my birth, I am told," said Mrs. Redline, "I weighed only six pounds, and at the age of 15 I could pull down only eighty-five pounds. At 16, however, I began to grow, and I have kept everlastingly at it since, till now I patronize the hay scales. As I am only 39 years old, and have never suffered a day's sickness in my life, I hope to attain to 700."

This Druggist's Experience

Should Interest Los Angeles People.

Mr. Jos. F. Bradley, a prominent druggist of New Brunswick, N. J., writes: "I have sold Vinol, the cod liver preparation without oil, for the past three years, and it has given perfect satisfaction.

"I now use Vinol in my family and can highly recommend it. It is always a pleasure to recommend a medicine that I have found to be first-class."

The reason Vinol is so fast superseding and so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions is because it contains all of the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with all of the useless and nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

As a body-builder, and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases, Vinol is recommended by over 5000 of the leading druggists of the United States. Your money back if it does not do all we claim for it.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

[The Times freely publishes the views of correspondents without holding itself responsible for writers' opinions. Be brief, write plainly, state clearly. The space of 150 words, on the average, is sufficient for the expression of an idea, or the presentation of a point. Well-written letters are liable to be declined merely on account of their length.]

From the Heart.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I want to write and tell you that Stanley Wilson is no true friend of the workingman. The labor agitators who are working for him are not the men who do the work. They only do the talking. But I am going to vote for Dr. Lindley, and I am getting him all the votes I can, because I know he is a real friend to the men who work, not just only talk, and never do real work. Ten years ago I was sick and sent for the doctor. He spoke kindly to me and gave me a dollar and let me sleep in his barn, and I ain't never forget the doctor.

Now I have got a home and three children, and the doctor he always coman to see them when sick, and never charges nothing, because I am a poor man, and he is a good, kind man, so I hope he will be elected. I hope you can print this in your paper, for I want all to know what a good man the doctor is.

CARL HASHL
No. 1427 Bond st.

Dr. Lindley as a Teacher.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am greatly interested in the campaign of your city in choosing a Mayor. I would like to contribute, if it were at all necessary, a line of commendation for Dr. Lindley. I was a young man some years the junior of "Prof." Lindley, in Indiana, back in the '70's, when he was principal of the leading school in the southern part of Hendricks county. I was not a pupil of his, but of a neighboring school, but a number of my chums were his scholars, and I have often attended country and township institutes in which he was always a leader. In this way I was well acquainted with his standing and reputation, as expressed by his pupils, his fellow-teachers and the people generally. It is but conservative to say that no young man could stand higher in the community, intellectually, socially and morally. It does not surprise me to know that such a character should attract the attention of the best citizens of a great city when casting about for a good man for its chief executive. I hope enough people will know the man well enough to give him a majority of their votes for Mayor.

J. F. TOUT,
Minister Christian Church.

REAL PRACTICAL HELP.

To help one's fellow men is a great work, and this is what the Masonic Employment Bureau is doing. This bureau was established on November 15, 1905, and during the year just passed 645 applications for work have been filed with the bureau in the Masonic Temple, on Hill, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Of these, 445 places have been filled, and there are still forty applicants waiting for a place. A telephone message to Secretary G. H. Apdelotte will receive prompt recognition. Postmaster Motley H. Flint is a trustee of the Masonic Employment Bureau.

DINING IN SECLUSION.

Customs of Different Nations Where Social Habits Are but Lightly Recognized.

Singular customs are maintained by many nations in their repasts. In primeval times it was the habit of most savage tribes to eat their food alone in the most secluded place. The Maldive Islanders still observe this peculiarity. They retire to the darkest part of their houses and hang curtains about them, so that none of their fellow-men may see them at their meal.

On the contrary, the Philippine Islander will not eat a meal alone. Whenever a Filipino finds himself without a companion with whom to share his meal, he will abstain from eating until he has found one.

The Tahitians, though a naturally sociable race, dine separately. Even the man and his wife do not eat together. Each member of the family has his own food basket. They take their places about five yards apart, and then, turning their backs to each other, dine amid profound silence.

The Brazilians never eat when they drink, nor drink when they eat; and the Tartars continually persist in puling a guest by the ear until he drinks.

A strange custom prevails in Kamchatka, where a man who wishes to entertain a guest invites him into a cabin, which is heated to an excessive temperature, and then presses him with food until he is in a state of torpor.

When they desire to show a mark of great esteem the negroes of Ardra drink from the same cup at the same time and the King of Loango used to eat and drink in two separate houses.

Identify Mail Clerks.

The back stamp on letters has not yet been replaced by the local post-office and probably will not be, despite whatever action may be taken by local organizations. But on the face of nearly all letters appearing in lock boxes at the central postoffice now appears a figure in red ink that will give a clew to the box department clerk who distributed it.

It has been contended that the removal of the back stamp has taken away any possibility of determining the clerk who handled any particular letter in case there should arise some question over delay. First Assistant Postmaster-General Hitchcock, after looking into that feature, decided that a thumb stamp should be used, and the red figure on the face of the envelope is the result.

Failing Strength
A weak and exhausted condition usually follows overwork, too close confinement, or unusual mental strain. Every day a certain amount of vitality is consumed, and if not replenished by sleep, rest and nourishment, soon wrecks the nervous system. The results are sleeplessness, headache, indigestion, imperfect circulation, etc., which affects the organs of the body.
Restore your nerve strength—your vitality, with Dr. Miles' Nervine, and your whole system will recuperate. Your sleep will be sound and refreshing, headaches will disappear, and digestion improve.
"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I was physically in a very bad condition. I was weak and exhausted, and hardly able to keep up. I could not eat sufficient to keep up my strength. I suffered greatly from sleeplessness, and got very little rest. The Restorative Nervine soon brought refreshing sleep, and I gained rapidly in strength until I was fully restored. I have since taken it whenever I have felt the need of a nerve tonic, and always with very satisfactory results."
WM. A. CLARK, Rockford, Ills.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.
